From the Standard. CAMP OF 26TH REG'T, N. C. T., Croise's Field, July 3, 1862. Editor of the Standard-Dear Sir: Supposin that our friends in the old North State would like to know of our whereabouts, since our ar E White, H A Torrence, Corp'l A Beatty; Privates J H rival in the Old Dominion, I concluded I would Ratchford, W F Lewis, W A Miller, D Cloninger, L M give you a sketch of what we have seen and ione since we left our camps above Kinston. On the evening of the 19th of June, Col. Vance announced to his regiment that on the morrow we would leave for Richmond to take a part in the great struggle for freedom and independence followed by a short and patriotic address, which was received by his boys with shouts of exultation. Left next day-arrived in Petersburg on the night of the 24th June, were marched to the large and commodibus market-house, and stopped for the night; remained here till Tuesday evening, June 24th, left for Richmond-arrived there about midnight, and were marched to the capitol and slept on its beautiful grounds. Here, we re ceived many attentions from the citizens of Rich mond, and especially from Gov. Letcher, who threw open his doors to us and invited us to share of his hospitalities. Next morning we left for the "Seven Pinos," the noted field of battle of the 30th and 31st of May. Arriving in one mile of the battle field, we were stopped to re-fresh ourselves a little, and then marched down to where a spirited engagement was going on between our forces and the yankees. Our regiment was soon thrown into line of battle, and has been so ever since, until now, except when marching through mud and water, undergoing all sorts o hardships, being without tents and a good deal of the time drenched with rain-all of which we have endured as good soldiers, ready and willing country. At Seven Pines, we had several severe skirmish fights with the yankees, always driving them back, and advancing our line of pickets, until Sunday morning, when we took posses their entire camps and breastworks, and planted our flag upon their splendid ramparts. We all love him, and will die round him if need be. Long may he live to enjoy the gratitude and smiles of those who have been so intimately connected with him in camp for the last 12 months. We started about 12 o'clock Sunday, in pursuit of the yankees-got in one mile of them-opened fire upon them with our artillery, which was kept up till late at night, when the firing ceased on both sides. Morning came, and the yankees had left-leaving behind thousands of dollars worth that to assist them in their system of lying and decepof clothing, guns, tools and everything else im- tion, the yankees have actually taken to printing bogus aginable. Our boys were eager to gather relics, Southern newspapers, imitations of the genuine in apand nearly all have something by which to re- pearance, but filled with matter of their own concoction member the yankees. OBSERVER. FAYETTEVILLE.

THURSDAY EVENING, JULY 17, 1862.

AN INTERESTING LETTER - We copy from the Richmond Enquirer a letter from Lieut. Maury of the Confederate Navy to a French Admiral (emitting only some paragraphs which are merely personal.) The condition and feelings of the South are generally well stated in this letter; but it is not this which has attracted our attention, so much as two things stated by Lieut Manry, evidently upon his own personal knowledge, viz: 1st.

rection! Can anything equal this? It is far worse than of savages; but the explosive bullet is the invention of a neople professing to be civilized, and is employed against their own kins people, who have long been connected with themselves by the closest bonds of social, political, and commercial life, and whom they are warring to force back into a like union. At least they so profess; but we have come to the conclusion that they selves of the vast wealth of the South, and at the same dared to cut loose from them. . We need not enumerate It affords me much pleasure to state that all the evidences of this. What the South has to do is to

