CITY INTELLIGENCE.
The Observer is the only paper published in the State West of Raleigh, which gives the latest telegraphic dispatches every morning. Business men will please make a note of this.
"Free from that venality which corrupts the conscience or that plying which corrupts justice."
A Strong Bond.
We suppose that no other in Mecklenburg county since its formation ever gave so strong a bond as that given yesterday by our excellent County Treasurer, Capt. S. E. Belk. The name of anyone of these gentlemen, his bondsmen is a tower of strength in the financial world.
The Candy Man.
Has left us for a season, and it will be two or three weeks ere his sorrowful customers begin again his silver voice as he offers to give away his $20 gold check, trade dollars, silver halves and quarters, all to advertise his celebrated cough candy. A lingering hope is cherished that his brief absence will have the effect to loosen, to some extent, the stringency in money matters.

Changes in the First National Bank.
Mr D W Oates, formerly teller in the First National Bank, has resigned that position, to enter the cotton and commission business. He is succeeded as teller by Mr John F Orr, who is promoted. Mr Arch'd Graham becomes book-keeper.
What Makes Us Mad.
We don't mind having our locals stolen, without credit. We have become so accustomed to it, that we now feel complimented by it. But it makes us mad when paper A steals locals from us, that paper B should copy them from paper A, and give us credit for them to compliment A's local editor. That's what makes us red hot. And now we stationery men, all amused some newspaper rooster steals this.

A Public Need.
The following is from the Democrat. We heartily endorse it, and hope our neighbor's suggestion will be acted upon: "If some one would open an Intelligence Office in Charlotte, it would not only pay the keeper, but be a great convenience to persons wanting servants. Let a record be kept of the names of those wanting to hire, or be hired, servants—men, women, boys and girls—and let the keeper of the record make the bargain between the parties, and receive a fee for his services. The holders would be especially benefited, for they would then be in a position to choose homes from the several persons wanting servants."
Mr. Chas. F. Harrison is the man for the place, if he would undertake it.

CITY BULLETIN.
Mr. Harry is at work now freeing the ceiling of the First National Bank.
September will be but a handsome weather, if we're to have nothing but August heat.
For the first Monday morning in many weeks, the Mayor's Court yesterday was without a case.
Yesterday was rather dull in business circles. The season's backward and Fall trade has not yet begun.
Yesterday didn't feel so much like the days of the "ear and follow leaf," as the name of the month would indicate.
We are glad to observe that the unrightly signs pointed out on the side of the Central Hotel have at last been obliterated.
The best of August was almost featureless. The sun poured down his rays from an unclouded sky, and scarcely a breath of air stirred.
To-day is what is known as the Nativity of the Virgin Mary. In Catholic countries it is celebrated by processions, matins, masses, &c.

In addition to those referred to two or three weeks ago, another cotton firm (this a New York firm) will be represented in Charlotte this season.
The old schedule of the Statesville Railroad went into effect again yesterday, the train arriving in Charlotte at 10 A. M., and leaving at 3 P. M.
Mr Carper's little son who was kicked by a mule last Friday evening is much improved. He was able to be well yesterday and it is hoped, will soon be well.

The prospects of the C M I are very bright. Already there is a certainty that the next session will open with 138 pupils, and applications have been received for others.
The steeples of the Lutheran Church is being painted and otherwise improved. We mention this to commend Mr G J Gressow, who, alone bears all the expenses of the work.
The heat hath caused the mosquito to regain his health and spirits, and he smote us last night from the setting of the sun even unto and after the hour when church yards yawn and graves give up their dead.

There will soon be an excellent brick pavement from the Court House to the store lately vacated by Sample & Alexander, on Trade Street. This is a great improvement on the uneven rocks which formerly covered the sidewalk, which for the name of the time was called a pavement.
The camp meeting near this city, is still progressing and with unflagging interest. The religious enthusiasm is said to be intense. The services are participated in by immense crowds of colored people. Many white persons from the city drove out on Sunday afternoon to witness the performances.

