CITY BULLETIN.

Now for the equinoctial rains!

The street sprinkler has been found necessary again.

And now the ravenous skeeter is rare and is eager to run down and kill.

They are fixing to put a new crossing at the intersection of Fourth street with Tryon, at the corner of Burwell, Grier & Co's store.

Even at this late day, a youth can occasionally be seen sailing around on a velocipede.

Yesterday looked every inch a Fall day, but the temperature belied the looks of the weather.

The Lancaster (S. C.) Ledger, has nearly five columns of Charlotte advertisements in its columns.

The School Committee of Charlotte Township, will meet at 1 P. M. to-day, at the office of Gen. Rufus Barringer.

The News understands that the Raleigh Light Infantry will visit the Charlotte Fair. By all means, let it come. Charlotte will give it a hearty welcome.

The track of the Carolina Central Railway is laid to Meadow Branch Church, Union county, and is being pushed with all the vigor and energy possible.

No action was taken by the Board of Aldermen on the water question, the proposition for the establishment of these in the city was laid on the table.

We hear a rumor, quite a rumor, that a distinguished law firm of a certain North Carolina town, will soon transfer from its present location to Charlotte.

Mr. Harry is frescoing the dining room of the Central Hotel. This is already an elegant room, and when these beautifying touches shall have been put on it, it will be doubly so. Guests suffer no inconvenience whatever from this work being in progress.

The Gallant Cadet.

The time is near at hand when the gallant and elaborately clad cadet shall return, and when lieutenant Tom, orderly Dick, corporal Harry and sergeant Charlie, with their lightly fitting breeches and martial bearing, shall entirely supplant ordinary John and George and Bill and Bob, in the sunlight of female smiles. Then will John and George and Bill and Bob lift up their voices in profanity and threats of vengeance, and Dave and Sam and Jim and Pete will say "amen!"

A Scribe Who Don't Confine Himself to the Truth.

While in Statesville on Wednesday, we, in an evil moment, visited the Landmark office, and our call "awaked to ecstacy, the living liar," as Whitsett, the Landmark of yesterday, Hussey can make up and tell more mean things on us, than he can take drinks, and this is putting it as forcibly as possible. Fortunately, the Statesville people know us, and—bless the Lord! they know Hussey, too.

To Speak at Chapel Hill.

Gen. D H Hill, of the Southern Home, has accepted an invitation to deliver a Grange address at Chapel Hill on Friday next, the 2nd prox. The man who handles the pen with as much vigor and ability as General Hill, will, as a speaker, interest and instruct any audience. He will make the farmers of Orange a sensible and interesting speech, one which they can think about and profit by afterwards, and not one in which claptrap will be made to stand in the stead of ideas.

The Indian Case.

Gen. Rufus Barringer, one of the arbitrators in the famous and long pending Cherokee Indian suit, has just returned to his home in this city. All the testimony in the case has been heard, and the case completed, except as to the arguments, which will be heard at Greensboro on the second week of the Federal Court there. Gen. Barringer has been engaged for the past six weeks upon the case with Col. Thos. Ruffin, of Hillsboro, Col. John H Dillard of Greensboro, and one or two other distinguished lawyers.

The Pioneer Fire Company.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen the other night, the Pioneer Fire company through one of its members preferred a request that the Mayor sign the note to W. H. Wilson for $291.84, for the uniform of said company. The Board instructed the Mayor to sign the note as requested. The company also requested that some arrangements be made to provide them with a house for their engine, and a hall. These requests were referred to the Fire Committee, which was instructed to take action and report to the Board.

The Entertainment Last Night.

The members of the Busy Bee Society gave the public an entertainment last evening. We are glad to know that they were well patronized, and that, financially and otherwise, the festival was a success. There was a large crowd present, and the crowd bought liberally of the various articles which had been made for the occasion by deft fingers, as well as of the elegant supper which had been provided. Everything was arranged in the best possible manner, and the entertainment was managed with rare skill. The "Episcopal girls," the waitresses and saleswomen of the occasion, were never prettier or more enchanting, and their smiles and graces last night, served to add many a dime to the coffers of the Busy Bee Society.

Feast of Tabernacles.

