INTELLIGENCE.

Personal.
Hon. J. B. White returned home yesterday morning after an absence of about two weeks during which time he has been in New York City at Senator Springs, West Point, and other places. He is looking well.

CITY BULLETIN.

Yesterday was another pleasant day. Again yesterday, the Mayor's Court was in session.

There was a report that the matter between Messrs. B. and T. was near a peace that passed understanding, prevailed all over the city yesterday.

The negro who was hit in the head with a rock one night last week, is on the road to a speedy recovery.

The clouds didn't give the "pale orb" (as country people call it) more than half a showing last night.

Two hundred and sixty-four bales of cotton were handled by the cotton weighers yesterday. 191 bales were shipped.

Freights are increasing; the merchants are beginning to receive their Fall and Winter goods.

The assessors of city property, Messrs. H. G. Springs, J. R. Irwin, J. H. Henderson and R. F. Davidson, were out on the rounds again yesterday afternoon.

Mr. B. J. Shannonhouse, a veteran granger of the Sugar Creek neighborhood, will accept our thanks for a basket of truly delicious peaches.

We learn of the death of the 21st inst., at Davidson College, of John Kennon, son of Prof. W. G. Richardson, aged 3 months and 8 days.

There is much chicken stealing going on at present, and it behooves the offspring of that domestic bird commonly denominated the hen, and even the hen herself, and also the gilt rooster, to be on their guard.

We acknowledge an invitation to attend a musical entertainment at the Charlotte Institute for Young Ladies, this evening. If, in our multiplicity of duties, we can find time to do so, we will be pleased to attend.

We can all see, these evenings, the utility of having street sprinklers in our midst. Instead of the clouds of dust in the streets about sundown as before, the atmosphere is now pure and clear, and the temperature pleasant.

An advertisement in another column announces that Mrs. J. A. Stoney, will re-open her boarding house on the first proximo. She is said to keep a good house and we bespeak for her a liberal share of patronage.

Fast Work.

Mr. T. M. Harkey, of this city, is a glazier worth talking about. Yesterday morning, he put 244 window panes in the new flooring mill of Capt. R. D. Graham, in four hours. This, we think unusually rapid work, and we ask who can beat it? If anybody does, Mr. Harkey will try again.

Qualified.

A letter from Lincoln, yesterday, informs us that Hon. David Schenck, has qualified as judge of this judicial district, and asks us to notify the bar of the fact. Judge Logan has "hung his harp on a willow tree," and will retire to the mountain fastnesses of his Rutherford home, satisfied that it is not gold that glitters.

To Write for the Raleigh Sentinel.

The following item, which we clip from the Hillsboro Recorder, is self-explanatory: "Mr. Johnstone Jones of the Charlotte Observer is at present on a visit to Hillsboro. Mr. J. W. Hill will aid for the present with his facile pen the columns of the Sentinel. Mr. Turner being absent to carry out his purpose to speak in various parts of the State."

Important to Postmasters.

The Washington Chronicle says: "Postmasters are notified under the new postal law it is not lawful to deposit in a post-office, to be sent by mail, any letter or circulars containing so-called gift certificates or other similar enterprises of offering prizes of any kind on any pretext. Such matter should be immediately forwarded to the dead letter office; and at the same time, but separate from the package, a letter should be sent to the Third Assistant Postmaster General advising him of the transmission."

Evidences of Improvement.

Notwithstanding the new stores built this season, we understand that there is a demand for still more business houses. We learn of several parties who will embark in business here shortly, if suitable places of business can be procured. We hear further of professional gentlemen who are looking to Charlotte as a place to settle, and already have several cotton buyers from abroad, come in to establish the trade to open.

How to Make Good Cider.

The cider made by one of our county men, is famed for its excellence, and yesterday he told us how he makes it. After making the cider out of good ripe apples, let it stand about three days, then filter it through three thicknesses of flannel, for the purpose of keeping out sediment; then add about three pounds of sugar to the gallon, and set away in a cool place, corked tight.

Longfellow the poet, eats raw beef, chopped fine, and seasoned with salt, pepper and tinsler.

We print this for the benefit of a number of frail looking young men, who are spending their post-graduate studies, under the basket to be continually full.

Old John Robinson Coming.