Advertise.
As the fall season approaches, our merchants look forward to an increase in their trade. To secure this, all of them should advertise, and let their customers and the public generally know where they are and what they have to sell. A few merchants may have succeeded in business from local circumstances, without the aid of printer's ink, but ninety-nine out of every one hundred of our most successful merchants, owe their fortunes in a great measure, to the publicity given their business through the newspapers.
The House Numberers.
The men who have been going from house to house recently, putting numbers on them and then exacting 25 cents from the occupants, saying that they had been authorized by the city to do so, were arraigned before the mayor yesterday. That functionary ordered them to suspend their operations, and very properly so. We understand that they have already made about $50 by their operations in the house numbering line. Could they not be made to disgorge or be indicted for obtaining money under false pretences?

North Carolina Manual.
We have neglected to tender our thanks to Hon. Wm. H. Howerton, Secretary of State, for a copy of this work, which has recently been issued from the press. It comprises the Constitution of the United States, and of the State of North Carolina; a map showing the counties and the Congressional Districts; a calendar of chronological events, with lists and tables for reference. The Manual was compiled by John H. Wheeler, under the direction of Wm. H. Howerton, Secretary of State, by authority of the General Assembly. It is a valuable work.
The Churches Sunday.
There were no services on Sunday or Sunday night for either of the Presbyterian congregations, and as a consequence, large assemblages of people were present at each of the other churches. This was especially the case with Tryon Street M. E. Church, which, both morning and evening was literally crowded. In the evening, Rev. P. J. Carraway, addressed his remarks particularly to the young men, and was listened to with the strictest attention by the large concourse present, among which were a great many of the class, addressed. The text was taken from the Lamentations of Jeremiah, III: 27, "It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth."

Return to His Former Home.
We welcome back to Charlotte, a former citizen in the person of Mr. A. Shorter Caldwell. He reached here Sunday evening, and will permanently reside with us. Mr. Caldwell will soon establish near the cotton weighers' platform, a steam compress with which he will be able to compress 500 bales of cotton per day. Speaking of his removal from Rome, Ga., the Commercial of that place, says: "It is with unfeigned regrets that we part with him, for in his departure, Rome loses one of her very best citizens and most thoroughgoing business young men. The best wishes of a large circle of warm-hearted friends from this city, go with him—in which good wishes all hands in the Commercial, from the editorial staff to the inip of darkness, most heartily join."
Personal.
That embodiment of truth and honesty, Mr. John Patterson, of Pennsylvania, who purchased the South Carolina Legislature and went to the United States Senate from that State, was in Charlotte about two hours yesterday morning, on his return to Columbia from Washington and Long Branch, whither he went for the purpose of telling lies on the people he misrepresents.
Major Roger P. Atkinson, of Greensboro, was in the city yesterday.
Gen. Gabriel J. Rames is again in Charlotte, and is stopping at the Charlotte Hotel.
Capt. John C. Braine, of ice machine memory, arrived at the Central Hotel last evening. He is here in the interest of the Southern Artificial Stone Company, in which he has an interest. He will remain here for perhaps two weeks, and expects to do a good deal of work.

McNinch's Marble Yard.
We ask for especial attention to the advertisement of Mr. F. A. McNinch, this morning. With a corps of excellent and experienced workmen, and material as fine as any desire, together with all the other facilities of a first-class marble yard, Mr. M. can turn out as good and as handsome work as can be done in the South. Our people would do a great deal better to deal with him than to send off North for monuments and gravestones, for even if it were necessary for him to send abroad to have the order filled, he can obtain greater advantages in the purchase than any outsider can hope to, and save them from 25 to 50 per cent. We recommend Mr. McNinch to persons in Charlotte and in neighboring towns, as one who will give them the benefit of low prices, and satisfactory work.

