Cameron Morrison and Mayor McNinch Plea With Citizens to Buy "Fighting Fourth's."

A regular old-time tally-ho event was celebrated in the central section of the city yesterday afternoon in the interest of the fourth Liberty loan campaign.

Following the entertainment, Mayor McNinch auctioned off bonds from a huge army truck which formed a section of the parade.

section. It was followed by two army trucks in which were seated soldiers from Camp Greene who cried through huge megaphones: "You can't beat the Kaiser if you are a miser."

The band played selections in front of practically every one of the booths at which members of the woman's committee held forth.

The "tally-ho" event was one of the really exciting sessions of the campaign in Charlotte and enthusiasm was rife in the central part of the city during the late afternoon.

OBSERVATIONS

By the Junior Observer.

Compensation.

The book says that compensation is that which is given or received as an equivalent, as for services, debt, want, loss or suffering; amends; requital.

And to those who feel that the "humiliation of the German government at being forced to acknowledge defeat" is sufficient recompense for the wrong she has wrought, I would respectfully refer to the real meaning of compensation.

Emerson in that essay second only to his discussion of the value of relying upon one's self, makes it clear that compensation comes to every one, in one form or another.

And it will come to the German government, and I believe through the decision of the peoples of the entente allies.

It is true that it will be a bitter pill to the leaders of the "present German government," to bow the head in admitting the defeat of their cherished plans.

But will this humiliation pay Belgium and France and Alsace-Lorraine and poor little Serbia and Greece for the wrongs wrought in that plan of world domin-

Will it be sufficient for the German government to admit that she has been whipped in a military sense?

Will it suffice for her to admit that "superior numbers" compelled her to cease the atrocities of which she has been guilty all this time?

Will it be sufficient price to pay for the violated women of France and Belgium?

Will it be high enough to recompense the wives and mothers of Europe for the loss of their menfolk? And this applies to those of Germany and Austria-Hungary as well as to the entente allies.

I think that would be but a small portion of the price the government should be called upon to pay. Just what else should be required to do away well be left to the leaders of those nations which have suffered most at the hands of the heartless Hun.

And that America will back them in any demands for compensation they may make is the belief of those who feel that there is a penalty this must be paid before a decent world can allow the continuing of that which has so long been a menace to its safety and happiness.

PROMINENT LUMBERTON MAN DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Body of Alfred H. McLeod Taken to Home Town For Funeral.

Alfred H. McLeod, aged 44 years, a prominent citizen of Lumberton and brother of former State Senator George B. McLeod, died late Tuesday night at the Charlotte Sanatorium of pneumonia following influenza.

Mr. McLeod had been in bad health for a year or more, suffering with heart trouble. About a week ago he entered the sanatorium. Influenza developed almost immediately on his arrival here, it being thought that he contracted the disease before reaching the city.

Pneumonia quickly followed and it was realized that he could not recover. His wife accompanied him to Charlotte, but was soon taken with the influenza and is ill at the sanatorium.

With Mr. McLeod at the end were his brothers, former State Senator George B. McLeod and A. H. McLeod.

He was born and reared in Lumberton and was a member of one of the prominent families in Robeson county. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. H. McLeod.

Mr. McLeod married Miss Kate Smith, of Stanton, who with six children survive. In faith Mr. McLeod was a Presbyterian.

The remains were taken to Lumberton yesterday morning on an early train. The funeral was held in Lumberton yesterday.

HENDERSON MAN DIES AT FAYETTEVILLE HOTEL

Fayetteville, Oct. 16.—R. H. Ughart, of Henderson, engaged in government work at Camp Bragg, died at a hotel in this city early Tuesday morning.

Mr. Ughart's death was sudden and the cause was not known. He apparently had not been well for a week, but was down in the lobby of the hotel the afternoon before his death.

The body will be shipped to Henderson for burial. The Cumberland Baptist association which was to have convened here today for a two days' session, has been indefinitely postponed on account of the prevailing epidemic of influenza.

It was first announced that a later date for meeting of the body would be given out, but Rev. Joel S. Snyder, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, who is the moderator, announced today that the association had been postponed without date owing to the influenza conditions.

MAJ. JOHN GRAHAM YOUNG DIES AT WINSTON-SALEM

Former Charlotte Man Succumbs to Complication of Diseases. Has Relatives Here.

Special to The Observer. Winston-Salem, Oct. 16.—Major John Graham Young, an honored and highly esteemed citizen, died here at 8 o'clock this morning following a long illness with a complication of diseases.

Major Young has been a resident in this city for many years, though most of his life was spent in Charlotte. He was the oldest son of the late General John A. and Malvina Graham Young.

Major Young was a cadet at Gen. D. H. Hill's military school in Charlotte when he entered the Confederate army at the age of 16 years.

He always took an active interest in all matters pertaining to the welfare of the Confederate veterans.

Major Young is survived by his widow, Mrs. Young; two sons, Wingfield Young, of Chester, S. C., and Lieutenant John Graham Young, Jr., now in France; two daughters, Mrs. Lilla Y. Alexander and Miss Terrell Young, both of this city; one brother, Col. Ernest F. Young, of Louisville, Ky.; and two sisters, Miss Lella Young and Mrs. Henry J. Marsh, both of Charlotte.

The remains of Major Young will be brought to Charlotte tomorrow morning for interment in the family plot in Elmwood cemetery. The family will come by auto, arriving here possibly before the train bearing the remains. The hour of the funeral will be announced later.

The passing of Major Young removes a prominent and familiar figure in Charlotte's social and business life in days gone by.

He was among the most popular men of the city, commanding friends amongst all classes. Major Young went to Winston-Salem to live many years ago.

On his visits home, in the years that passed, he was always received with an affectionate welcome. His love for Charlotte was ever the same, and he was never happier than when "back home," as he expressed it, with the friends of his youth.

Mr. Young was born at Statesville, but his parents moved to Charlotte when he was but a year old, so he was, to all intents and purposes a Charlottean.

HERBARD'S COTTON LEETER.

New York, Oct. 16.—Cables were lower than due this morning and our market opened sharply lower with some scattered southern hedge selling and some speculative pressure from local operators who remain bearish in their views.

of the early decline or being believed to have been for Japanese interests. As yet there is sufficient pressure from the south to supply the rather moderate trade demand, but the southern selling is not as yet large enough to bring about a substantial weakness. The local feeling is that as the congestion increases in the southern markets, this selling must increase in volume, but this remains to be seen.

As yet there has been no evidence of any real weakness on the part of southern holders. HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

It is the strong-blooded men and women who are vigorous and healthy in winter, and who are not inconvenienced by the cold, wet days.
