YOUR LAWN

Prevent Next Summer's Broadleaf Weeds Now

(NAPS)—A growing number of homeowners who want to prevent next summer's broadleaf weeds such as dandelion, clover, spurge, chickweed and plantain are taking action this year.

They're using a weed preventer that contains Gallery® herbicide. Gallery, previously available to professional lawn care operators and landscapers only, offers homeowners control of over 44 broadleaf weeds for up to eight months.

When activated by at least one-half inch of rainfall or sprinkler water, Gallery sets up a "weed prevention zone" around weed seedlings. As weed seeds germinate, this "zone" disrupts their root and stem development. Seedlings are stopped before they ever break the soil surface.

Gallery is found in leading brands of granular formulations and in dry fertilizers available at lawn and garden centers everywhere.

Science in Our Lives

New Technology Makes Many Jobs Safer

(NAPS)—The food we eat and many of the products we use in daily life may be better than ever those days, because the workers who bring them to us are doing a better job. The reason: They feel safer—and happier.

They're safer because they wear protective hoganear and respiratory systems developed by a company that's been a world leader in supplying innovative personal health and safety products since 1976.

That company, Racial Health & Safety, Inc., was established to manufacture and market the Airstream helmet. This unique system combines head, eye, face and respiratory protection in a single, comfortable and completely portable unit. The Airstream helmet revolutionized the industry and quickly established Racial's reputation as a forerunner in the development of powered-air positive-pressure respiratory equipment.

Racial then introduced a supplied air helmet for welding environments, followed by the Breathe-Easy powered air-purifying respiratory protection systems. The Breathe-Easy line was the first to be approved by the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health and the Mine Safety and Health Administration for use in many gas, vapor and particulate-contaminated atmospheres.

Lightweight, battery-powered respiratory protection systems help workers in many industries to breathe easier.

approved products. The product line now covers every level of respiratory protection, including:

- Delta disposable respirators, featuring a unique patented filtering material that makes them cool and comfortable to wear;
- Powerflow Super-Cartridge battery-powered systems, with filter media for protection against organic vapors, acid gases, and particulates;
- Air-Vest Respiratory systems, combining supplied air respiratory protection with a cooling vest for personal comfort.
- SCBA self-contained breathing apparatus system incorporating an integral carrying case which reverses to become an easily-donned vest/barness SCBA.

Racial Health and Safety is a member of the Racial Health and Safety Group, an international company with offices and subsidiary companies throughout Europe and the world.

Because Racial Group gives member companies access to the research, development, and market testing of their sister companies, Racial Health & Safety, Inc. can offer a wide range of internationally
