THE PUBLIC!

As eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, so is continued vigilance, honest, fair and upright dealing necessary to success in business. Having from the outset (18 years ago), appreciated these facis, and acted upon them, we find ourselves to-day rewarded for the countless anxieties, vexations, and the loss of hours of rest by seeing our long therished hopes realized, of making Charlotte a Resolution of Thanks. Pursuant to a published call, a large portion of the citizens of Charlotte, who went on the recent excursion to Wilmington, assembled at the law office of Capt J C Mills when Col J Y Bryce was called to the Chair and Col Chas R Jones was requested to act

The Chairman explained the object of the meeting, and upon motion Col Chas R Jones, Capt J C Mills and Major J G Harris were appointed a committee to draft suitable resolutions. In a short time the committee reported the following preamble and resolutions, which were unanimously adopt.

WHEREAS, The citizens of Charlotte, who went on the excursion to Wilmington, feel it to be their agreeable duty to express their appreciation of the courtesy and kindness so liberally extended to them by Mr W H H Resolved, That we most highly appreciate the genial affability and untiring efforts on the part of Mr Gregory to afford us all the pleasure that his limited time and restricted privileges of invitation allowed him to exercise.

Resolved, That to his sparkling wit, vivacious manners and genial good humor we are much indebted for our enjoyment on that occasion; and that we do hereby ten-Resolved, That the cordial good will and enerous welcome of the hospitable city of Wilmington could not have been of ered to us by any better exponent than Mr W H H Gregory, whose success in promoting a community of friendship and of interest between

The bride had a stylish reception from five to six, the ceremony not being performed unchurch door. The ushers cleared the aisles and took their respective positions, right and left .-The ushers and groomsmen were in full dress, and wore button-hole boquets. The groomsmen marched up the wide and spascious aisle and stood right and left, facing the minister. Then came the "glove holders," Miss A. Thompson, from Baltimore county, Maryland, and J. M. Hobson, Esq, of Petersburg. Miss Alice Thompson wore a very light blue silk, made in Paris, hair powdered, ornament of cape jessamine and silver jewelry. The bride, leaning on the arm of the groom, followed the glove holders. She wore a light pearl silk, trimmed elaborately in shince puffings, and heavy fringe. A veil of unlimited width and length, looped up gracefully with cape jessamine, jewelry of pale Amethyst and a boquet iu her hand. The number of pews reserved for the guests were well filled, and never was there a more charming spectacle presen ted at Grace Church than on this occasion. The fair dam sels were looking their sweet est in all the glory of their evening costumes. Miss Etta Bendall, from Eussex county, Va, wore a blue silk, trimmed in gray, hair powdered and ruby jewelry. Miss Mary Camp, from Petersburg, wore an evening dress of pale green, emerald jewelry, hair powdered; her only ornament a Cluster diamond, of immense size, fastened on black velvet. Miss Bettie Camp wore an evening dress of buff, light blue trimming, coral jewelry, hair powdered, and her coronet studded with diamonds. Miss C. The dust of almost impalpable fineness, was blown in clouds, almost at times obscuring the sight across the street, facing our sanctum, hanging in clouds over our town, and penetrating every nook and cranny of every habitation, and office thereof. Doubtless dry goods were the worse for wear, whether shelved in our mercantile houses, or those worn and enveloping our feminicity, whom the fitful gusts of wind came near making unwilling aerial ascensionists. "But every rose has its thorn-every sweet its bitter," and what was for a while a very disagreeable and temporary inconvenience, was but the fore-runner, thanks, to an all wise providence, of a very refreshing, and reviving rain, of which our thirsty earth and parched vegetation was in great need.
