CITY BULLETIN.

A brick pavement is to be laid in front of the Opera House. Good.

The timbers are being put on the brick work of the store of Alexander, Seigle & Co.

Nothing in the Mayor's Court again yesterday. The falls fights haven't fairly opened yet.

Again, we remind our correspondents that we do not even read anonymous communications.

Many young men who have been out of employment are picking up courage as the season opens.

Dog killing has abated in a measure, much to our regret and that of every other good and lawful citizen.

The local transportation business was remunerative yesterday, judging from the number of drays engaged.

The entire force of the OBSERVER, from proprietor to devil, was photographed by Van Ness yesterday.

The erection of the cotton compress of Mr. A. Shorter Caldwell, is in progress near the depot of the C. C. & A. Railroad.

Prof. Hephurn, recently elected to the chair of Greek and German, has arrived at Davidson College, with his family.

Mr. M. J. Brady has been appointed Post Mistress at Davidson College, vice T. J. Allison, Esq. Davidson College is now a money order office.

Cool yesterday morning and evening and last night, but no such terms was applicable to the temperature at the middle of the day.

The Hornet, Independent Hook and Ladder and Pioneer Fire Companies, will all turn out to-morrow afternoon for exercises.

We saw one man late yesterday evening who evidently believes that kerosene is non-explosive. He was filling up a lamp and smoking all the while.

Ernest Berryhill, the little boy who was thrown from a horse Wednesday afternoon, was much better yesterday, and was able to get up and walk about some.

The renovations and improvements being made in stores, offices, and buildings, in the business centre are suggestive of greater enterprise in the winter.

A meeting of the Board of County Commissioners has been called to take place next Thursday, to devise means for paying the hands at work on the new jail.

Stores to be Closed.

This evening beginning the Jewish New Year, our Israelite fellow citizens will observe to-morrow as a holiday, and there will be a general suspension of business as to them from sun down this evening until Saturday night.

A Mistake.

Some people seem to have an idea that time hangs heavily upon the hands of a newspaper man, and that he is delighted to have them come up and tell long yarns and give advice. This is one of those popular errors. Every hour we lose in daylight, has to be made up by the midnight lamp.

Appleton's Journal.

The last number of Appleton's Journal is at hand. This number is full of interesting, instructive and entertaining reading matter. Appleton's Journal is the best weekly publication of its kind, in the United States. Every household should have it. Price $4 a year.

Death of a Native of Mecklenburg.

Rev. A. Monroe Gillespie died at Glen Alpine Springs, Burke county, last week. Mr. Gillespie was born and raised in this county, was educated at Davidson College, and entered the ministry of the M. E. Church South. He leaves a wife and four children. His remains were interred in Morganton.

National Hotel, Salisbury.

We stopped a day in Salisbury last week, at the National Hotel, and found it all that a first-class hotel ought to be. It has recently been re-furnished, and put in thorough repair by Mr. Linton, a live man, and a gentleman, who gives promise of becoming a first-class hotelist. May his shadow never grow less.

Blooded Stock for the Fair.

Maj J H Barry, of South Carolina, arrived in the city last evening, bringing with him two horses to be put in training for the races at the coming Fair of the Carolinas. The horses are both blooded stock. The mare "Notre Dame" is said to be an excellent racer, and the horse "Resurrection" has a first class reputation. Maj B. expects another in a few days. Horsemen will take due notice and govern themselves accordingly, as the track is in fine condition, and racing takes place every Saturday afternoon, when the weather permits.

The Way Charlotte is Laid off.

The first settlers laid off the streets of this town "regardless of consequences." They were marked out "cattin-corneredly," and it is impossible to describe any location correctly, by the points of the compass. For instance: We take Trade street, from Tryon to the North Carolinas Railroad; some merchants and business men advertise that they can be found on South Trade street; others in the same locality, that they do business on East Trade street, and still others that they are on North East Trade street. Now, pray who will say that they are not all right or that all of them are not wrong? For all we know, a man might get into Trade street, and travel in all these directions or in none of them at all. We tried for a while to describe localities by the points of the compass, but had to give it up as a bad job.

The Negro Who Wasn't Run Over.

Scratching a head out of which had already come all the items it contained, at the hard hearted scribe of the OBSERVER yesterday afternoon, when that ever welcome word "item" fell upon his ear; "negro run over by the Lincoln train; doctors say he can't live but one hour; hunt it up!" Superfluous injunction! A smile of supreme satisfaction spread over his countenance, and to sharpen a pencil and seize a quire of paper, whereon to write out the interview with the dying man, was a work which required two seconds by the watch. The rapturous reporter rolled into his rag of a coat, and sought the Lincoln Depot. Looked he not to the right nor to the left, but pressed steadily on, never thinking to stop for minor items on the wayside, and revolving in his mind what caption he should bestow upon the article. He was run over by two drays, and struck four times with rocks, thrown by small boys, but these were small drawbacks, and—pressed he on.

Left Us.