Mr. F. H. Bailey, the advance agent of Old John Robinson's Great Circus and Menagerie, who is in Charlotte yesterday, informs us that Old John, the prince of showmen, is heading this way, and will give exhibitions in Charlotte on the 15th of October, unless some of his plans miscarry. We are glad Old John is coming, and there are many others who are glad. Everybody goes to Robinson's Circus, young and old, good and bad, and everybody sees something worth seeing. Hurrah for Old John!

Suspicious Characters.

There were some uneasiness among passengers on the Richmond and Danville, and North Carolina Railroads on Tuesday night. When the Richmond and Danville train left Richmond Tuesday afternoon, some of the passengers were close to them in the car and who feigned sleep, reported to the conductor having heard conversation between the men which induced the belief on his part that their object was to rob the express car. In consequence the chief of police at Danville was telegraphed to put a force on the train, and on the arrival of the cars at that place, a number of policemen got aboard and came on to Greensboro.

Rocking a Train.

On Tuesday evening, while the mail train on the Atlantic Tennessee and Ohio Railroad, was near Huntersville, on its way to Statesville, some scoundrel threw a rock at it. The rock struck and broke out a pane in a window of the ladies' coach, but fortunately, the blind had been lowered, and the rock did not enter the coach. We say fortunately, because a young lady of this city was sitting on the other side of the aisle, in a direct line with the window which was struck.

A Noted Character.

Col. J. F. Trumper, of Little Rock, Ark., arrived in Charlotte yesterday morning and registered at the Central Hotel. Persons who have been reading the New York papers (particularly the Sun), recently, know something of his adventures in that city. He told his story to a few persons in the office of the Central last night, setting forth that about two weeks ago an attempt was made by a man named Clark to throw him from a ferry boat while crossing the river at New York. He tells of a further attempt upon his life, and how in drawing a knife to defend himself he cut one of his fingers off, and nearly severed another from his hand. He has the hand bound up, and produces the knife (an "Arkansas tooth-pick") with which he cut himself.

Our Schools.

In little more than a month, all the schools of the city will be open again. It behooves parents and guardians who have children and wards to educate, to cast about them to find to what school they can send these with most advantage to the pupils and to themselves. Not only is it important that they be brought under good moral and religious influences; and a school which combines both, is one often sought after than found.

The New Issue One Dollar Notes.

The new issue of one dollar United States Treasury notes has made its appearance. While the general style of the new and the old one dollar notes is the same on the face, the backs are entirely different. On the face of the new note is the same central medallion head of Washington, and left hand corner vignette of Columbus discovering America, as well as the same right-hand upper corner lath work denominational vignette. There is no green tint on the face of the new note, as in the case with the old issue. The differences of engraving on the face of the new note are simply in the borders for numbers and in the red treasury seal. This latter is now smaller, and placed between the Washington and Columbus vignettes. In place of the large seal on the old note is a red border and lath work over the block letters forming the words "one dollar." The back of the new note is green, of course; but of a new, elaborate and intricate design of geometrical lath work, with a St. Andrew's cross in the center bearing the words "United States of America."

Tom Thumb Outdone.

We saw an unusual and interesting object yesterday at the grocery store of Mr. James Platt, opposite the Presbyterian Church. The object in question was a niece of Mrs. Platt, a girl nearly seventeen years of age and only 37 inches in height. She is a daughter of Mrs. Platt's brother; her home is in Philadelphia and she is here with her mother on a visit. The name of the child is Sarah Ann Hirst. She was born in Rhode Island and will be seventeen years of age next February. She is perfectly formed, and looks like an unusually well developed child of 7 years. The only defect about her is an impediment in her speech; she talks, but her words are imperfectly uttered and can hardly be understood by one not well acquainted with her.

Inviting Purge.

A belief that violent purgation is the surest remedy for every human ailment prevalent to a lamentable extent, among classes of the community, it might be thought that the jaundiced, the debilitated, the depressed, would know instinctively that their systems need toning, invigorating and regulating with some wholesome stimulant and alternative, and that a fierce cathartic is as unsuited to their condition as a strong dose of active poison would be to a man already laboring under the effects of some deleterious drug. In all cases of physical weakness, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters should be promptly resorted to by the invalid. The operation of this insinuating vegetable compound is threefold. It first cleanses and informs the depressed nervous system, while at the same time it regulates the digestive and secretory organs, and keeps the bowels free. It then acts as a tonic, and restores the system to its normal condition, and under the system incapable of contending with it. On the
