

THE SCHOOLS. We desire to direct the attention of the public to the schools now established in this city. First, we will speak of the Central School, which is the largest and best equipped of the other schools. We will speak in subsequent issues.

INDISCREET ACTION. Indiscreet action on the part of our party may lose us all the fruits of our victory. Undue exultation over a fallen enemy is calculated to intensify his hatred, and prevent him from renewed efforts to regain what he has lost.

LET US ADOPT THE OLD ROMAN POLICY. Let us adopt the old Roman policy—conciliation toward the conquered. Then the victors are victors indeed, and the conquered come in course of time to swell the ranks and follow the banners of the conquerors.

THE SCHOOLS. The schools are the great centers of our civilization. It is fully up to the modern standard of civilization for institutions of this grade and character. There is no old-fashioned about it; no mad clinging to the effete languages of the past; no slavish imitation of Greek and Latin.
