REVELATIONS OF POLITICAL VILLAINIES.

"Murder will out," so it is said. Deeds done in darkness will always sooner or later find the light...

We have been led into these reflections by reading the following extract from the Yorkville Enquirer, headed "A Startling Revelation"...

Judge Hall, let it be borne in mind, is a Republican, and knows whereof he speaks. He will be to the Republican party of South Carolina, what York was to Pomeroy...

This "Shell in the Radical Camp" will show what a band of infamous scoundrels have had control of poor South Carolina, and how they have robbed, plundered, and ruined her.

THE WILMINGTON, CHARLOTTE AND RUTHERFORD RAILROAD.

The sale of the Wilmington, Charlotte & Rutherford Railroad is a subject of congratulation among all those who are interested in the prosperity of Wilmington, Charlotte and the counties lying along the southern border of our State.

The bondholders who have obtained possession of the road will at once organize for work under the chartered name of the Carolina Central Railway Company.

This determination on the part of the new company will no doubt be carried out with all possible speed. Judge Onderdonk is the moving spirit among the incorporators of the Carolina Central.

Charlotte and Wilmington, as well as Lumberton, Wadesboro, Monroe, Lincoln, Shelby and Rutherford, are deeply interested in this railway. The consummation of the project will contribute vastly towards the development of the resources of our Southern border counties...

The attempt on the part of the Southern Security Company to begin the work of changing the gauge of the old North Carolina Central Railroad between Greensboro and Charlotte, has been promptly checked by injunction...

STATE NEWS.

Asheville pineth because there are no more trees along the sidewalks. The United States Arsenal at Fayetteville will be sold on the 12th of June.

A "ten and a quarter pound" boy baby was the innocent cause for a local item in Raleigh on Wednesday last.

Trent river bridge, near Newbern, was fired on Wednesday night, but fortunately the flames were arrested. It is not known how the fire originated.

The local of the Asheville Citizen has this to say about the late Andrew Jackson Jones: The greatest "figure" he ever cut was in gambling away at a Faro bank...

The associate editor of the Asheville Expositor is a genius. He has recently joined the Good Templars, and says about it: A short breathing spell in the race of dissipation, however, obtained, is better than none at all.

We learn from the Robesonian that an accident occurred at the steam saw mill of the Cape Fear Building Company, at Abbottsburg, on Monday last, by which one of the employees, a Hungarian whose name that paper could not learn, received a very severe injury...

The Washington Express says: Last Sabbath afternoon, while two little girls, aged respectively eight and fourteen years, were out on the suburbs of the town, and near Mr. Buchanan's store, they were attacked by a thing in human shape...

We understand both the little girls are badly injured from being bruised in scuffling with the brute. The farmers have commenced planting cotton. Rock Hill is swarming with ministers. They are attending Presbytery.

SOUTH CAROLINA ITEMS.

The robbers have appeared in Wilmington and Charleston. The Waverley. R. Means Davis, Esq., makes a graceful bow as editor of the Wilmington News.

The compromise ticket was elected in Camden at the recent municipal election, without opposition. The grist mill of Capt. Jas. Douglas, nine miles from Columbia, was burned on Wednesday. Cause of fire unknown.

On Friday night last, or rather Saturday Morning, about 2 o'clock Dr. Geo. Garmany of this town, accidentally fell from the second story back window of the apartment of Dr. J. R. Thomson, and sustained, it is feared, very serious injuries of an internal character.

"Ye Local" of the Rock Hill Lantern is very fastidious under the head of "wanted immediately," he says: A very large fat dog, of a watchful disposition, to guard against robbers; a St. Bernard, of a brindle or black color, with a fierce countenance preferred. Also a bench-legged fice to keep him awake.

A meeting of the citizens of York County was held at the Court House on Monday last, to consider the subject of building the proposed Narrow Gauge Railroad from Chester to Lenoir. H. F. Adickes was appointed Chairman and L. M. Grist Secretary.

Columbia Phoenix: The body composed of the ministers and elders of the Presbyterian Church in Charleston, Beaufort, Colleton, Orangeburg, Richland and Barnwell Counties, of this State, commenced its spring session Wednesday evening in Zion Church, Charleston.

Columbus, says the Sun, has averaged building a cotton factory every year since the war. Another will go up before next January. Stove and iron establishments have been built in proportion. Ploughs enough to supply this section are made here.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OBSERVER.]

By the Southern and Atlantic Line.

Great Storm.

New York, April 12.—The storm of snow and sleet which set in this morning according to telegrams received, extends with equal severity in all directions. In Boston snow fell heavily up to 1 o'clock, p. m., with wind blowing a gale from north-east.

Foreign.

St. Petersburg, April 12.—Official ratification has been received at the State Department here, announcing that the Japanese government has settled the Saghalin boundary question in favor of Russia.

MARKETS.

New York, April 12th.—Money unusually stringent to-day and after opening at 2 per cent advanced to 2 1/2. Governments closed quiet and steady. Southern State Securities were dull. South Carolina January and July at 20. Stock closed dull and feverish.

Railroad Disaster—A Freight Train Wrecked on the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad.

Of the many accidents which have occurred in this country during the past year, South Carolina has with singular good fortune, been remarkably free. Scarcely a life has been lost by any of those fortuitous circumstances, which in other States have cost the people so dearly in life and property.

On Wednesday night the freight train on the W. C. & A. R. R. left for Wilmington at the usual time. The train consisted of six cars; one was loaded with rosin, one with lumber, three with cotton, and one with telegraph material, insulators, acids, wire, etc.

It seems that a farmer in this vicinity had been burning off some land, and during the high winds of the last few days the fire had gotten beyond his control and communicated to the woods, through which it swept to the railroad track, setting on fire a large quantity of wood corded along the track.

The conductor on the freight train saw the smoke some time before the fatal spot was reached, but as he had been running through smoke most of the night thought nothing of it, and the train went thundering on, no one on board dreaming of danger.

The consequence was the entire train was burned, together with all the contents of the cars, and the engine—No. 23—a new one just put on the road, as was noticed a few days since in the Union—is a perfect wreck.

The engineer received a severe cut on the head and had his hands badly burned, and the wood passer, a colored man, had one of his legs broken. All the other hands escaped unhurt.

At first glance it would seem as though this destructive accident might have been avoided with proper care. Yet it may be due to no fault of the engineer. Columbus, says the Sun, has averaged building a cotton factory every year since the war.

Mark Twain is going to Europe on the 17th of May, taking with him the MS of his new volume, which will be published simultaneously in both worlds. It being sometimes insinuated that Mark is not a good business man, he authorizes the New York Tribune to contradict this in the most unreserved manner.

The Radical Press.

Our relations with the Conservative and Religious newspapers have been almost entirely respectful and agreeable. We have sometimes disputed with them boldly, and often discuss measures with them. But as to the low, unprincipled, hired Radical Press of the South, we have never yet condescended to equalize ourselves with it.

A carpet-bagger who would do so has no love for our section and our people, and can only be entitled to our contempt. A scallawag or native, who is hired to join those who abuse and ruin our own people, cannot expect us to deal with him as we would with a gentleman of character and honesty.

It is the misfortune of our afflicted country to be infested with such creatures, but so far as we are concerned, they shall remain in their natural, proper place—objects fit more for silent contempt than notice. We regret that almost the whole Radical Press of the South appear to be of this character.

INJUNCTION.—Yesterday a writ of injunction was sued out by the State authorities, before Judge Watts, at Chambers, in this city, to prevent the management of the N. C. R. R. to alter the gauge of the road between Greensboro and Charlotte.

The change of gauge was designed to make the N. C. Railroad a part and parcel of the Richmond & Danville Railroad in order that freight and passengers might be run through from Richmond without change at Greensboro, thus lopping off the Eastern end of the N. C. Railroad.

MISS NELLIE GRANT.—We think the newspapers might let this young lady alone. She is said to be modest, pretty, and what's better, pretty behaved. The Herald reports her as engaged to Tom Murphy, Jr., and the wedding trousseau purchased in New York on the President's late visit to that city.

MUCH MARRIED.—Few women ever displayed so varied an assortment of characters for the admiration of the public as Lady Ellenborough, who died recently in ancient Damascus. She had nine husbands at various stages of her busy life, and thus gave abundant satisfaction to those who regard marriage as the chief end of woman's existence.

PRECOCIOUS CHILDREN.—Is that your son—that one with the big head, bright eyes and small chest? Ah! and so he's the one that took the first prize at the high school? No doubt you expect great things from him. But let me tell you confidentially that you had better take him out of school and send him to a farm for a couple of years.
