CHALLENGE GRANT PROGRAM — The National Endowment for the Humanities announces a May 1, 1981 deadline for application submission to the Challenge Grant Program. New Guidelines will be available for distribution in November, 1980.

The Challenge Grant Program, created by Congress in 1976, is intended to assist humanities institutions to improve their operations and to achieve financial stability by stimulating new and increased support from non-Federal sources. Grants are made on a matching basis, and for each Federal dollar awarded institutions are required to raise three dollars in new or increased donations.

The 1981 Guidelines will contain detailed information about program objectives, use of funds, grant amounts, eligibility, sources of matching funds, review criteria and procedures, timetable, Bicentennial Challenge Grants, and application instructions. This document should be used as the final guide to prepare applications filed against the May 1, 1981 deadline, and replaces all previous versions.

The Endowment, through the Challenge Grant Program, welcomes applications from all institutions whose resources, services, programs and activities are in the humanities. Eligible institutions include, but are not limited to: public and private colleges and universities; junior and community colleges; educational, cultural, professional and community groups and associations; museums, historical organizations; research and public libraries; research institutions; centers of advanced study; and media production and broadcast stations.

For copies of the new Guidelines, write: Challenge Grant Guidelines, Mail Stop 351, National Endowment for the Humanities, Washington, D.C. 20506.
