It is easily applied, saves time and labor, and is from twenty-five to fifty per cent. cheaper than any other preparation now in use. It renders the Leather soft, pliable, water-proof and refreshed. One application cleans oils, blackens and lifts off all foreign matter; then the preparation sinks in, giving it a neat, leathery finish. The first premium was awarded it at the American Institute Fair, New York, 1873, also at the Maryland Institute Fair, Baltimore, 1873.
