NEWPORT, June 20.

Rhode Island Legislature.

The General Assembly of this state, closed their June session on Saturday last. Among the public business transacted, is an act authorising the several banks, in the event of war, to remove their business to some secure part of the state, and there continue to transact the same, during the danger that may arise from hostilities.

ALBANY, June 22.

Yesterday an express passed through this city for Canada—said to be the bearer of dispatches from the British minister at Washington, giving an account of the declaration of war by Congress against G. Britain.

NEW YORK, June 27.

To prevent false impressions we have been permitted by the editor of the Columbian to copy the following account of the tarring and feathering a man this morning on board the Essex, which he took upon the spot. Coleman.

Tarring and Feathering.—Circumstances which occurred on board the frigate Essex this morning having excited considerable anxiety in town, we have taken the pains to ascertain the facts, at the navy yard, and detain the press to give them to the public.

John Irvin, who was the man tarred and feathered, has been known by his account before and since he belonged to the navy, as a native of Salem, (Mass.) in which town he says he served his apprenticeship with Mr. Lane, a sailmaker. He entered on board the Essex, at Boston, about ten months since, signed the articles and took the oath of allegiance. Having behaved well in the service, he was made sailmaker of the ship. On Sunday last, Capt. Porter called his crew together, communicated to them the declaration of war against England, and requested that any man among them who wished to leave the service would hand in his name and receive his discharge; to which he received in answer three hearty cheers from every man of the crew.

This morning in consequence of three or four men having straggled from their work and returned, Capt. Porter called all hands again, and addressed them on the subject of war, repeating his wish that any man who was unwilling to continue in the service, would give in his name and receive his discharge; to which the crew, as before, replied with three unanimous cheers. Shortly after, he ordered up the men in their respective gangs, and tendered them the oath of allegiance, which was cheerfully taken by every man on board excepting Irvin, who refused and declared himself an Englishman. Upon this the petty officers and crew of the ship to whom Capt. Porter has uniformly submitted the award of punishing offences committed on his ship, requested permission to inflict severe corporal punishment on the offender which the Captain with his characteristic humanity refused and suffered them to dismiss him with a coat of old fashioned yankee manufacture, with appropriate labels, in which he appeared in our streets;—here he excited so much curiosity that the police interfered and took charge of him to prevent a riot.

NOFOLK, July 3.

It has been generally imagined, that the Insurance Companies would be great sufferers by the present war. We do not know the state of other Insurance Companies, but we can say, for the information of the distant stockholders in the Marine Insurance Company of Norfolk, that yesterday their affairs could not be affected one dollar by the war; every risk which that event could operate on, was ended.

Our information of the state of the Union Insurance Company is not so accurate, but we understand from good authority, that their affairs are nearly, if not in the same situation. Risks that will be hereafter taken, will be charged with premiums supposed to be adequate to the hazards of the war.—Ledger.

Sailor's Mob.—The mob which collected yesterday in James-Street, and its vicinity is said to have originated from the following circumstance. A sailor by the name of Edward A. Burnum, was wounded in an affray at a boarding house in James Street, on Tuesday last; and on Saturday he died of his wounds. The house in which the affray happened was kept by a foreigner, said to be a Spaniard or Portuguese. Yesterday the sailors in and about George-Street, assembled, surrounded the house, and gave out that they would put the tavern keeper to death if the man who wounded Burnum could not be found.—The tavern keeper, finding himself in danger, sought the protection of the magistrates; this exasperated the mob, which had now become numerous, and they declared that they would raze the house to the ground. The Mayor having notice of the disturbance, immediately repaired to the place with the peace officers; but the mob became too violent to be quelled without force, and a Troop of Horse was accordingly ordered out, who succeeded in dispersing the rioters, and restoring tranquility before any serious violence had been committed.

We cannot finish this account without congratulating this community on the excellent police which distinguishes our city from those of Baltimore and Savannah. In these places on two late similar occasions of a night riot, the magistrates stood by, quiet spectators of the disgraceful scene, or were criminally engaged in joining the rioters. Let not any set of persons flatter themselves that because the lawless violators of the peace partially succeeded in their object in the above places, similar success would be experienced here. With a vigilant, ready, active and resolute chief magistrate, whose officers are always at his immediate beck, and a troop of horse at a moment's command, what have mobs and rioters to expect here, in a city whose inhabitants generally are characterised by habits of sobriety, love of order and attachment to the laws? Nothing but defeat, detection and condign punishment.—New-York Ev. Post.