The late associate proprietor of the OBSERVER, F. H. Pendleton, Esq., left us yesterday afternoon, after a connection with the paper extending over five months. We, and all of us, saw him leave with genuine regret. The relations which existed between him and each and every person connected with the office, from the least even up to the greatest, have been of the most pleasant possible character, and wherever he goes or whatever business he engages in, he will be followed by the hearty good wishes and the God speed of all the attaches of the OBSERVER.

Attempt to Escape.

Yesterday evening about sundown, two young men arrived in the city with a negro named Lee Ross, whom they had brought here for confinement in jail, for a crime, the nature of which we did not learn. When about the store of Burwell, Grier & Co., corner Trade and Fourth streets, the prisoner broke from his guards, and ran. Pursuit was given, and three shots were fired at him as he ran, but without effect. After a long chase, the negro was overhauled in a cotton patch on the outskirts of the city, and taken to jail.

An Enterprise in Prospective.

We have heard a rumor, only a rumor, that Hussey, of the Statesville Landmark, and Robertson, of the Cherokee Herald, both recent converts to the temperance cause, will shortly start a temperance organ for the West. Avery, of the Piedmont Press, and Woodson, of the Raleigh News, are to be regular contributors; while Harris of the Concord Sun, is to be assistant editor, and general business manager. Now, we do not believe a word of this, nor do we ask our readers to do so; we merely give the statement for what it is worth, hoping, however, that the report is true; for all the gentlemen named, can write intelligently on this subject.

Negro Found Dead.

A negro man, named Reuben Harris, was found dead about a mile from Davidson College, on Wednesday evening, the 9th inst. He was in the act of getting over a fence where he died, and was found in that position about sun down. He was supposed to have died about 9 o'clock in the morning. Dr. M. W. Hill, of Davidson College, examined the body and pronounced death to have been caused by a congestive chill.

The New Jail.

Workmen began yesterday making the excavation for the new jail. The location is on the rear part of the lot where the present jail stands, and the building will front on Church street. The names of the contractors for the different parts of the work have already been published. The building will be a large and substantial one, and will be built as to its interior, after a highly approved plan.

A Narrow Escape.

Yesterday while a wagon was driving through the streets, two white boys jumped up behind, and one of them stood erect on the coupling pole which stuck out a considerable length. The driver reached back and struck at the boy who was standing on the pole, and as he did so the boy dodged and escaped the lick. Another attempt to whip the boy off was more successful, and the whip this time struck him on the head. The youngster in trying to dodge fell to the ground head foremost, his head brushing one of the hind wheels of the wagon. Fortunately his head did not happen to get between the spokes nor even strike the wheel fairly, else the consequences would have been different. As it was he was not much hurt.

Parents, look to your boys.

The following railroad men were registered yesterday at the Central Hotel: Col S L Fremont, of the Carolina Central, Dr J M Hines, of the Memphis and Little Rock, Gen J W Barnes, of the International Texas, and Gen H Haupt, of the Piedmont Air Line.

MR. EDITOR:—

No true philanthropist will for one moment oppose the permanent establishment of a Graded School in our community. The intention is alike worthy of the head and the heart of the gentleman who conceived it, and the commission of our Public Fund who have so promptly seconded his undertaking. Without doubt, a large number of children are thus provided with the means of instruction who, under other circumstances, would grow up in ignorance and vice. Not that the teachers of the private schools have been derelict in duty to the children of the poor, for he it is said that their credit that as a general rule, they have cheerfully received into their school as many such children as they could possibly teach. But notwithstanding these generous acts, a destitution so great, required that more ample provision be made for the children of such as were unable to pay for their instruction, and in this particular, we regard the Graded School as a public benefactor.

The Hebrew New Year.

The Hebrew New Year will begin on this evening, September 11. It is observed as a festival, and in the synagogues the services, the music and chanting, all partake of a joyful tone. Ten days afterwards, on the evening of Sunday, the 21st, the day of Atonement commences, a time of solemn religious observance, fasting and prayer for forgiveness of sins.

[For the Observer.]

All dray owners and drivers are hereby notified that complaint has been made to me about the fast driving, often endangering the lives of children. The penalty for riding or driving horses through the streets at a rapid speed is ten dollars. And the police are instructed to arrest every person violating this ordinance, and collect the penalty.
W. F. DAVIDSON, Mayor.

Servants.

That hydra-headed horror of housekeepers has come to the surface again, with yet more frightful men.—We presume there is nothing in life, except a spring bonnet, which gives a lady more trouble and anxiety than her dealings with servants. Daily are heard complaints of the laziness, slovenliness and unreliability of servants, and the expressions of lugubrious despair with which the dainty housekeepers tell over their troubles, is provocative of hearty laughter.—Really, we do sympathize with the troubles of our fellow-men—and woman—in this regard, for we'd infinite rather be sergeant-at-arms of a woman's rights convention, than to hunt a servant for a single day. May the present wave of trouble be of short duration, say we.
