> Difficulty. Between 8 and 9 o'clock last night a difficulty occurred between Harry Lyons and Squire Harris, both colored, over the ownership of a watch. The watch was of about the same age as Methuselah, and of the old English "Bull Eye" pattern. Not being able to adjust the questions at issue amicably. Lyon jerked the watch out of Harris band, and throwing it at his an tagonist, cut an ugly gash, about the size and shape of a half moon in Harris' left Temple a The wounded man was taken to the office of Dr. Hagins where such medical attention was administered as he seemed most to need. At last accounts Harris was thought to be in a very critical condition, though his life was not dispeired of. The glass crystal of the watch it is said crashed. through the skall and if any of it semained in the brain death is certain. So much for quarreling about an old watch worth a dolar and fifty cents.
