

VOLUNTEERS LISTEN TO DECREE

STUDENTS GIVE PROCLAMATION OF APPRECIATION TO VOLUNTEERS

(Photos by Ray Trent)

EAGLES CALENDAR

JUNE 19-JULY 14 (Monday-Friday) National Youth Summer Program continues, Department of Athletics, McLendon-McDougal Gymnasium.

JUNE 20-23 (Tuesday-Friday), 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., NCCU Artists: New Horizons, juried show by North Carolina Central University students, NCCU Art Museum. Admission free. For information, 919 560-6211.

JUNE 22-24 (Thursday-Saturday), Early Orientation Session 2, Student Affairs Division.

JUNE 22 (Thursday), 4:30 p.m., Campus Picnic, Library Bowl.

JUNE 23-JULY 9 (Friday-Sunday), Ken Bannister East Coast Summer Pro Basketball League, McLendon-McDougal Gymnasium.

JUNE 23 (Friday), Last day of classes, first summer session.

JUNE 24 (Saturday), 8 a.m., International Trade Conference, sponsored by Congressman Mel Watt's office, A.N. Whiting Building.

JUNE 25 (Sunday), 4 p.m., Community Choral Sing Along, Durham Civic Choral Society, B.N. Duke Auditorium.

JUNE 25-JULY 22 (Sunday-Saturday), Summer Ventures in Science and Mathematics.

JUNE 26-27 (Monday-Tuesday), Final examinations, first summer session.

JUNE 26-30 (Monday-Friday), Law Camp (grades 7-12), NCCU School of Law.

JUNE 26-30 (Monday-Friday), Choral Music Workshop, Summer Music Institute, Department of Music. Call 560-6343.

JUNE 27-30 (Tuesday-Friday), 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., NCCU Artists: New Horizons, juried show by North Carolina Central University students, NCCU Art Museum. Admission free. For information, 919 560-6211.

JUNE 27-30 (Tuesday-Friday), ABCDE Institute, Durham Housing Authority, Alfonso Elder Student Union and Miller-Morgan Building.

JUNE 28-JULY 5 (Wednesday-Wednesday), Mid-term break for dual session.

JUNE 28 (Wednesday), 10 a.m., NCCU Board of Trustees, L.T. Walker Complex.

JUNE 30 (Friday), Last day of teachers' session.

JULY 1-AUGUST 6 (Saturday-Sunday), Bridges to Success Enrichment Program, University Testing Service.

JULY 4 (Tuesday), 12 noon, Dormitories open for second summer session.

JULY 4 (Tuesday), Independence Day Holiday. No classes.

JULY 5-7 (Wednesday-Friday), 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., NCCU Artists: New Horizons, juried show by North Carolina Central University students, NCCU Art Museum. Admission free. For information, 919 560-6211.

JULY 5 (Wednesday), 8:30 a.m. - 7 p.m., Registration, second summer session.

JULY 6 (Thursday), 8 a.m., Classes begin for second summer session.

JULY 6 (Thursday), 12 noon, Ice Cream Party, Alfonso Elder Student Union, George Street.

JULY 8 (Saturday), 7 p.m., Scholarship Pageant, Mount Calvary United Church of Christ, B.N. Duke Auditorium.

JULY 10-14 (Monday-Friday), 8 a.m., N.C. Teachers' Academy, School of Education, A.N. Whiting Building.

JULY 11-14 (Tuesday-Friday), 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., NCCU Artists: New Horizons, juried show by North Carolina Central University students, NCCU Art Museum. Admission free. For information, 919 560-6211.

JULY 12-14 (Wednesday-Friday), 8 a.m., HIV Training Institute, Miller-Morgan Building.

Morehead School Salutes Volunteers

By Ray Trent

"The students of Morehead Elementary School would like to salute you for touching our lives in a special way. You have given us inspiration. You have freely shared your time and energy. You have sparked in us a curiosity and a hunger to learn. You have helped us to grow. We thank you for your time, your concern, your patience and your love. Our hats are off to you, our wonderful volunteer, of Morehead Elementary School. Thanks for being a part of our 'village!'"

These were the words on a scroll given to each volunteer at a special luncheon given June 1 at Morehead Elementary School in Durham to honor a special group of community people. They are people who throughout the year give of their time to add a personal and special addition to the education of our youth by tutoring one on one.

The volunteers were treated to poetry, song and dance and a luncheon prepared by the teachers.

Each was treated to a big hug from a child who will never forget them.

NCCU to Enroll 92 In Summer Ventures, Starts June 25

North Carolina Central University will welcome 92 of North Carolina's best and most enthusiastic high school science and mathematics students to the campus June 25 for the 1995 edition of Summer Ventures in Science and Mathematics.

An orientation session for the Summer Ventures students will begin at 1:30 p.m. June 25 at NCCU's B.N. Duke Auditorium.

The students, who will be high school juniors and seniors next fall, will be at NCCU until July 22, and are scheduled to return home for a weekend break July 7-9.

Summer Ventures in Science and Mathematics is a program of The University of North Carolina system, with sites at six of the system's 16 campuses. The statewide program is administered through the North Carolina School of Science and Mathematics, in Durham.

The competitive Summer Ventures program assigns students to each of the sites, on the basis of their academic interests, from throughout the state of North Carolina.

