B Koopman, Esq, will begin business in this city again in a short time. The recent rain seems to have been gen-easl in this section. The farmers are rejoicing in consequence of it. . The "Blind Man Eloquent" preaches this morning and evening at Tryon Street M E Church, South, And the Ministry

The negro boy who fell out of the second stery window of a house on Tryon street, Friday night, was in good condition yesterday. He was not much hurt.

Charles Fisher son of M and Elizabeth Henshaw, of this city, died yesterday morning. He was four years and six months old. Fruit of all sorts is very scarce in our market at present. Strawberries, and indeed everything else in the fruit line, command a good price here now.

Recovered It.—Several months ago splendid diamond ring and other articles were stolen from the residence of R I Mc-Dowell, Esq. of this city. The police have been on the look out for the ring for sometime past, and an evening or two ago Capt W B Taylor, of the force, took it from a negro girl who was attending the festival over the ball alley. The girl said she got it from a servant in Mr McDowell's family.

Pawed by a Horse.—Our young friend Robert S Young, son of Mrs Sarah V Young of this city, met with an accident yesterday at the picnic. While showing off the accontplishments of a favorite horse, the animal made a plunge at hint and pawed him considerably on one of his legs, tearing some of the flesh off, and lacerating the limb considerably. Dr Jo Graham gave the necessary medical attention.

Mayer's Court .- A party of gentlemen whose names we withhold by request, were before His Honor the Mayor yesterday morning on a charge of disorderly conduct. They submitted their cases and the Mayor fined them $12.50 each.

Mr Roediger's saloon was reported as a disorderly house. A fine of $20 was imposed, and this closed the morning's entertain-

Deaths,-Mr Champion, who has been for some time past in the cancer hospital in this city, died yesterday.

There have been more deaths in Charlotte in the past ten days than there had been in a month before: and it is due our city to say that no one has died here in the past month of a disease contracted here. All of and most of them were of a chronic charac-Crystal Fountain .- A beautiful crystal fountain is now on exhibition at the parlor of the Central Hotel. The fountain is an elegant ornament, combining as a decoration taste, elegance and cheapness. It is formed of glass tubes through which are forced water and air globules. One of these fountains should be in every parlor and every other room worth being made attractive. Mr David Magee is exhibiting this fountain, and proposes to sell State and county rights. He is prepared also to fill orders for the fountains.

Country Editors.-These ink-slingers wander into our metropolis right frequently, and, getting here, they ere so struck with the grandeur and glory of a city that they in-1 a 1.00 stantly become wild. One of the tribe has been here recently, and his conduct has been just such as was to have been expected. The Lord knows we have wept over the sins of these brethren and have sought to turn them from the ways of iniquity, but they steadily reject our counsel and despise our reproof. It just seems to us like they are wholly given over.

Death of a Printer's Wife. - The wife of Edgar Newsom, foreman of the Southern Home, died in this city on Friday evening, as was announced in these columns yesterday. The funeral services took place from the residence yesterday afternoon. The printers of the city turned out in force to do honor to the occasion. We all sympathize with Mr Newsom in the loss which he sus tained in the death of his estimable wife.

At the funeral and burial, Rev N Aldrich officiated, and read the beautiful burial service of the Lutheran Church. Personal.-We had a pleasant call yesterday morning from Capt R T Fulghum, the talented editor of the State Agricultura Journal, of Raleigh. He was on his return from the Cotton States Agricultural Congress which has been in session at Atlanta.

Gen D H Hill, who has been attendance upon the session of this body, returned home yesterday. Several of the North Carolinians who went as delegates to the Congress, passed through our city yesterday on their way home. The Episcopal Piculc. -The annual pic nic of the scholars of St. Peter's (E.) Church of this city, took place at Parks' pond yes terday. The crowd in attendance was large and a real old fashioned "good time" was had. Those beautiful Episcopal girls were nearly all there, and the cadets were there too, of course. The crowd in attendance would have been larger than it was, but the rain in the early part of the morning, created misgivings in and acknowledging no affiliation with any the minds of many as to the picnic being party.