To-day and to-morrow the 26th and 27th days of Sept. is the Jewish "feast of tabernacles" (Hag Hasuccot), which commemorates the in-gathering of the harvest, and is also a memorial of the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt, when they dwelt in booths (succot). The command for the observance of the day is to be found in Exodus xxvi, 16, Leviticus xxiii, 33. The feast lasts eight days during which the palm branch, citron, willow of the brook and myrtle are used in the synagogue and in private worship, all of which have a typical meaning most beautifully preserved in the glowing Oriental diction of the Rabbins, from which some of the most popular fables now extant have their origin.

A Western Editor in Charlotte.

J. F. Murrill, Esq., the junior editor of the Piedmont Press, was in Charlotte last week, and among other things says this:

"The suburbs are spreading out along the numerous Railroads which sprangle off like spider's legs, and are more numerous. The west side is also being much improved. Old wooden houses are giving away to the improved styles of architecture in brick, &c.—The day is not distant when Charlotte will have direct communication with the seaport city of Wilmington by the completion of the C C R R, which will enable her merchants to compete with those more northern cities that have hitherto drawn our merchants for their wholesale purchases. In fact the most long sighted and enterprising have already commenced preparations for the coming day."

All a Mistake.

We published yesterday morning, calls for each of the fire companies to assemble this afternoon at their respective engine and truck houses, the object being parade and exercise. The advertisements all came together in one letter, through the mail, and we published them without misgivings. We learned yesterday, however, that the calls were entirely unauthorized by the Presidents of the companies, and who it was that sent the advertisements in, we cannot ascertain. It was, perhaps, somebody who hungered and thirsted for a joke.

Firemen are requested to pay no heed to the notices. The joint parade will take place on next Saturday evening, October 3d—not before. The advertisements in yesterday's paper, were frauds upon us and upon the members of the fire companies.

Delay of the Air Line Train.

The Air Line mail train, due in Charlotte about 8 A M suffered a delay yesterday of eight hours, not arriving until 4 P M. The cause of the delay was the ditching of the freight train which left here at 3 P M Thursday, at Cowpens, between Gaffney's and Spartanburg. At that place some one had misplaced the switch, and when the freight reached the place, the engineer not discovering the misplaced track, the whole train of about twelve cars was thrown off. No one was hurt, but four or five of the cars were badly smashed up. The mail train which left here yesterday morning at 6, had to transfer its passengers at the wreck and return to Charlotte. It is expected that the track will be so far cleared to-day as to enable trains to pass as usual.

Personal.

Admiral C R P Rodgers, of the United States navy, arrived in Charlotte yesterday afternoon, and registered at the Central Hotel. Admiral Rodgers, we believe, is in command of the Naval department of the Gulf.

Hon. R. B. Cowan, an officer in the Department of the Interior at Washington, accompanied Admiral Rodgers.

Todd. J. McLeod Turner, arrived in the city yesterday. We are glad that the arm which he had the misfortune to break about a month ago, is improving; we hope it will soon be well.

Col. J. D. Blanding, of Sumter S C., arrived in Charlotte last evening.

Sumter Female College.

The Fall term of this excellent institution of learning, which is located at Statesville, began on Tuesday last. The number of pupils, we are glad to state, was up to the expectations of the principal. The school is under the able management of Rev. S. Taylor Martin, who is sustained by a corps of teachers in every way competent to discharge their self-assumed duties No change has taked place in the institution since last term, except in the musical department which is now under the control of Miss Sallie Peck, daughter of Rev. Dr. Peck, of Hampden Sydney Va. She is a young lady of fine musical accomplishments, and comes to North Carolina recommended as highly as need be.

If there is a better college anywhere for the education of young ladies, we do not know where it is. It is entitled to a handsome patronage, and if it does not receive it, the people of North Carolina will show a woeful lack of appreciation.

Mayor's Court.

It was a lively time they had in the Mayor's Court yesterday morning. A person dropping in would have thought all the "Five Points" had gathered together in the court room, so many criminals were there assembled, to receive in proper proportion the punishment due for outbreaking sins.

The first case was that of Altony Brown colored, for assault and battery on Lizzie Lindsay, of the same persuasion. Guilty, and a fine of $5 propitiated the Court.

M. T. Whitlock, white, was up for assault and battery upon John Thomas, colored, at Davidson's livery stable. The Mayor thought this was worth $7.50.