The NCCU program is directed by Dr. Jasper L. Harris, associate professor of geography. He has directed the Summer Ventures program at NCCU since 1988, and served as the program's associate director in 1987.

Summer Ventures students at NCCU live in one of the university's residence halls, under the supervision of Ms. Beverly Evans. Students eat at the university's W.G. Pearson Cafeteria and have access to university facilities and services, including student health services.

Each Summer Ventures student will be in class for five hours six days of the week. Special activities are planned for evenings and weekends. A closing program on July 22 includes presentation of certificates of completion of the program.

Summer Ventures students are enrolled in a variety of science and mathematics programs.

In addition to a total of six two-hour mathematics modules and six two-hour science modules, students choose from one-hour modules in such topics as astronomy, molecular biology and microbiology, chemistry research, chemistry for living, computer graphics and animation, geographic information systems, and computer mathematics software.

Mathematics modules are taught by Mrs. Harriette Davis, whose students will investigate applications of mathematics to non-mathematical problems; Dr. James Shoaf, who will teach a course in geometric patterns and problem solving; Mr. Solomon Abraham, whose course deals with mathematical applications in science; Dr. Ramesh Mathur, whose module is entitled "Mathematical Methods"; Ms. Cheri Harrell, instructor of a module in mathematical problem solving; and Dr. Leon Hardy, teacher of topics in discrete mathematics.

The two-hour science modules include Basic Genetics, taught by Dr. George Williams; Chemistry and the Consumer, taught by Dr. James Scholer; Digital Electronics, taught by Dr. Albert Clark; Earth's Systems, taught by Dr. Harris Williams; Field Ecology, taught by Dr. Elzie Laube; and Research in Chemistry, taught by Dr. John Myers.

The Research in Chemistry course requires students to participate in the one-hour module of the same name, also taught by Dr. Myers.

Dr. Jyotsna M. Dutta and Dr. Charles Jones will teach the astronomy module, which includes observation and indoor activities. Dr. Goldie Byrd and Dr. Veronica Nwosu are the teachers of the one-hour module, "Frontiers in Molecular and Micro-Biology."

Dr. Ghasay Rogerson is the teacher of the one-hour module, "Chemistry for Living." Dr. James Shoaf will teach the computer graphics course. The teacher of the course in geographic information systems will be Dr. Robert Barnett.

Ms. Hazel Batts will teach a one-hour module named "Mathematics as Easy as Pi." This module will use mathematics software (as well as graphics calculators) to encourage the students to experiment with and investigate mathematical concepts which they have not yet encountered in their secondary school classes.

Fliers Promote Eagle-Aggie Weekend

Brochures promoting an August 30-September 3 Eagle-Aggie "week-end" have been distributed as North Carolina Central University begins its promotion of the September 3 football game between NCCU's Eagles and the Aggie Bulldogs of North Carolina A&T State University.

The game will be played at 4 p.m. Sunday, September 3, at Carter-Finley Stadium in Raleigh. NCCU is the home team this year.

But the brochures insist that there's more to what is billed as the "Eagle-Aggie Labor Day Classic" than "just a game."

Associated events include 5:30 p.m. pep rallies (for both teams) August 30 at Raleigh's Fayetteville Street Mall and August 31 at the Omni Plaza in downtown Durham.

The pep rallies are free; other events are ticket-only.

A kick-off banquet is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. August 31 at NCCU's W.G. Pearson Cafeteria. Tickets, $10 a plate, are available from the NCCU Ticket Office, 919 560-5170.

Events scheduled September 1 include a Greek Step Show at the Raleigh Civic Center at 8 p.m.; $12 tickets will be available at NCCU, St. Augustine's College, Shaw University, and the Civic Center.

The Raleigh-Wake Chapter of the NCCU Alumni Association will sponsor Eagle Jam '95 at 10 p.m. September 1 at the North Raleigh Hilton. For information about $10 advance tickets, contact Ann Heartley-Hunt at 919 954-0911.

A tennis tournament for fans is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. September 2. Information is available from Larry Keith at 919 772-5944.

The Eagle-Aggie Shoot Out Golf Tournament, open to the first 200 entrants at $65 a player, is scheduled September 2 at the Duke University Golf Course in Durham. Information is available from Val Atkinson, 919 544-5982.

A Chancellor's Scholarship Ball will be from 9 p.m. September 2 to 1 p.m. September 3 at the North Raleigh Hilton. Tickets are $50 each. Information is available from Sheila Small, 919 471-1515.

The FOX 107.1/104.3 FM Tailgate Party is scheduled at 1 p.m. September 3 at the Carter-Finley Parking Lot, with the pre-game show beginning at 3:30 p.m.

A post-game party is scheduled at the Seldom Blues Cafe, Waverly Place Shopping Center, Cary, hosted by the Raleigh-Wake chapter of the North Carolina A&T Alumni Association. Information is available from Darius Telfire, 919 790-1284.

Ticket Master outlets in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and Virginia will begin selling football game tickets July 17. "Eagle Side" seats are in sections 17-31, and "Aggie Side" seats are in sections 1-15.

Additional information and information about group ticket purchases is available from John Wilborn Special Event Management, 919 361-9688.

He who enjoys doing it enjoys what he has done is happy.

—Goethe