A PROPOSAL

By William Y. Birch and Abraham Small, of the City of Philadelphia,

For publishing by Subscription,

THAT INVALUABLE WORK,

DR. RUSSEL'S

History of Modern Europe;

With an Account of the Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire, the Rise of Modern Kingdoms, &c. &c.

THE great Applause which this excellent Book has received, is a sure Proof of its Merits. The vast Sale which it has had for several Years, is a fair Criterion by which the public Opinion of its worth can be known. During the Life of the learned Author it went through the annual Sale of a very large Impression—every succeeding Edition received some Improvement, the Result of his deep Researches and great Judgment—helived to make it as perfect as in the Nature of Things it could be—he is dead! Whilst the English Language is read, the History of Modern Europe will remain a Monument to his Fame! It is as entertaining as instructive; as interesting as profound. The Plan of the Work is copious, but by an happy Arrangement, the Reader is at once pleased with the contemporary History of every Part of Europe. The Book now offered to the Public is from the last and most correct Copy, to which this shall be no Way inferior:—It contains An History of the Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire.

The Rise of Modern Kingdoms, generally. A particular History of the French Monarchy.

Spain, from the Dominion of the Visigoths.

Italy, with the Rise and Progress of the Temporal Power of the Popes.

Britain, from its Renouement by the Romans.

Ireland.

The German Empire, from Charlemagne.

The Empire of Constantinople, to its Overthrow.

Empire of the Arabs.

Rise and Progress of the Turks, and the Fall of the Greek Empire.

History of Portugal, View of the Progress of Navigation, Conquests in the East and West Indies, &c.

History of Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Russia, Poland, and Prussia.

North America, as connected with European History.

A very comprehensive and highly useful Chronology.

CONDITIONS.

1. The whole shall be comprised in five large Octavo Volumes, printed in the best Manner, on superfine Paper.

2. It is intended to deliver one Volume every two Months, at the Price of two Dollars per Volume in Boards, payable on Delivery.

3. As it may be inconvenient to deliver them to distant Subscribers in single Volumes, those who wish it, may let them remain with the Publishers until the whole are finished, in which Case the Price of one Volume will be required on subscribing, the Remainder on the Delivery of the whole.

It will be put to Press immediately, and printed on a beautiful new Type cut for the Purpose. The Encouragers of this Undertaking may rest assured, that nothing now foreseen shall delay its regular Procedure; so that in one Year at farthest, the citizens of the United States shall be presented with an American Edition of Dr. Russell's History of Modern Europe, equal to the English Copy, and at a lower Price.

Subscriptions received at the Store of the Printer of this Paper.

LATEST FOREIGN NEWS.

GERMANY.

VIENNA, APRIL 23.

On Monday last, a second supplement extraordinary was published, relative to the operations of the army in Italy, which is as follows:

"In the last supplement, the position was mentioned which Gen. Melas had taken, after the advantages gained by him in the Riviera, and the effecting the blockade of the citadel of Savona. But not to give time to the enemy's principal force, assembled near Genoa, to gain advantages over any detached divisions of our troops, the General resolved, for this purpose as well as for establishing as speedy a junction as possible with F. M. Lieutenants Ott and Hohenzollern, to march with the greatest part of the army, on the evening of the 9th, and to take his position from Veirara along St. Juliana di Stella to Varraggio. The English admiral having promised to cover his right wing by several ships. Meanwhile, the necessary measures were taken, as soon as the English bomb vessels should have arrived, for bombarding the citadel of Savona by sea and land at the same time. On the 8th the enemy also quitted Finale, thus leaving to F. M. Lieutenant Elfnitz a shorter position from Sette Pani, along St. Pantalone to Capca Zoppa, but General Melas intends to take possession of it only as the further progress of his operations shall require. In the batteries on the coast between Vado and Finale, seven pieces of artillery of different calibre, and about four hundred pounds of gunpowder were found. General Melas further reports from the headquarters at Celle on the 10th inst. that he had altered his plan of marching to Varraggio, on the evening of the 9th, on account of his having received positive intelligence that the enemy had shortly before reinforced the post of Varraggio with 3000 men. Under these circumstances the General thought it necessary to avoid marching at night, and did not set out before six o'clock in the morning of the 10th. He ordered the division commanded by General Count Palffy to attack the enemy at three points, at Stella di Costa, while the two Generals Francis Count St. Julica and Count Bellegarde took their stations on and near the Veirara. The engagement was very hot, and the enemy's resistance more than obstinate; but they were forced to give way to the bravery and perseverance of our troops, who with all the courage imaginable made themselves masters of every one of the enemy's advantageous positions. A Chief of Brigade, an Adjutant General of the Commander in Chief Massena, who at different times led his troops in person, endeavouring to gain the victory, with several other officers, belonging to Massena's suite, and 295 privates, were made prisoners, and the field of battle was covered with dead bodies. The farther details of the enemy's and our loss, General Melas promises in his next. The enemy flying in confusion, mostly on the roads along the coast, were pursued as far as Invrea, and greatly harassed on their retreat by some English bomb vessels; night only terminated the conflict. On the same day, the 10th, the General of Cavalry received the glad tidings from Field Marshal Lieutenant Hohenzollern, of his having on the 9th inst. ascended the Bocchetta with four battalions, on which occasion he had taken six pieces of heavy artillery, killed a great number of the enemy's troops, and made nearly 200 prisoners. Field Marshal Lieutenant Keim reported to General Melas, that in the night from the 7th to the 8th inst. he had surprised Mount Cenis, made prisoners eight officers and 900 privates, taken 10 pieces of cannon, and maintained himself on that important post."