Last Notice.

I REQUEST those gentlemen who have been so kind as to undertake the collection of my debts to place the accounts in the hands of a Constable or other suitable person (if it is not convenient for my agents to attend to it themselves) with instructions to warrant every debtor who refuses on the first application to pay or give a note or other assignment. This notice is to save the trouble and expense of a separate letter to each agent. WILLIAM BOYLAN. Raleigh, July 1, 1812. 48-tf.

To Contractors.

THE Directors of the State Bank of North Carolina, have resolved to erect a BANKING HOUSE in the city of Raleigh, the foundation whereof will be of rock, the walls of brick, and the roof probably of slate or some other fire proof material. The dimensions will be 33 feet by 53 feet 3 inches, two stories high, with a portico in front.—The undersigned, being a committee to contract for the materials and for the building of the said house, do hereby give notice that they will receive proposals for furnishing the several materials and for the workmanship; or for the house complete. The plan of the building, together with a bill of the requisite materials, will be shewn by the committee to any person desirous of offering terms. It is contemplated by the Directors to have the bricks made in the course of the present season; so that they may be laid early in the ensuing spring.

THE ENGLISH STALLION RESTLESS,

WILL stand the present season, (now commenced and to end the 1st August,) at my stable in Salisbury, and will be let to mares at 20 dollars the season, payable with 16 dollars by the 1st January, 1813: 10 dollars the single leap, to be paid when the mare is covered, with the privilege of turning to the season by the payment of 5 dollars more on receiving the second cover; 40 dollars to ensure a mare to be in foal, which may be discharged with 32 dollars, on or before the 1st January aforesaid.

RESTLESS is a fine bay, full 16 hands high; and unites, what is very rare, transcendent beauty with matchless strength. His blood is equal to any horse ever imported; being the son of Phoenomenon, one of the most celebrated sons of Herod; and out of Dutchess by Le Sang, one of the best racers of her day, having won 22 races in succession, 4 mile and 4 mile heats.

Restless is the only horse in America, and perhaps the only horse now living that ever run four miles in 7 minutes 30 1-2 seconds. This he did for the great subscription at York, on Wednesday the 21st August 1793—see Sporting Magazine for 1794 5, page 186.

For a more minute account of the pedigree and performance of this wonderful horse, and also for the performance of his colts, reference can be had to my bills.

One Hundred Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber, the 15th inst. a negro man named JACOB, alias Yellow Jacob. He is a tall, lusty mulatto, about six feet high, and about 21 or 22 years old. He wears remarkably straight and slow; has uncommonly large feet, which he turns out in walking. He speaks very quick, and to a person unaccustomed to hear him talk, almost unintelligible. He has rather a mild inoffensive countenance, and a manner well calculated for any species of deception. To describe him by his dress would be impossible, as he carried off several articles of clothing of different colours. He has been heard of on his way to Murfreesborough, and Mays's Neck, in Hertford county, where he was raised, and where he has several relations, and no doubt, many well disposed to conceal him. His father, named Abraham, lives as a husband with a free woman in Northampton county, who hires his time of Mr. Tipton, estate of Hertford; and he has a brother named Moses, who now belongs to Mr. Underhill, residing at Hornblow's Point, a few miles below Edenton. He has passed for Major Park's Jew, which name he probably, for some time, particularly where not known, may wish to retain. He has been heard by the overseer to throw out some hints that all should be free, and that he saw no reason why the sweat of his brow should be expended in supporting the extravagance and idleness of any man; or some words to that effect. This principle, I am informed, he wished to impress upon the minds of my other negroes; and I doubt not will attempt to do the same wherever he goes. It therefore becomes, not only the duty, but the interest of every person, possessed of such property, to apprehend such fellow, and thereby avert the progress of such dangerous principles. I will give ten dollars to any person, who will apprehend him, and lodge him in the jail of the county where taken; and the above reward of 100 dollars to any person, who will discover and give evidence against any person or persons, who may harbour, conceal or employ said negro; so that he or they, so harbouring, &c. be legally convicted of the same.