The printing of spurious Southern papers account for some things heretofore unaccountable. The New quote from the Richmond Dispatch, that had never appeared in that paper. And the Philadelphia Inquirer professed to quote from the Raleigh Standard of June 11th, when no Raleigh Standard was issued on that day, or had ever contained any such language. The Standard thought the article had been prepared in North Carolina and sent to the North for publication. Lieut. Maury's statement shows, we think, that the Standard misjudged its assailants who, to whatever shifts some of them may be capable of resorting, are apparently guiltless of this. Lieut. Maury. Missing: Privates Wm Collins, was an anti-slavery man, by a party whose one idea was hostility to the institution. Unauthorized, unnecessary, malignant interference with that institution for forty years had finally culminated in the success of the party which meditated its destruction. The people of the South had stood a far worse tariff than existed on the election of Lincoln, or was likely to be enacted. They had no such knowledge of yankee character as this war has developed. They could have tolerated both these, for they were prosperous and happy at home. But they could not tolerate the idea of having their fair land converted into a second San Domingo. It is now the universal Southern sentiment, -it is ours most decidedly, that the separation did not take place a day too soon ALARMED .- The New York Herald of the 10th inst. s in great trouble about what it admits to be "the series of Federal disasters in Virginia, ending with the latest and greatest of them all—the retreat of Gen. McClellan's army before superior numbers." It lays the blame upon "the imbecility of the War and Navy Departments." "But, (adds the Herald,) there is some thing still worse to be apprehended. The news of the disaster has gone to Europe, and upon its heels will probably follow intervention on the part of France and England, if not of all the maritime powers of Europe. And it urges that the coast be fortified from the Rich Grande to the Kennebec, more iron-qlad boats be built and the 300,000 men be speedily enrolled and brought into the field.

But this last is easier said than done. The New York World declares that the "call" has not yet kindled the first flash of enthusiasm; that "distrust weighs like a pall," and that "a sullen gloom is settling on every heart. The people are coldly motionless."

IMPORTANT MOVEMENTS .- There is no doubt the Lincoln has visited McClellan's camp on James river. We did not credit the report at first, but it is confirmed assed on Thursday last. It is said that Stanton, Secetary of War, and Gen. Scott, accompanied him.

On Friday night a Federal Captain arrived at Petersburg with despatches from McClellan, which he proceeded to Richmond to deliver. He left McClellan' camp on the day after Lincoln's arrival there.

RUBNSIDE'S MOVEMENTS .- We learn from Northern ed on the 1st inst., but on that day he received dispatches calling him to the Peninsula, to reinforce McClellan He and his vessels and men at once proceeded to Old Point, and thence to McClellan's camp on the 7th.

So it seems that in whipping the yankees before Richnond, our North Carolina soldiers were in reality fighting their battles for home, for a raid by Burnside into, he interior of the State has been nipped in the bud.

Under these circumstances Mr. Vance may be elected, for he has all the advantages that electioneering can give him. But we warn those about to vote for Mr. Vance to pause and think whether upon the whole they approve the course of the Raleigh Standard and its affiliated politicians; for, although by voting for Mr. ance, they may not mean to endorse the course of this lique, they will find after it is done, that they have in effect, done so. Their votes for Vance will be referred to as so many endorsements of Holdenism, and more been formed only about nine months ago. Of dourse than that, they will find that, substantially, by electing. Buruside never captured a man of them. Mr. Vance, they have placed in power the clique which rotates and gyrates somewhere in and around Raleigh, and does its publishing through the Standard. Mr. Vance, if elected, cannot and will not free himself from hat influence. It is right that the citizens and soldiers like should know this .- Wilmington Journal, 16th.

FOR GOVERNOR. — Meetings in Beaufort and Granville ounties have nominated Col. Vance.

DEATH OF MAJ. HUSER -We regret to hear of the leath of Major Benjamin R. Huske of this Town, which courred at Richmond, Va., on the 15th inst., from a wound received in the late Battles before Richmond Maj Huske was born in this place in the Fall of 1829, and was in his 38d year. He graduated at the University of North Carolina with high distinction in he class of 1850, obtained license as a Lawyer some years later, and at the breaking out of the war was engaged in a growing practice of that profession. He went into the service as 1st Lieutenant of the Independent Company and served in that position through the 1st (Bethel) Regiment's existence. A few months ago he returned to the service as Captain of a Moore county Company, was elected Major of the Regiment (48th) to which it was assigned, and received the wound of which he died on the 25th ult., in the first of the series of battles near Richmond. His wound was the foot and at first supposed not to be dangerous, but erysipelas followed, of which he died.

NORTH CAROLINA HOSPITALS, -- We were aware that our State had two Hospitals in Petersburg, but had overlooked the fact that we had one in Richmond also. Dr. O. F. Manson, the Surgeon in charge, states that since the recent battles, 332 patients have been received in it, of whom 278 were North Carolinians. In response to contributions from this State, he asks for Chickens, Eggs, Butter, Tea, Vegetables, Pruit, Ice, Coffee, Milk, sweet and Buttermilk, Honey, Sugar, Scap, Brandy, Lemons, Wax, Wine, cotton socks, shirts and underpants, soft mattresses, those made of shucks and cotton would answer admirably. Soft pillows. A straw anck and straw pillow have only been furnished by the government, the demands upon which have been so numerous and so rapid that it is impossible for it to supply them in time. The size of the mattress should be 64 fee long, 8 feet wide and two inches in thickness. Towels are also needed, as well as bandages, which should be 6 feet long, 3 inches wide, without seam and rolled up as tightly as possible, made of fine cotton shirting.

N. C. RAILBOAD. - We have received a pamphlet copy of the annual report of the President, Thos. Webb, Esq. The earnings of the road for the year ending May 31st, 1862, were $791,068 68, against $420,661 89 for the previous year. The net profit was $350,843 52. Through passengers paid $25,856 91, way passengers $239,749 39-exclusive of soldiers. The number of soldiers transported was 87,057; of other passengers 117,325 Earnings from private freight $148,863, from gov't freight $123,535 40. The cost of working the road has been only about 30 per cent. of its whole earnings. The road works for the Confederacy at half price. The road is in better condition than at this time last year. The shops have been the salvation of the Company, and the wisdom of those who planned them on the scale upon which they were built is now demonstrated.

Besides the dividend of 8 per cent. the company has paid $90,000 of debts contracted prior to the last year, $28,000 for coupons on funded debt, and $25,000 to the sinking fund. This fund now amounts to $112,000, and from New York and Old Point, which latter place be is invested in State bonds, many of which were purchased at 80 to 85 per cent. of their face.

In closing his report the President pays a high and we have no doubt a deserved compliment to the skill and ability of his immediate predecessor, Paul C. Cameron, Esq. He deserves credit for thus doing justice to one against whom a prodigious amount of public clamor had been expended.

A STORY ABOUT NORTH CAROLINA. - The Philadelphia nquirer publishes a long "statement of John Minton, a ebel soldier," who deserted, so says the Inquirer. In it we find the following about North Carolina: -

"Just before the Fair Oaks fight the time of the 32d North Carolina Regiment expired. Fifty of them were granted a furlough to return home for twenty days, when they were captured by Gen. Burnside. One hundred men from the regiment were sent to ascertain the cause of their prolonged absence. They also fell into the hands of the General. The Colonel then took the remainder of the regiment in quest of the absentees, when Gen. Burnside bagged them all."

In spite of the 32d being "all bagged" by Burnside, we think they were in the late battles at Richmond and gave the lie to this yankee story, which was probably

LATEST WAR NEWS. Important from Roanoke River .- The Yankees occupy Williamston, Martin County.—Wellion, July 15.—The enemy took possession of Williamston yesterday morning. Three gunboats came up to the town and landed some 250 men and two pieces of artillery. They required the Mayor to call the commissioners together demanded the Government stores, if there were any there and also demanded that any citizens who were engaged in the fight at Rainbow Banks be given up. They were still there at last accounts.—Rai. Telegraph

From Vicksburg.—Mostle, Ala., July 15.—The Jackson Mississippian publishes a report from Vicksburg, that Cour. Farragut has proposed to withdraw his field and cease offensive operations against Vicksburg, provided the gunboats above are permitted to pass down

A dispatch dated Vicksburg, July 15, states that the ram Arkansas came out of Yazoo river and fought through the enemy's upper fleet, inflicting great damage to them, and is now safe under our gans; preparing for another dash. Two shots only penetrated her. Our loss was twenty in killed and wounded. Capt. Brown was slightly wounded. The enemy's lower fleet are hastily retiring. Curtis not Captured .- JACKSON, MISS., July 15 .- Dr ry have arrived from Camp Douglas, having been re-leased by the Federal Government. They say, on the authority of Jeff. Thompson, that Cartis had escaped Hindman and got to Helena, Ark. Hindman had Cur-tis surrounded, but having no ammunition, he was com-pelled to let him escape, although the Federals an ounced his capture.