A few days ago, the French Generals Perignon and Grouchy, who had been prisoners at Gratz, set off for Frankfort, accompanied by the Imperial Capt. Villon to be changed.

STUTTGARD, APRIL 23.

Letters from Jassy say, that a Russian corps of more than 50,000 men, is collected on the frontiers of Moldavia, which will receive reinforcements. The motive for collecting these troops is not known; but it is supposed that the Sublime Porte has requested succours of the Emperor of Russia against Paswan Oglou and other European Pachas who refuse to acknowledge the authority of the Grand Seigneur.

FRANCE.

PARIS, MAY 21.

The discovery of a new Royalist Conspiracy engages the attention of every body, and it becomes the subject of universal conversation. It would be difficult to report with precision the various accounts and conjectures which it has given rise to. As usual in such cases, curiosity is less excited, and conversation turns less upon the obscure individuals who have been taken up, than upon supposed accomplices not yet discovered, to whom the spirit of party attributes criminal intentions, the names of the persons are not yet known. But it is not a little surprising, to find among them the identical Veyrat, who, on the 18th Fructidor, was appointed inspector, general of police. Mademoiselle Deforget, a young lady aged 20, was taken up yesterday, in consequence of discoveries made by the police; and it is this moment reported that the brother-in-law of citizen Delarue, one of the representatives banished the 18th Fructidor, and the youngest of her brothers-in-law, are also among the number of those in confinement. Eleven agents of police and some officers expect every moment to be examined. Report also states, that there are some prefects implicated in the business.

This plot was detected on the 12th. The Counsellors of State appointed by the first Consul to examine the papers of the committee so discovered and arrested on that day, are citizens Emery, Brune, Dejean, and Champagny.

The following are the heads of these papers, according to the Journal des Hommes Libres: "Instructions for the agents. List of the public functionaries to superintend. Account kept of the conduct of each of them. A very comprehensive cypher, with explanations on the margin. Register of all the sums which have been distributed to the faithful servants of his Majesty; even the pall placed in the temple of Magdeleine, the 21st of January, is carried to this account;—the greatest part of these sums is for the payment of writers. More than 100,000 livres appear to have been paid for writing labels against the first consul—these labels are in the hands of the police."

The whole correspondence, says the Journal du Commerce, proves a manifest intention to overturn the government, to give the command of the armies to Pichegrue, who was to place France in the hands of its legitimate Sovereign, to corrupt the commandants of the ports, and deliver the ports up, &c.

Bonaparte and General Lannes were both to have been assassinated at the same instant. Breit was to have been given up to the English, to effect which purpose counterfeit seals of all the ministers were provided, in order to remove the garrisons of that city to a distance, and send into it 3000 Chouans as Republicans; the Court d'Autos was then to be proclaimed. This account is not yet published in the Monteu, but all the other papers of the 14th and 15th mention it. The Journal de Paris inflicts it is a miserable intrigue, unworthy of notice, while other papers assert, that the persons arrested are conspirators paid by England, to restore royalty in France.

The minister of the interior to the Prefects of the Departments.

"The first Consul set off at one o'clock in the morning for the army of reserve. Herepairs to Dijon, and from thence perhaps to Geneva. In fifteen days he will be on his return to Paris; and in the interval an uniform and rapid movement will be given to our armies."

"Hasten Citizen Prefects, payment of the contributions: hasten the departure of the conscripts who have not quitted your department. The
