alvation for the South-What may be Accomplished by Intelligent White Labor.

In November last, Major G. W. nderson, of Savannah, settled a parof French immigrants, on the Lebenty-six, men, women and chil en, and the changes wrought by eir labors are almost magical.

What was a wilderness a few years o is now a series of well tilled fields. noming and blossoming under the fluence of the genial spring weath- sion in the Northern money market. In On every side may be seen the our mistakable signs of the thorough riculturist, in delightful compariegro. The fields of corn, cotton Black, Plain, Fancy and Gros Grain re which the horticulturist bestows on his beds, while the fences, roadys, &c., are neat and tidy. Major nderson has sold a number of farm ts to his proteges, and they have tablished a village between the ad and Homestead, which, with ne French spirit, they propose to ll L'Esperance or Hope. It is an eir little colony in a strange land. e are told that they are most in-strious and capable people, and e men work with the characteris-vim and earnestness of the Gallic ce. The women seem to be acmplishedhousewives, and with the market. In another apl 13 ear they will effect a complete metamorphosis at "Lebanon," and more an double the value of their investients, by constant attention and idicious cultivation, besides largely thancing the value of the surroundig property. It is understood that a number of heir friends are expected at some future day. A few homes have been erected by those who arrived in November, and others are now in appear to be comfortable and convenient, quite excelling the ordinary home of the settler.

POSTAL CARDS. - Hon. E. M. Barber, Third Assistant Postmaster General, has just issued the following important regulations concerning the Postal Card system, which will be adopted throughout the county

Prices.-Postal Cards will be sold for one cent each, neither more nor less, whether in large quantities or

Uses.—The object of the Postal Card is to facilitate letter correspondence and provide for the transmission through the mails, at a reduced rate of postage, of short communications, either printed or written in pencil or ink. They may therefore Family use. Information furnished and e used for orders, invitatations, notices, receipts, acknowledgments, price lists, and other requirements of business and social life; and the matter desired to be conveyed may be either or both. In their treatment as mail matter they are to be regarded by Postmasters the same as sealed letters, and not as printed matter,e except that in no case will unclaimed cards be returned to the writers or sent to the Dead Letter Office. If not delivered within sixty (60) days from the time of receipt they will be burned by post-Irregular cards .- An ordinary printed business card may be sent through the mails when prepaid by a onecent postage stamp attached; but such card must contain absolutely no written matter except the addrsss; otherwise it is refused admission into the mails. Counterfeits - All cards different from those herein described, with postage stamps printed or embossed thereon, and purporting to be Unit-ed States Postal Cards, are counterfeits; and the manufacture of such cards, or the attempt to use the same, will subject the offender to a fine of five hundred dollars and im-

Spoiled Cards .- Postmasters will good things to eat are scarce At not, under any circumstances, be permitted to redeem or exchange Postal Cards that may be misdirect-

A London letter says extravagance in dress increases from year to year in dress increases from year to year in the British metropolis. The West End people are making money so fast, that not only must they attire themselves extravagantly, but clothe their servant also in costly attire. It is now no uncommon thing to see strapping flunkeys wearing tippets of very expensive fur when they are out driving. Servant girls must now have their dresses made at a fashionable milliner's; and one having £6 given to her for mourning, bought 26 yards of material for a single dress, and had it made up by a French modiste.
