The approaching general election which will be held Tuesday, Nov. 5th, for State and county officers is attrating very little attention. The registration books for the city wards and county voting precincts are in the hands of the registrars and will remain open for registering voters for the next few days, closing October 26th. It is the duty of every citizen of voting age to see to it that his name is properly registered on the registration book in the precinct in which he votes. Many voters in the city of Charlotte are not on the registration books for State and county purposes. Putting your name on the city registration books avails nothing in State and county elections. Each jurisdiction is entirely separate and apart from the other. Below is appended a list showing the names and addresses of all the registrars in the county of Mecklenburg, including the city of Charlotte:
