The Standard.

If the first part of this extraordinary poem by the gifted Haskell is as wild as the cry of a lost spirit, the second is as peaceful and beautiful as a dream of the blest: [From the Louisville Journal.]

The Ransomed.

BY GEN. WM. T. HASKELL, OF MEMPHIS, TENN. Lines suggested by my restoration to health from the recent physical debility and mental distraction.

Note.—Ti ese lines are respectfully and affectionately ded cated to Mrs. Louisa Jane Rice, the amiable and gentie hearted and accomplished matron of the Eastern Kentucky Asylum for the Insane at Lexington, by an attached friend, who will never forget her tenderness and ministering care when the pathway of life was very dark to him. She will reap her reward in the "land of the heareafter."

Lexington Asylum, Nov. 20, 1857.

I'm adrift on life's ocean, and wildly I sweep, Aimless and helmless, its fathomiess deep, The wild winds assail me, it threateningly storms, The wild winds assain me, it indecess forms; The clouds roll around me in hideous forms; I drift to a lee-shore! I strike! I am aground! The mad waters 'whelm me—I drown! oh, I drown! Metey, oh, mercy! oh, Lord, set me free, And take me, oh, take me, to Heaven and Thee.

I wander life's desert, lone, deso'ate, sad, Faint, reeling, and weary—I'm mad! oh, I'm mad! No glad waters greet me, no streams flowing free, I perish! I perish! Oh God! set me free. Ah! hopeless I pray Thee, 'tis idle and vain,
I perish! I perish! Rain—rain—give me rain,
Let the stream of deliverance flow gently to me, And drift me, oh! drift me to Heaven and Thee

'Mid the wranglings of men and their conflicts so fierce, Half mad and despairing, my lips spit a curse, Instead of imploring a Refuge, and Peace, From Life's maddening battle, for Hope and Release, dangers that hem me-the curses I lannched At Earth and at Heaven, Lord! mercy for me, Receive me! receive me! to Heaven and Thee.

But the storm howls no longer, the desert is gone, The battle's fierce strife no more burries me on, The tempests no more lash the ocean's calm breast, And the clouds float in beauty far to the West, I move through Life's bowers full of bliss and of love. Looking fondly to Earth; and with transport above, And an angel soft whispers, "The Lord sets thee free, To come to me! come to me! dwell here with me!"

I thank Thee, oh Lord! that my raving career Was checked by the hand of Omnipotence, here, That struck from its jarred equlibrium the mind Whose balance my madness and folly combined While night's thick'ning darkness encompassed me here, And my sad soul is ransomed, unprisoned and free, I am coming, oh, Lord! I bow gently to Thee.

Joy! joy! Oh! anguish and sorrow no more Shall lead me, its victim, on Life's Crumbling shore, The winds wast me gently, I perish no more, I thirst not, the war of Life's struggle is o'er, Hope beckons me on, with its sweet whispering tale, To walk through, all hopefully, Life's p easant vale, And I come to Thee, Lord! unprisoned and free, And I bless Thee! oh! bless Thee! for mercy to me

Scuppernong Wine .- Jas. J. Alston, Esq, of Til ton county, presented to us a specimen of Scupper nong Wine, pressed by himself from his own vine yard, so that we may communicate to the public the result of his experiment. The wine is two years old, and containes nothing but the pure juice of the grape and refined sugar. It has very much the-flavor of good Madeira, and would sell from four to five dollars a gallon in the market. Mr. Alston informs us this year thirty gallons from the fruit of one vine. We consider the experiment of growing the Scuppernong in this latitude as entirely successful, and we think it certain that the very best wines may be made from it. Mr. Alston's wine is equal to any made from the same variety in North Carolina. It is rich, fruity, and has a most delicious flavor .-

128 92 14 The House of Representatives consists of 284 members-118 members constituting a majority. It will be seen from the above table that the Democrats have a clear majority of twenty two over the combined vote of the Black Republicans and Know-No things. This majority will be increased to twentyfive at an early period of the session by the admissio of the three Democratic members from the new State of Minnesota. It may be added as a most significan fact that six of the seven Territories of the United States will be represented in the next Congress by

John Halifax, Gentleman. At "STEDMAN'S SALEM MAGAZINE,"

IS TO BE THE TITLE OF A

LITERARY PERIODICAL, TO BE PUBLISHED MONTHLY, TOWN OF SALEM, NORTH-CAROLINA ANDREW J. STEDMAN,

A MEMBER OF THE NORTH-CAROLINA BAR. IN OFFERING TO THE PUBLIC MY MAGAZINE, I claim for the Editorial Chair no superiority over that department of other like Periodicals; but I do claim for the talent of North-Carolina, and the South generally, that will be brought to its support, Southern patronage. And I also, as a Southern man, and the Editor of a Southern Magazine, as a Southern man, and the Editor of a Southern Magazine, claim at the han is of the Southern country, and especially of North-Carolina, that aid and support that will here, at home, establish, upon a firm basis, a fountain of Literature, and exclusively a Home Literary Magazine.

Many are the Magazines now published in the Northern States that are flooding the whole Southern e untry. There is not (it is probable.) a county in any Southern State that is not visited by "Harper." "Graham," "Peterson," or "Godey;" while here, in North-Carolina and the South, where genius unsurpassed and unequaled reigns, the literary talent that is brought into exercise is dedicated to the support of Northern Magazines, while Southern enterprise taste and talent bow in humble submission to such suicidal policy of Southern contributors.

taste and talent bow in humble submission to such suicidal policy of Southern contributors.

Why, I ask, cannot we—North-Carolina, the South—send greeting to our Southern clime, a Magazine acceptable for the many qualities that adorn the pages of the most chaste, elegant and polite Periodicals? It is true that the South has her Magazines; but few in number are they, and uuknown, compared to the publications of the North, which every mail brings to our homes, filled with the result of hired labor, and teeming with unpardonable sedition.

Then I appeal to North-Carolina and other Southern States to aid me in my enterprise, and in prometing a literary taste amongst those upon whom, as a Southern man, I have claims. It have claims.

My Magazine will be of the usual size; and nothing will be admitted to its pages but such articles as will meet the approval of the most fastidious. It shall be

Illustrated with Engravings and Plates of the most elegant texture, equaling in beauty and style any executed at the North. My price of subscription is THREE DOLLARS per year, which is required to be paid in advance, as the expense to be incurred in establishing such a publication will not advance in a credit and a credit
