We, perhaps, know the workings of the police force as well, if not better, than any other person in the city, and while we may have differed with them and criticized their conduct in some instances-there have been rare occasions when we thought they did not perform their whole duty-we think that, all in all, eight better men for the places could not well be found in the city, and we re iterate the hope that the new Board will re-

Candidates Treating. Our people have seen a good deal of the beauties, within the past few days, of successful candidates for office "treating" their supporters; and it is to be hoped that no more of it will be seen in this place. There are other ways in which these gentlemen can show their gratitude besides rolling out their pop-skall whiskey and making beasts of the men who elevated them to office. The law, recognizing the danger of putting liquor in the way of men who are heated by the excitement of an election, wisely provides for the closing, up. of bar-rooms on the day when these elections are held; and it is rather strange that men who have just been put in positions to execute the law, should, just before they have taken the path of office, take means to Schenck delegation from Shelby Township.

The proceedings in this city on Monday night were disgraceful. Crowds of both negroes and whites, made drunk on election whiskey, filled the streets and made night hideous by their fiendish yells, and by their blasphemy and fighting. Life was barely safe, and knock-downs were of momentary occurrence. Sticks and knives were flour-ished about promiscuously, and no one who was on the street knew at what moment one of these would descend upon his devoted

Mr. EDITOR: As you have requested me to write you and the cacathes scribendi of Juve Saturday, May 3d, at Shelby Court House.

A little discord was apprehended two weeks ago, as there was then a dissension-"split" among the Hoke, Shipp and Schenck delegates from Shelby Township No. 6. This township proved to be an apple of discord in the county convention; some of the delegates seemed to have forgotten the trite and truthful aphorismunited we stand, divided we fall."

as Chairman, with A. Mauney as Secretary, at first progressed harmoniously, without the least strife The delegates were called in order and all except from Shelby Township No. 6, took their seats in convention. As two sets of delegates from Shelby Township claimed their seats, a committee of ten men, one from each represented, was appointed to investigate their antagonistic claims and report to the convention after one hour's deliberation. The convention then took an hour's recess and afterwards re-assembled promptly at one o'clock, p. m. when the committee reported in favor of the Schenck delegation from No. 6 Township. This report was unanimously adopted, and the Schenck delegation took their seats. A compromise was offered by the rejected Hoke and Shipp delegation, who wished one hal the delegates from Shelby Township No. 6. Dr Miller advocated a compromise on fair terms and deprecated strife and dissension which may lead to Democratic defeat.

Then a compromise was offered by the allowing the other faction four delegates and the Schenck delegation six, although the Hoke and Shipp delegation had been refused seats. The latter would accept this on one condition only—that the convention bind itself to give them the same (Hoke and Shipp) representation in the District Convention at Lincolnten.

It is regretted by all true Conservatives that a division has been made, and discord arisen in Cleaveland, which has ever so nobly and victoriously rallied under the Democratic banver.
