In the Ladies' Home Journal for September there appears an article on "Just What is Wartime Thrift," by Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the War Industries Board.

"Use less of everything," writes Mr. Baruch. "Use what you have LONGER than you have been accustomed to. Use it and RE-use it. Try to find new ways of making old things do. There is a time of great sacrifice ahead of us; the most patriotic woman will be the one who finds happiness in what she does without rather than in what she consumes—and the woman who serves most intelligently, will be the one who is most ingenious in finding new ways to make old things last longer. You must think of everything in terms of man power!"

Our business is Cleaning, Dying, Mending, Pressing. It is a business that is conducive to thrift at all times—and is an "essential" industry now.

With a good conscience, therefore, you can now lay out your old suits, gowns, draperies, whatever there is that needs cleaning and restoring to usefulness, and—let's get it back into shape for you.

Call the wagon.

Mothers! Read the Signs!

If you will learn to give Cascarets, the candy cathartic, to your children, instead of castor oil, calomel and pills, you will save money, and avoid lots of worry, coaxing and sickness. Truly!

When one of the kiddies has a white tongue, a tainted breath, sour stomach or a cold; when bilious, constipated, feverish, remember, a sweet candy Cascaret to quickly "work" away the nasty bile, sour fermentations and poisons should always be the first treatment given.

Children really love to take candy Cascarets and they never gripe the tender bowels, never injure, and never disappoint the worried mother. Give Cascarets to children one year old and upwards. Each 10 cent box contains full directions for children and adults.

WANTED PHYSICIANS and NURSES

At Once to Aid in the Fight in North Carolina Against Influenza

The Situation in This State Is Serious

Many people are dying for lack of attention. Many communities are wholly without physicians and nurses. In many other communities medical and nursing attention is wholly inadequate to meet the need.

To save human life there must be immediate response on part of physicians and nurses who can possibly be spared from their home community for relief work.

Nurses will be paid $5 per day and expenses. In volunteering for this duty use either telegraph or telephone collect and give the following information: age, training school, graduation year, whether registered nurses or licensed in North Carolina, and earliest possible date available for duty.

Physicians will be paid $15 per day and expenses; those answering this call use either telegraph or phone collect and state earliest possible date available for service.

The emergency is so great that it is urged upon both physicians and nurses who volunteer for this duty that they be prepared to respond at once upon receipt of request to report for work.
