NCCU WOMEN'S BOWLING FINISHES SECOND OVERALL AT AGGIE INVITATIONAL

GREENSBORO, N.C. – The Lady Eagles of the North Carolina Central University bowling team had a strong performance, earning a second place finish behind in-state rival North Carolina A&T at the Aggie Invitational on Feb. 21-23 in Greensboro, N.C.

The Lady Eagles finished with a 9-4 overall record. The three-day bowling tournament hosted by the Aggies of North Carolina A&T included eight additional programs: Fayetteville State, Norfolk State, Morgan State, Winston-Salem State, Shaw, University of Alabama at Birmingham, Hampton, and NCCU.

On day one, NCCU posted a 3-2 record in the four game baker play, defeating Shae (704-578), University of Alabama-Birmingham (658-641), and Fayetteville State (685-665). During traditional team play, the Lady Eagles continued their strong performance, ending day two with a record of 4-1. Hampton (867-711), Winston-Salem State (900-782), Shaw (750-670), and Morgan State (819-690) suffered losses to the Lady Eagles. NCCU concluded day three in baker play, defeating Fayetteville State (4-3) and University of Alabama-Birmingham (4-2) for a 2-1 record.

Individually, Kourtney Rodez led the Lady Eagles as she earned a spot on the all-tournament team after finishing fifth among individual bowlers. Rodez cleared 958 total pins, averaged 191.6, and had a high game of 222.

NCCU will return to the lanes on March 1-2 as hosts of the third MEAC Southern Division tournament in Durham, N.C.

ERRORS DOOM NCCU BASEBALL IN 16-3 LOSS AT HIGH POINT

HIGH POINT, North Carolina Central University committed five errors resulting in eight unearned runs for High Point University as the host Panthers cruised to a 16-3 baseball victory on Tuesday at Williard Stadium in High Point, N.C.

The Eagles' fielding and throwing woes started early, as three errors allowed five unearned runs in High Point's seven-run first inning.

After the rough start, NCCU managed to keep it close, trailing 9-3 after plating two runs in the top of the sixth. High Point pulled away by scoring two runs in the bottom of the sixth, another run in the seventh and four more in the eighth.

Offensively, shortstop Zack Lee and third baseman Tyson Simpson continued to top NCCU with two hits each. Simpson tallied an RBI and his fifth double of the season. Rookie center-fielder Carlos Ortiz added a hit, an RBI and a run scored for the Eagles.

NCCU (1-5-1) returns to action this weekend

(March 1-2) with a three-game series at rival North Carolina A&T at