From Fredericksburg.—RICHMOND July 16.—We have late advides from Fredericksburg, which strongly imply the design of the Federal forces there under command of General King to retire to Washington. There had positively been no southward movement from there of any considerable portion of Gen. King's forces. About sixty or seventy Yankee maranders had appeared at Bowling Green in Carolina country but there had His disease was bilious cholic.

Capt. Nichols of the same Regiment, in command of a company from Charlotté, also died on Friday, of typhoid fever, at or near Wilmington.

in East Tennessee. Another Morgan Exploit.—Avoresta, July 16.—A dispatch from Knoxville the 14th, says that Col. Jack Morgan surprised three hundred Federal cavalry at Tompkinsville, Monroe county, Kentucky, and captured 30, wounded 21, and captured 40 horses, eight wagons Morgan had one wounded but none killed.

erday, to the fact that negotiations were pendin general exchange of prisoners. The Commissioner is Major-General D. H. Hill, who is now engaged in pre paring the lists of exchange—it having been agreed that each Government should report the number and names of all prisoners in durance, on parole and wounded, and perform the exchange by giving man for man, and in relation to officers, in such ratio as the usages of war have established as just. The movement was initiated by the Federal Government, whose special messenger reached Richmond a few days ago, by flag of truce via City Point and Petersburg. Some weeks must clapse before the exchange is consummated.

Arrival of Wounded Prisoners.—About eight hundred wounded prisoners reached the city last evening, from Savage's Station, on the York River Railread. They include some fifty field and company officers. Many of them are very severely wounded, but having with them their own physicians, who are well supplied with all the requisite medical and surgical appliances, they have little cause to complain.—Richmond Enquirer, 16th.

that comparatively few of the muskets captured from the Yankees in the battles below Richmond, have sus-tained serious damage. The fact is, they did not have time, on their famous retreat from the Chickabominy, to make the destruction of property complete, and hence we find, in a lot of twenty thousand not more than a thousand that cannot be speedily rendered as good as new. These arms are generally of superior quality, including many of recent invention and European manufacture.—Dispatch.

The Yankee Gunboats at Hamilton .- Gov. Clark has been officially informed that the Yankee gunboats whose commanders last week immortal-ized themselves by shelling the undefended town of Hamilton and murdering an infant, have abandoned the place and returned down the river with all the glory of the achievement. Raleigh Telegraph.

Promoted .- Lieut. Col. Ed. Graham Haywood, of the 7th N. C. Troops, has been promoted to the Colonelcy of that gallant regiment, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of the brave, lamented Col. Campbell. A well-merited reward. Raleigh Telegraph.

From New Mexico,-We have received a copy of the Houston (Texas) Telegraph of the 25th ult., which brings us the intelligence that, after an arduous and brilliant campaign, our gallant little army in New Mexico had, after repeated and hard-won successes, been compelled, from scarcity of provisions and forage in the territory, to fall back to Arizona where they had arrived in safety.-Petersburg Express.

From Memphis .- MOBILE, Ala, July 14 .- A dispatch dated Grenada, July 14, says that Memhis papers of 11th inst. contain an order from Gen. Grant banishing from that city, after five days' notice, the families of all persons connected in any manner with the Confederate army, or holding office under the Confederate government; or holding State, county and municipal offices, and claiming to owe allegiance to the Confederate States. The same rule is applied to the families of those who have some South. This order will expel fully two-thirds of the families from

DIED,

On the 15th inst., at Little Rockfish, of Pulmonary disease, in the 54th year of his age, the Rev. GEORGE BENTON, who had been the Rector of Christ Church at hat place for 17 years.

Mr. Benton graduated with distinction at Trinity. College, Hartford Ct., in 1833. He then entered the Theological Seminary at New York and graduated in 1995. was called to the Parish at Rockfish, where he has spent a useful and laborious life. He was a ripe scholar and a christian gentleman—and his life has closed just in the manner slways desired by him. His death was after the ordinary manner of men, having in it nothing extraordinary, save an extraordinary pisty, and the manifestation of God's infinite and miraculous mercy. His speech and his understanding were preserved to the latest hours of his life. He died the death of the right coun. free from sin, (through Christ,) free from shame, and by God's mercy comparatively free from pain.—Com.
