EXP ANATION OF THE Scheme And Rates.

IN THIS VERY POPULAR SCHEME, purchasers choose their own numbers, and they are decided by the drawn ballots of any Combination Lottery. All drawn numbers are equal in the Supplementary, no differ-ence in what order they come.

Purchasers can select a 4 Number ticket, Also, a 3 number ticket.

Also, a 2 number ticket. Also, a single number ticket.

Choose their own numbers, and at whatever price they see proper to pay for their tickets. The Prizes are paid accordingly. To elucidate the matter—supporting a 12 ballot number in the Combination Lottery is to be drawn—any person can go to a vendor's office and select for example, a four number ticket at one dollar, in any class choosing I is own numbers, and the vendor will give him a certificate of them. The vendor will enter the same numbers upon the Manager's Register—and purchasers will be careful to see them entered upon the Register, as the Managers are responsible for that only. If, after the drawing takes place, the purchaser's four numbers are drawn in that class (no difference in what order they may have come,) he would receive for his one dollar, $200—if three of the numbers only were drawn, $15.

If he purchase a three number ticket, say at one dollar, in the same ballot, and the would receive $120. If two of the numbers only were drawn he would receive $2. If he purchase a two number ticket, say for one dollar, and the two numbers should be drawn, he wend receive $16. If he purchase a single number ticket, and the number be drawn he would receive $16. If he purchase a single number ticket, and the number be drawn he would receive $16. If he purchase

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

The Observer is the only paper pubished in the State West of Raleigh which gives the latest telegraphic dispatches every morning. Business men will please make a note of this.

"Free from that venality which corrupts the conscience or that pity which corrupts justice."

The Hurke County Marriage. Here is the account which the Piedmont Press gives of the marriage in Morganton last Saturday between the couple from Brindletown. We are surprised that Avery should attempt to shirk out of the part which he took in the matter and throw the care of the baby upon the Republican candidate for Sheriff:

"One John Rich, who it is said can not count five, took a notion he would marry one Sarah Denton rather than pay a bill of cost. Half of Brindletown came down to Morganton with him Saturday last. His first inquiry was for the candidates. Enough of them were found to make up a purse and pay for the license. The wedding was then set for 12 M., and the services of Esq. W A. Ross engaged for the occasion. The bell was rung, and more than a hundred people as-sembled in the court house. The bride ex-pectant signified her desire that the wedding hould be conducted after the English style. (Had been reading the Raleigh and Charlotte papers.) The first to enter was the "Squire," leaning upon the arm of the nominee for Superior Court Clerk. Next, the bridegroom. eaning upon the arm of the independent e for S C c, and next, the bride, on the arm of the Republican candidate for 8 C C, and last, the baby, (forgot to state there was one) in the arms of the Republican candidate for Sheriff. "The Squire reached the Judge's seat amid the rapturous applause of the assembled mul-titude, and between the shrieks of the baby the twain were made one."

Prof. Hutson is to cure the most aggravated case. Poison from bees, horners, spider bites, etc., is inhis age in the South. The Charleston News

The classical department of the Carolina Military Institute has been placed under the charge of Professor C Woodward Hutson, late of the University of Louisiana. Mr. Hutson has been for several years absent from South Carolina, but has not been forgotten either by his old comrades of the Hampton Legion and Beaufort Artillery, or his fellow students of the South Carolina College. Professor Hutson's high natural abilities and scholarly bent have been dillgently cultivated, both by private study and practical experience as a teacher, while his soldierly qualities have been tested upon more than one battle field. In carrying out his purpose of uniting in his military institution a sound military training with a broad course of liberal studies, Col Thomas will have an able and earnest co-operator in Mr. Hutson. and Courier says: Maisle A.
