Several items of especial interest appeared in these reports. Among these items was the fact that West End. Winston, of which R. D. Sherrill is pastor, had this year raised $44,000 for all purposes. W. A. Newell reported that the Statesville district had paid out in full all assessments of every charge, an entiraly new record. Several items of especial interest every charge, an entirely new record for that district if not for all other districts in the conference.

S. Hunter, of the publishing house Ga., for colored preachers, and the Richmand, Va., and Dr. Eugene conference contributed $1.801.

Presentation of Service Flag. The conference just before adjournment entered into the exercises of unfurling a service flag which carried 99 stars that represented the sons of preachers of the conference who were enlisted in the service of the army and navy. The exercises consisted of a presentation speech by Albert Sherrill, speech of acceptance by the secretary of the conference, singing of the national hymn by the conference, and and some held commissions but all on in the service

In accepting the flag for the con-ference, W. L. Sherrill spoke as fol-

"All honor to the soldier boys, but today we pay special honor to the noble 'sons of the parsonage.' "The ninety and nine stars on this beautiful banner represent the ninety-nine brave lads, reared in parsonage homes, who went forth at the call of the nation to do or to die for freedom. They went from firesides where holy incense burns and where lessons of the Prince of Peace enriched their childhood and youth. Being taught te love peace they were willing to They believed that lawlessness must be overcome, even at the peril of life, so that an abiding peace might come to the world. When they went forth to war the prayers of godly fathers and the baptism of love from noble mothers was fresh in their minds and hearts and remained a constant inspiration and strength through all the dark and perilous days.

SO PRODUCERS THINK

Not Through Lowering of Cost of Labor So Much as by Lower Raw Materials.

Cleveland, Nov. 20 .- Food prices will drop, not through the lowering of the cost of labor so much as by lower markets for raw material. This was agreed upon by some of the largest food producers in America, who are attending the annual convention of the American Specialty Manufacturers' association, opened a two-day session here today. No forecast was made when the lower prices would come, but it was predicted the reduction would follow the purchase of raw material on a lower market after present high price stocks are exhausted.

"Yes," Fox replied and he added: That bears an indication that some one prepared it in the office of our association." "German propaganda," he continued, "was by common consent dis-custed very little with us. I do not know whether that was because I am an Englishman."

Bell 3422 SOUTHERN RED CROSS UNIT IS COMMENDED

Washington, Nov. 20 .- A southern Red Cross unit, assisted by men of the University of Virginia, and 30 Virginia physicians, is commended in a dispatch to Red Cross headquarters here, for its work in caring for American wounded during a recent drive. The hospital was made ready in two weeks with funds partly provided by the Order of Blks, through Fred Harper, of Lynchburg, Va., former grand exalted ruler. When the first detachment of 200 men was sent to the hospital they were cared for by 100 nurses from southern states.
