WORDS FROM THE PULPIT OF TO-DAY.

The newspaper press, if it be not controlled by infidels or atheists, should give the religious as well as the secular news of the country; it should report the religious as well as political sentiments of the day; it should wield its influence for the good, the true, and the beautiful in life. Else, it is false to the cause of Truth and Virtue; untrue to its readers; and a sinner against irself.

upon Christian principles, may be a great engine for good. It may be made a most effectual foe to public vice and open sin. A rich extensive field of labor opens out before it; angels beckon it on to the good work. Then its mission is a high and nobl one; and the Christians of the world will applaud it

One of the greatest evils of the journalism of to-day, is the giving too much prominence to crime .-Every crime that is committed anywhere in the States is published in all its horrid, shocking details, and read by thousands and tens of thousands of people over the whole length and breadth of the land.

This familiarizes the minds of men with crime, and vice, and sin. This truth has been forcibly expressed in these lines:

"Vice is a monster of 50 horrid a mein, That to be hated needs but to be stent But seen too oft, familiar with its face, We pity first, then love, then embrace."

Horrible deeds of blood, and murshould not be treated as heroes .-The false sentimentalism and mock philanthropy that attempts to arouse the sympathy of people for coldblooded murderers-such as Walworth and Stokes, for instance-does harm. This condoning of vice is one of the most alarming signs of the times, especially where the man who commits the crime or sin happens to be rich, or hold some public of-

The sermons preached in the various churches of New York, possess considerable interest as showing the drift of religious sentiment in the North.

There are men in the world now-adays who satisfy their minds concerning such as the truths of religion by means of the imitations of science. Dr. Armiston, of the Collegiate Reformed Dutch Church says: "Scithe future state. All the knowledge Justiceship of the United States. of the world will not teach us how to serve God. We must come to bonds the second Wednesday in August, Him in our humility and in our simple manhood and ask Him to help

The Rev. Dr. McGlynn spoke of charity, and the duties of the rich .-He pointed out the folly of trusting to riches; and showed how insignificant are the things of this world, compared with the treasures of the next. He said :

"If we are fully awake to the nothingness of all things earthly let us not act like children picking shells on the seashore, heedless of the voice of the mighty ocean. It is only by being crucified with Christ that we can hope to ascend with him. Let ed. those who have earthly distinction, who are eminent for their talents or their knowledge, or thir riches, or their honors beware lest the lowly, bathing. A man instantly killed by lightthe stupid, the ignorant, the poor, the despised may rise up in judgment against them and demand their condemnation from the hands of a just Judge on the day of final reckoning. It is most frequently the school of Christ, the school of suffer- known. ing and affliction."

Says the Rev. Dr. Hopper: Satan and his ministers of evil constantly lay the snares of gilded temptation sin wears a mask, passing itself off for virtue, or, at worst, innocent pleasure. How glorious the triumple over these disguised solicitations to sin! Every such victory is a step

Church, referred in the following language to the materialastic tenden cies of the age: "It was said that the tendencies of the age was not in favor of the Christian religion; but he believed that there was more correct Christian thought than there ever day is better, is animated by higher purposes than it ever was, has more honest, praying hearts than it ever had. He did not share in the prognostication that infidelity would sweep away the foundations of religion. He believed that religion was too strong to be considerably undermined, and that its foundations go down much lower than any sapper has ever reached."

Most of the leading pastors of the New York churches abandon their congregations during the summer term. These "leading pastors" are considered noblest among the faithful soldiers of Christ. But they run away from the burning rays of the sun. We always thought that it is the good soldier who sticks to his post in the hottest fire. And besides, That journal which is conducted the devil takes no vacation in the heated terms.

He advocates the establishment of a through railroad connection from Cincinnati to some point in the Georgia system of railroads, through Knoxville, Tenn., and Murphy, N. C.

The approaching election excites little or no interest. Unless the voters "mend their lick," compulsory voting will have to be resorted to .-Every man entitled to a ballot, ought to vote in every election. A man who will not exercise his "inestimable privilege" ought not to be allowed to hold it.

James A. Jackson & Co.—Gentlemen: As you have communicated to the medical profession the recipe of the "Home Bitters," it cannot, therefore be considered as a patent meliciae, no patent having been taken for it. We have examined the formula for making the "Home Bitters." and unhestaingly say the combination is one of rare excellence, all the articles used in its composition are the best of the class to which they belong, being highly Tonic, Stimulant, Stomachic, Carminitive, and slightly Laxative. The mode of preparing them is strictly in accordance with the rules of pharmacy. Having used them in our private practice, we take pleasure in recommending them to all persons desirous of taking Bitters, as being the best Tonic and Stimulant now offered to the public.
