Atlantic To Release 3 New Albums

Atlantic Records announced a March 13 national release date for three new albums. Atlantic Executive Vice President/General Manager Dave Glew made the announcement. He noted that this includes a new Spinners album, plus label debuts by Moore and Ullanda.

Labor Of Love is the title of the new Spinners album, which was produced, arranged and conducted by Michael Zager for Love-Zager Productions. The LP includes the group's current pop/R&B hit single, "Yesterday Once Moore/Nothing Remains the Same." Recorded in New York and L. A., it is the third new Spinners album in just 16 months.

The British heavy metal rock outfit called More makes their recording debut with Warhead, produced by Al Nalli and Henry Weck for Al Nalli Productions. All the songs on the album are More originals, with the exception of a new rendition of the Arthur Brown hit, "Fire," which will be the LP's first single release.

Star session vocalist Ullanda makes her Atlantic premiere with Ullanda McCullough. All the songs on the LP were produced and written by Nicholas Ashford and Valerie Simpson for Hopsack & Silk Productions, including the first single pick, "Bad Company." Ullanda's extensive credits include work on numerous major recordings, film soundtracks, commercials and tours.
