Four Part Mini-Series "The Sophisticated Gents" To Air Tuesday

What makes the story of e twenty-fifth reunion of athletic/social club pardarly diffrent for a televidrama ophisticated Gents — is that ch of the club's nine embers is black. What akes "The Sophisticated akes "The Sophisticated ents" a unique television perience is that their color afters not to the human notions the drama evokes. To be presented as a fourm mini-series over three ghts, "The Sophisticated ents" will be seen for two "The Sophisticated ours beginning at 9:00 Tuesday, on September 29 and, for an hour each, at 10:00 p.m. on Wednesday, September 30 and Thursday October 1, on the NBC Television Net-

"The Sophisticated Gents'' was written by Melvin Van Pebbles and based on the novel, "The Junior Bachelor Society," by John A. Williams.

The cast is a veritable Who's Who of leading black actors. Starring as Gents, in alphabetical order, are Bernie Casey, Rosie Grier, Robert Hooks, Ron O'Neal, Thalmus Rasulala,

Richards, Bibi Beah Besch, Rosilind Cash, ja'net Dubois, Janet MacLachlan, Joanna Miles, Denise Nicholas, Marlene Warfield, Alfrie Woodward, and Harry Guardino also star.

"The Sophisticated Gents" explores the changes Sophisticated wrought by time in each of the nine men. Some have had moderate successes, as in the cases of a concert singer and a playwright; others continue to work in their home town; one who became a pimp accidently kills a cop on the take — jeopardizing the fragile stability of the lives of the other Gents and their families.

Each man's life is seen in the light of youthful dreams that have or have not realized in terms of work, marriage, and relationships with one another.

As "The Sophisticated Gents" unfolds, old tensions are revived but are subverted as The Gents hold a testimonial dinner honoring their former coach, who taught them the rules of sports as well as the broader goals of life. With the drama charging toward its climax, The Gents are faced with the crisis brought about by one of their number that tests their bonds of loyalty.

Two Part Special Investigates International 'Circle Of Poison

The marketing of potentially dangerous pesticides medications in Third World nations is the subject of "Pesticides and Pills: For Export Only," a two-part in-vestigative report which launches the new season on Non-Fiction Television the week of October 4, ON CENTER Channel 4.

The two one-hour reports detail how some multinational corporations market farm chemicals and medications that have been banned or restricted in countries. Part I, which airs on Monday, October 5 at 10:00 p.m., focuses on the indiscriminate marketing of dangerous pesticides in the Third World. Part II, airing the following Wdnesday at 10:00 p.m., looks at the distribution maceuticals.

In Part I, the film presents information about chemicals which, while banned in the U.S., are freely exported to the Third World. Farmers in those countries are often exposed to the dangerous chemicals without knowledge of their potential health hazards. The film also points out that the chemicals often their way back into the United States on produce imported from the countries.

It is estimated that at least 200 million pounds of banned, restricted or unregistered pesticides are exported annually for use outside the United States.

Part II of the report examines the export and marketing of banned or restricted medications and drugs. The report explores the charges that many of these drugs are sold or prescribed to patients by physicians and pharmacists who are not fully aware of the dangerous side effects of these pharmaceuticals.

Journalist Robert Richter, filming in Brazil, Costa Rica, Mexico, Malaysia, Kenya, and Switzerland, documents how certain medications are packaged and marketed without proper instructions on dosage, appropriate warnings of possible dangers to cetain usage of the medications.

The film points out that a major stumbling block in controlling the spread of these banned and restricted medications is the absence of any international uniform standards governing the marketing of such products. Each government has its own regulations regarding the importation of drugs. Meications which may be banned or restricted in the U.S., where the F.I.A. guidelines are very strict, have no trou-ble being marketed in most Third World nations, where regulations are far more relaxed.

Life Companies Put $36 Billion In Stocks, Bonds

U.S. life insurance companies invested $36.4 billion in corporate securities in 1980 - the stocks and long term bonds needed for business and industrial expansion and the creation of new jobs, reports the American Council of Life Insurance

In all, U.S. life insurance companies owned $227 billion in corporate securities at year-end 1980 (including short-term securities), an 8.7 percent increase over 1979, the Council says.

These securities constituted 47.4 percent of the assets which back up life company obligations to their policyholders

Almost 958 percent of life company corporate bond holdings are invested in U.S. corporations, with Canadian corporations representing the bulk of foreign bond investments, according to the Council.
