perfect composure. I have made such arrangements as will enable me, in a very short time, to dispose of so much of it as I have sacrificed as will enable me to replace the money from whence it has been so unfortunately removed. It may not be improper for me to remark, that the public treasury has suffered no inconvenience whatever from this transaction, and I am confident, with perfect confidence that it shall not.

It only remains for me to ask the Legislature to appoint a committee to examine the accounts of the treasury from the 30th of Sept. last. (The latest period of examination by the annual committee.) To that committee when they shall have completed the duty assigned them, I will deliver the office with every thing appurtenant to it.

A wild goose chase is usually so uncertain as to have passed into a proverb for an unsuccessful pursuit; but the following particulars will show that it is not always so. At the early dawn of Thanksgiving, Mr. Eliphalet Thayer, of Dorchester, Massachusetts, took his gun and went to Neponset river with the purpose of getting a shot at geese. He saw seven wild geese in the river, at which he fired, and hit the gander so as to break his wing. The other geese immediately flew; but the call of the gander brought them down again, so that he had the chance of firing again, and killed the old gander, and one of the young; the four others rose, but the wounded gander by his calls served as a decoy, and they again alighted by him. The third shot crippled another. Mr. T. then took a boat, and from it killed two as they rose to fly; and soon after shot the seventh. He returned home to his breakfast, about 9 o'clock, bringing his seven geese, which weighed about eight pounds each, and produced him 3 lbs. of feathers. — Boston Centinel.

THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES.

TREASURY OFFICE, 15TH JAN. 1820.

MISSOURI QUESTION.—The Slave question is the most interesting which has ever come before congress; and it has employed, in that body, during the discussion, talents of the first order.

SILVER.—The Zanesville, Ohio, paper, asserts that a Mr. Chandler, in boring for salt, at the depth of 133 feet, struck upon a vein of virgin silver, of from six to seven inches thick.

BLAKELY GAZETTE.—This establishment is to be removed to Fayetteville, and the paper continued there under the title of the Fayetteville Gazette.

NEW MACHINE.—A machine for removing sand-bars, deepening rivers, digging canals, &c. has been deposited lately in the patent office, Washington city.

ERROR.—A few weeks since, in noticing the present population of the city of New York, a figure was accidentally omitted, making the number of inhabitants 19,657, instead of 119,657, the correct sum.