"What a Blind Man Saw in Paris "-Rev W H Milburn lectured to about twentyfive people at the Court House last eyening above subject. The lecture of last evening was better, if possible, than the one the one of the night before. Small as the crowd was we are glad to be able to say it was an appreciative crowd. Those present listened with delight to Mr Milburn, and gathered both pleasure and information from his lecture.

We commend him to the citizens of whatever place he may visit.

A Question,-The Asheville Citizen, with its accustomed gravity, propounds this momentous question: "Because a man chooses to make a beast of himself, and get drunk, has he any right to intrude himself upon a whole community and annoy it?" After a careful and prayerful consideration of this subject, we have come to the conclusion that he has not. If there are any other conundrums which you would like to have answered, brother Furman, just trot 'em out.

Davidson College.-We are in receipt of the catalogue of Davidson College for 1873'74. From it we see that there are nineteen students in the graduating class of that, institution this year The thirty-seventh year of this college will end on the 25th inst.

The catalogue bears the imprint of our most excellent friend, J J Bruner, Esq, of the Salisbury Watchman, and is, of course, well executed.

"Thar Now!—We understand that Joe Caldwell, of the Charlotte Observer, was in our city last Sunday. He did not call, and we were therefore deprived of the pleasure of seeing him. If he said anything of the Fair or the Ice-works, it has not been reported to us."—Salisbury Watchman

We are sorry, brother Stewart, that we couldn't get to see you, but our business in Salisbury was to get some ideas about a public well and the proper way to manage a market house, and these absorbed all of our time while in "Hay Market." Thar now.

Lectures.-Verily, the people of Charlotte are appreciative people. A gentleman who has drawn jammed houses in London, Paris, New York, Philadelphia and other of the large cities of the world, comes here and has a crowd of about forty people to hear him. Not a great while ago one of the finest theatrical troupes travelling, visited this city after a week's advertising, and played Wilkie Collins' "New Magdalen" in a hall him. Not a great while ago one of the fin-about one-third filled. A circus or a crowd of so-called "negro minstrels" can always rely on a big crowd in Charlotte, but any lecture or play which has any real merit about it is likely to get a cold shoulder here. Lecturers and travelling companies are beginning to understand this fact, too; hence the absence of sensible entertainments in Charlotte.

Lincoln County .- A friend in Lincoln ton furnishes us the following news under date of yesterday, the 6th, when the County Conservative Nominating Convention was held. These nominations were made: For the Senate (Lincoln and Catawba)

The convention was perfectly harmonious and the ticket is bound to win. A Woman Shot by Her Loyer. Our Shelby correspondent, Tic Toodles,

"War and love are fierce compeers, War sheds blood But love sheds tears." The above is usually true, but this week's tragedy in Cleaveland county proves that love sheds both blood and tears. An amorous youth aged 15 years, named Williams, son of Miller Williams, shot in the side on Monday, Miss McCullough, one half mile from Whitaker's Station, Air Line Railroad. The wound was inflicted by a gun, loaded with buck shot. The physician says if the shot had penetrated two inches lower in the side, it would have proved fatal; she is recovering. Young Williams was brought here yesterday and is now in Shelby

The two had a love quarrel on the day previous, about a photograph and another young man. She then returned his photograph to him, thereby indicating that she wanted neither his shadow nor himself. This provoked his wrath and his jealousy-"the green-eyed monster,"-as recent developments evinced that she loved another better than this beardless, gay Lothairo. Miss McCullough is about eighteen years old, and has a fascinating face; she is of humble origin. She forsook him when she found a mor congenial lover; this perhaps prompted him to shoot her with his gun, when she was leaving the house. He asserts that the gun was accidentally discharged, while it lay in his lap. The ball hit a tree and glancing at an acute angle hit his sweetheart. Respectfully,
