Col. Pat Donan .- This gentleman, the editor of the Lexington, (Mo.) Caucasian, passed through this city yesterday morning on his way to Richmond, Va. He stopped in the city about two hours. Col Donan is described to us as a splendid looking man, about six feet tall, and one who talks pretty much as he writes-in a free, open and rather tearing-down style. He was on his way from the Columbia Fair.

A Handsome Compliment .- The Hillsboro Recorder, a paper whose good words are valuable to us, has the following to say | 134, and Middling 131. A slight reof the OBSERVER. We will be pardoned for duction was perceptible at the close, reproducing the article :

"The Charlotte OBSERVER has changed its style of getting up, and is certainly much improved by the alteration. The paper is not only sprightly in its local columns but is able, reliable, and dignified in its editorial department."

"The Root of All Evil" and How It Got John Hayes Into Trouble.-Yesterstore of Messrs W H H Houston & Co. about $12 in money. Policeman Blackwelder was notified of the matter, and proceeded to look up the case. He was not long in arresting John Hayes, colored, and taking him before Justice W F Davidson. The evidence was conclusive, and in default of $25 bail, the offender was nas, attracted to himself censiderable committed to jail.

The Good Templars .- At a regular meeting of Hesperian Lodge, No. 9, I O G T, held on Thursday night, Nov 13th, the following officers were installed for the ensuing quarter:

R M Crawford, W C T, Bettie White, W V T, G B Hannon, W Chaplain, T W Pratt, W R S, J Rosseler, W F S, J F Butt, W Treasurer, J B Bethune, W M, Julia Franklin, I S, J J Grigg, OS, Rose White, RHS, Mattie Motley, L H S, Emma Eagle, AS, Ella Franklin, DM, J Ritchie Lawrence, P W CT.

Fair Items .- A cluster of cotton grown on the plantation of David Dickson, Esq., the celebrated Georgia planter, has been received and will be exhibited at the Fair.

Quite a number of horses, cattle and sheep, some of them of the best breeds known in the world, arrived yesterday from different directions and others will be here to-morrow.

Capt. Waring and Col. Brown are detained here by business in Court; they propose tution has already received a liberal leaving on Tuesday evening.

COTTON FOR THE WEEK .- Sales during the past week were light, comprising 659 bates. Under more favorable telegrams from leading points, prices gradually improved, and gained on the close of last week from 1 to 1 cents. This brings Low Middling to owing to a decline reported at New DRUNK AND DISORDERLY .- Albert Wallace, a countryman well known in this city, was drunk on the streets yesterday afternoon, and in that contion was disposed to be uproarious. After giving him every opportunity in Cuba for several years. So far as day about noon, Mr Glenn, a clerk in the to get out of their way, the police the State Department is concerned, an exhibition of the farm products, and seized him, and despite his resistmissed his pocket-book which contained ance, carried him off to the guard house. The affair occasioned considerable excitement on Trade Street.

DR. COLUMBUS MILLS .- We learn that this excellent gentleman, the President of the Fair of the Caroliattention at the Columbia Fair, as a virtue of his office as President of our Fair. He was granted the privileges of the judges' stand and a seat in the convention of the members of the Society.

The Press and Our Fair.-We can only find room for a few among the many articles which appear in the columns of our exchanges, in relation to the Fair of the Carolinas .-We give the following. The first is rom the Gainesville (Ga.,) Advertiser: We acknowledge the receipt of a complimentary to the Third Annual Fair of the Carolinas, to be held in Charlotte, beginning on the 25th inst. We are proud to see those noble old States manifesting such an and hope their efforts will not prove abortive, but that it may succeed far beyond their most sanguine expectations. We learn the grounds are large and commodious. Gen. Wade Hampton, of South Carolina, who had always looked to the Carolina, and understandings of the State Description of the ladies of the process of the case accords with desires and understandings of the State Description of the residence of T. W. W. Dewey, and understandings of the State Description. will deliver the annual address. This is a rare opportunity for his old comrades in arms to hear his familiar voice again. Let no one who can go fail to attend.

The Statesville Intelligencer has an article more than a half column in length, which concludes as follows:

We learn that the managers have speed will be the best and most interesting done, and are doing everything that they can to make this "Fair of the Carolinas" a grand success. We roads leading into Charlotte, will issue half tickets. We understand that nothing has been left undone It has been deemed advisable to keep that can add to the attraction of the ors and visitors for their annual Fair visit to Charlotte. So let everybody go who has a few dimes to spend these "panicky times." The Rutherford Record says : We are glad to learn that several Puerto Principe, causing the com- 11 Pipe Crown Fish Gin, Ex Maas gentlemen from McDowell county mander to be reinstated, and order 2 Cases Florio Port, will attend the Fair of the Carolinas, with articles, &c., for exhibition. Superior Court.-There are for trial in the Superior Court which begins to-morrow, 270 cases; 76 cases on the State docket, and 194 cases on the civil docket. There are no capital cases to be tried. Joe Baker, for the murder of Newton Wilfong, colored, will be re-sentenced, his counsel having, after his last conviction, appealed for a new trial, which request was not granted.

STATESVILLE INTELLIGENCER.-We notice a valuable accession to the editorial corps of this paper, in the person of F. H. Pendleton, Esq. Mr. Pendleton is a gentleman of culture and talent, and will add much to the character and ability of the paper. We extend to him the right hand of fellowship, and nope that his connection with the press may be both pleasant and profitable.

THE C. M. I .- A correspondent of the Charleston News and Courier, writing of the Greenville Fair, mentions the presence of Col. J. P. Thomas, having the following to say of him and the Carolina Military Institute : "Among the visitors to the Fair was Col. J. P. Thomas, superintendent'of the Carolina Military Institute. of Charlotte, N. C. The colonel is traveling in the interest of his institution, the curriculum of which embraces mathematical and physical sciences, belles lettres, languages and a commercial ceurse, in addition to the military and physical training people of the Carolinas, will prove of incalculable benefit to the rising generation.
