

Leo Kottke and Passenger On Austin City Limits

Renowned master of the twelve-string guitar Leo Kottke performs his spellbinding musical magic on Austin City Limits on Thursday, March 26 at 10 p.m. On Center Channel 4. In keeping with the special mood, Austin's premiere jazz group, Passenger, combines myriad influences into an engaging original sound in the second half of the program.

Leo Kottke has enjoyed a cult-hero status among those who recognize and enjoy rare, unfettered musical genius. A self-taught musician, Kottke has never molded his offerings to attract popular audiences, preferring instead to fulfill his inner musical visions. Yet his popularity grows geometrically as young and old respond to the discovery of his music.

Kottke has been awarded "Best Acoustic Guitarist" by Guitar Player Magazine for the last five consecutive years. Other international plaudits as an outstanding instrumentalist support his staunch adherence to individuality in an age of growing conformity and mechanization.

Instrumental versions of "June Bug," "Orange Room" and "Jack Fig" and emotionally-charged interpretations of "Louise," "Eight Miles High" and "Pamela Brown" highlight his set.

With Passenger, Austin City Limits takes an irresistible departure from its primarily country format to proudly present the premiere fusion jazz group from Austin, Texas.

Passenger has consistently been wowing audiences in Texas for the last five years with their eclectic melange of jazz, rock, r&b, blues and classical music. The original music penned by four of the six members lights up an exhilarating spectrum of musical images.

In the last few years, they have become internationally known while touring Europe, Australia, Israel, Canada and the U. S. with poet/songwriter Leonard Cohen. They have played bills with greats such as Herbie Hancock, Freddie Hubbard, Minnie Riperton and Jennifer Warnes including the recent 1980 Bread and Roses Festival in San Francisco. The high level of musicianship and sensitivity to each other makes Passenger's performance a special event.
