The marriage of Mr. Bayard Taylor, in Goths, Saxony, to Miss Hansen, of Goths, took place, as we announced ves-terday, on the 27th ult. The following clever "epithala-mium" read at a meeting of a few of his friends in this city, held at Delmonico's, on the same night, is ascribed by

TO BAYARD TAYLOR, ON HIS WEDDING-DAY. " October, 27, 1857.

We drink to one who Bavard hight; In whose tine heart and fileon glance, We hail once more the noble knight, And gallant gentleman of France.

We toast a Taylor; one who cuts Out all our books, but not our breeches; A lucky wight who loves sauer-kraut, And yet who never cabbages.

We pledge a poet, crowned with bay Whose every leaf his country knows-Strange, though in verse he has his way, That every reader cons his prose.

We drink a traveller, who goes In a bee line to sea to see What comes of following that nose That knows the way to Arcady.

The sources of the Nile to sean, By way of contrast, feeds the flame Of travel with the Isle of Man. We Benedicks had sore alarms

A traveller whose earnest aim

His flowers might not end in fruit, But Bayard now gives up his arms— This knight our Taylor follows suit. We pledge a maid we ne'er shall know-A wife whom one day we shall see. The years that banvan-like shall grow,

We pledge the children that shall be. Oh friend beloved, and friend unknown, Ye stand 'mid bridal songs and flowers, And, with the blossoms o'er you thrown, We breathe a prayer and mingle ours

A Poetic Gem.

Saxe never penned anything more charming than the following lines upon his Thirty-ninth Birthday, which we find in the well supplied Editor's Table of The Knickerocker for August:

Ah me! the moments will not stay! Another year has rolled away.
And June (the second) scores the line
That tells me I am Thirty nine! As thus I haste the mile stones by, I mark the numbering with a sigh; And yet 'tis idle to repine I've come so soon to Thirty-nine!

Ah! few that roam this world of ours, To feel its thorns and pluck its flowers, Have trod a brighter path than mine From blithe thirteen to Thirty-nine!

Health, home and friends, (life's solid part,) A merry laugh, a fresh, young heart, Poetic dreams and love divine-Have I not these at Thirty-nine? O Time! forego thy wanted spite, And lay thy future lashes light, And, trust me, I will not repine. At twice the count of Thirty-nine!

"Pray, Miss C." said a gentleman the other evening, "why are the ladies so fond of officers?"-"How stupid," replied Miss C.; "is it not perfectly natural and proper that a lady should like a good 128 92 14 The House of Representatives consists of 234 members-118 members constituting a majority. It will be seen from the above table that the Democrats' have a clear majority of twenty two over the com-bined vote of the Black Republicans and Know-Nothings. This majority will be increased to twentyfive at an early period of the session by the admission of the three Democratic members from the new State of Minnesota. It may be added as a most significant fact that six of the seven Territories of the United States will be represented in the next Congress by Democratic delegates.

ENCOURAGE SOUTHERN ENTERPRIZE AND SOUTHERN TALENT. THE TIMES: A Southern Literary and Family Journal, and the only one Published in the

THE TIMES HAS MORE THAN SIXTY REGULAR Contributors, embracing many of the best writers in the Union. Its reading matter is mostly original and precured at great expense—consisting of Original Novelties, History, Biography, Science, Agriculture, Education, Poetry, Foreign and Domestic New and the Markets.

The third volume enlarged and greatly improved, printed on fine white paper and with new copper-faced type, will commence the first week in January, 1858. Now is the best time to subscribe; commence with the the new year. In the first numbers of the new volume will commence two most intensely interesting mog! intenselv interesting PRIZE STORIES, and it will be impossible to supply back numbers after a and it will be impossible to supply cause in all the Southern few weeks.

To the friends of Southern Literature in all the Southern States, we appeal for support. The Times is the only Literary Paper published for the South, and it shall be as good as the best published in the North. You want a good faimly paper, then try the Times one year.

Published weekly at $2,00 per year in advance. Specimen copies sent gratis.

"STEDMAN'S SALEM MAGAZINE," IS TO BE THE TITLE OF A LITERARY PERIODICAL, TO BE PUBLISHED MONTHLY,

TOWN OF SALEM, NORTH-CAROLINA, ANDREW J. STEDMAN, A MEMBER OF THE NORTH-CAROLINA BAR.

IN OFFERING TO THE PUBLIC AT MAGAZINE, I claim for the Editorial Chair no superiority over that department of other like Periodicals; but I do claim for the talent of North-Carolina, and the South generally, that will be brought to its support, Southern patronage. And I also, as a Southern man, and the Editor of a Southern Magazine, the hands of the Southern country, and especially N OFFERING TO THE PUBLIC MY MAGAZINE, I as a Southern man, and the Editor of a Southern Magazine, claim at the han is of the Southern country, and especially of North-Carolina, that sid and support that will here, at home, establish, upon a firm basis, a fountain of Literature, and exclusively a Home Literary Magazine.

Many are the Magazines now published in the Northern States that are flooding the whole Southern c untry. There is not (it is probable.) a county in any Southern State that is not visited by "Harper," "Grabam," "Peterson," or "Godey;" while here, in North-Carolina and the South, where genius unsurpassed and unequaled reigns, the literary talent that is brought into exercise is dedicated to the support of Northern Magazines, while Southern enterprise taste and talent bow in humble submission to such saicidal policy of Southern contributors.

taste and talent bow in humble submission to such saicidal policy of Southern contributors.

Why, I ask, cannot we—North-Carolina, the South—send greeting to our Southern clime, a Maguzine acceptable for the many qualities that adorn the pages of the most chaste, clegant and polite Periodicals? It is true that the South has been Maguzines; but few in number are they, and unknown, compared to the publications of the North, which every mail brings to our homes, filled with the result of hired labor, and teeming with unpardonable sedition.

Then I appeal to North-Carolina and other Southern States to aid me in my enterprise, and in promoting a literary taste amongst those upon whom, as a Southern man, I have claims. have claims.

My Magazine will be of the usual size; and nothing will be admitted to its pages but such articles as will meet the approval of the most fastidique. It shall be Illustrated with Engravings and Plates of the most elegant texture, equaling in beauty and style any executed at the North.

My price of subscription is THREE DOLLARS per year, which is required to be paid in advance, as the expense to be incurred in establishing such a publication will not admit a condit avatem. it of a credit system.

The First Number will be issued 1st lane

Subscriptions requ TERMS OF ADVERTISING hou material

There are at all times a number of Schools of all grade There are at all times a number of Schools of all grades, needing teachers, and of teachers who want situations; and it is not at all uncommon for parties thus situated to advetise their desires and wants in papers not expressly devoted to the cause of Education. If all such, by general consent, would keep standing notices in the Journal, it would be an easy matter for teachers to find out all vacant situations, and for Committees and Trustees to learn the address of all teachers wanting places.

It is, therefore, the desire of the conductors of the Journal to publish a Directory of this kind, and to all who will furnish standing notices of their wants very liberal deductions will be made from the usual advertising rates.