London Quarterly Review.
The Leonard Scott Publishing Company's reprint of the London Quarterly Review for July, contains as follows: "The Isle of Wight." A condensed description of this "English Madeira." Its physical structure, history, dialects, customs, traditions, and places of interest are set before the reader in very entertaining detail.
The second article, on "Primitive Man," takes up recent works by Tylor and Lubbock, discusses the results of their teachings as affecting the monistic and dualistic hypotheses, and after a minute comparison and examination of their testimony, decides, emphatically against the theory of Evolution.

Numbering the Houses.
The Board of Aldermen has not had the question of numbering the houses before them, nor have they made any order to that effect.
W. F. DAVIDSON,
Mayor.

ANNOUNCEMENT.
SMITHFIELD, JOHNSTON CO., N. C.
September 3rd, 1874.
To the Members of the Senate of North Carolina:
I hereby announce myself a candidate for principal door-keeper of the Senate, subject to the action of the Democratic Conservative caucus, at the approaching session of the General Assembly.
I. F. ELLISTON.

ANNOUNCEMENT.
We are authorized and requested to announce John A. Stickleather, of Olin, Irwell county, a candidate for reading clerk of the House of Representatives for the ensuing session. Election upon the assembling of the Legislature.

Death by Default.
Weary of prescriptions that do no good, and perplexed by the multitude of medical theories advanced by disagreeing doctors, thousands of invalids become despondent and hopeless. Many of those who are thus circumstanced suffer chiefly from exhaustion. It may be that the depleting operations the de-moing homeopaths, and the phlogistic hydropaths have each in turn taken these "paths" have only brought them nearer to death's door. What then is to be done for them? What do they really need? Their real needs are three—invigoration, purification, and these three together, in a business acquaintance with all the reliable firms of the United States, and part of Italy, I profess to be able to offer advantages in the purchase in all kinds of Marble Work.

An Important Case.
Yesterday, there was heard by E. A. Osborne, Probate Judge, at his office, in the Court House, an important case, and one of long standing, referring to a petition, exceptions and supplemental petition. The case was that of David Henderson and Griswold Henderson, administrators of M. D. Henderson, vs. Jane Cheshire and others—in a petition for final settlement of estate. The Judge heard an exception, the testimony and arguments, but rendered no decision; this will be forthcoming to-day. There were 45 summons served in the case, and the hearing occupied all the time between 11 o'clock in the morning and near sundown. Jones & Johnston appeared for the plaintiffs, and H. W. Guion for the defendants.

Meeting of the Board of County Commissioners—The County Officers—Their Bonds and Bondsmen.
The Board of County Commissioners met at the Court House yesterday, the first Monday in the month. Present, Thos L Vail, R L DeArmond, Thos Gluyas, W E Ardrey and H M Dixon. The Commissioners were qualified by Col E A Osborne, Probate Judge, and immediately proceeded to business. The first thing in order was the election of a Chairman, and the choice fell upon W E Ardrey.
The bonds of the county officers were next presented and examined. We give below the name of each, the amount of his bond, and the name of his bondsmen:
S E Belk, County Treasurer; amount of bond $20,000; bondsmen—A B Davidson, R Y McAden, J H McAden, H G Springs, S B Alexander.
S E Belk, as Treasurer of the Board of Education; bond $10,000; bondsmen—R M Oates, M P Pegram.
E A Osborne, Clerk of the Superior Court; amount of bond, $10,000; bondsmen—Richard Moore, J O Moore, Wm Maxwell.
Wm Maxwell, Register of Deeds; bond $5,000; bondsmen—J R Morris, G C Morris, D G Maxwell.
M E Alexander, Sheriff; bond $5,000; bondsmen—J N Alexander, J S Means, Sr.

W N Alexander, Coroner; bond $2,000; bondsmen—R S White, F H Brown.
John E Moore, County Surveyor; bond $1,000; bondsmen, Jos McLaughlin, H C Morrow.
The bonds were all declared good and sufficient, and the officers were duly sworn in. After this, the Board proceeded with other business. The remainder of the day's proceedings were not of general public interest, being confined to the granting of orders on the Treasurer.
The Board adjourned to meet at the Court House again to-day.
