Mrs. Jenkins

Jenkins Gets Merit Award

Mrs. Jacquelyn McCrae Jenkins, Interviewer II in the Winston-Salem office of Employment Security Commission, is the recipient of the 1982 Professional Award of Merit.

Mrs. Jenkins "is a 'working' supervisor, with four interviewers I reporting to her," wrote Ms. Shirley Goodman, Placement Supervisor. "While she is a fine supervisor and her cheerful conscientiousness is an example for the others in the unit, it is not for her supervisory role that I wish to nominate her. It is for the remarkable way in which she has managed to adjust her placement activity, in addition to her supervisory duties, to the increase in applicant flow."

As a result of the federally mandated reduction in force, Mrs. Jenkins' reportedly increased her activity to keep pace with the reduced work force and the increased traffic flow and her efforts were appreciated by applicants who found it difficult to obtain interviews on their own.

Mrs. Jenkins is active in her community. She is president of the Winston-Salem Chapter of the Johnson C. Smith University Alumni Society, chairman of the Woman's Day Committee for the Union Baptist Church, and assistant business manager for the church. She is a member of the N.C. State Employees' Association.

A graduate of Hillside High School, Durham, and Johnson C. Smith University, Charlotte, Mrs. Jenkins is married to Johnny J. Jenkins and is the mother of two children, Jarrod J. and Janna N.

Mrs. Jenkins is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McCrae of 701 Rippling Stream Road, Durham.