John Walker, Alice Robinson, Lizzie Taylor and Reuben Reid, all colored, were charged with a gross disturbance of the peace on Thursday night. Reid and Walker were fined $12.50 each, and the two women $7.50, each.

Josephine Hammond, Ellen Hays, Ann Herndon and Jane Perry, all colored, were up on a peace warrant and for a disturbance. All were bound over to keep the peace, and were required to pay the cost.

This closed the morning's entertainment.

The Classification of Cotton.

The new classification of cotton goes into operation in all the markets of the United States on the 1st October, 1874. Full type samples of the different grades as agreed upon by the Committee Experts are ready for inspection at the office of Slenhouse, Macaulay & Co.

Upon examining the types of the various grades, we find the classification has been made lower in point of grade than had been mentioned under the old system. The five grades good middling, middling, low middling, good ordinary and ordinary, have all been reduced nearly one grade. The committee was composed of twenty-four members, delegates from all the principal cotton exchanges and boards of trade, earnest, hard-working men, many of whom had vast experience in dealing in cotton, buying and shipping the great staple for over a quarter of a century. Their names and reputation were sufficient guarantee that the great and important work confided to them of making a uniform classification for our great staple for all the markets of this country, would be successfully accomplished and the results of these labors would give satisfaction to all.

We congratulate the committee on the complete success of their labors, in having made this classification to be known forever as the Standard American Classification, and which now reduces a perfect system and uniform standard, a vast and most important interest, which, until now, has remained in confussion, doubt and uncertainty.

Fire Department Regulations.

The recent conflagration in this city has again turned public attention to the need for better regulations in connection with the Fire Department. Not that there was any lack of hard work, zeal and efficiency on the part of our firemen, who are a credit to the city; but because the experience of each successive fire alarm shows how much time, labor, water and property are wasted for lack of direct, energetic, skilled management of the whole Department. The first need is a Fire Chief—a man of firmness, yet sufficiently popular to be accepted by all of the fire companies, prompt of action, and of practical mind. He should traverse the city and acquaint himself with the location of wells, tanks, &c., and form plans in his mind, for the suppression of a fire in any block of the city. He should be a man not connected with any company, therefore, not prejudiced in favor of any one. He should also have authority to arrest any outsider interfering, loitering or making unnecessary noise at fires. He should not be allowed to interfere with the companies in any way, except to inspect their engine, &c., and see that all is kept ready for service; but the instant the alarm bell sounds, the Department should pass under his control. The police should be instructed to form a cordon around the locality of the fire, to prevent the idle mob from impeding the operations of the department. None but workers should be allowed to approach the fire, though persons having property in danger should, of course, be admitted to their establishments—the police having proper discretion in such cases. There should be no confusion, brawling or contradictory orders; no squabbling over water tanks, or conflict for place.

Discipline of this sort would make an extensive fire in so scattered a city as Charlotte, an impossibility.

It is very likely that such arrangements might at first glance be opposed by the companies—all naturally independent, and averse to coming under the direction of a Chief. Yet, the firemen are men of sense, many of them having property of their own; and they know that the efficiency of the department would be vastly increased by direct concert of action, which can only be achieved by organization under a Chief.

There is no reason to doubt that by proper arguments, the whole fire department—volunteer though it be—can be induced to agree to regulations, and organization that will make it as effective as the ponderous fire-corps of New York or Philadelphia, and to this end, we hope the firemen will consider these suggestions in a favorable light.

Charlotte Cotton Factory Company.

We are more than glad to be able to state that a cotton manufacturing company has at last been organized in Charlotte. The matter has been under consideration for a long while, and during the past two months, a number of our enterprising citizens have been actively and energetically at work on the matter. Their efforts have at last been crowned with success, and yesterday afternoon, a meeting of the corporators was held and the company was regularly organized. The factory is to be built on the co-operative plan. The books of subscription to the capital stock will be opened at once, and so soon as the necessary amount of stock shall be subscribed, the payment of weekly installments will begin.

At a meeting of the company yesterday afternoon, A. B. Davidson was called to the chair. The chair appointed John E. Brown, J. S. Phillips and W. R. Cochrane, a committee on proxies and stock. The committee reported 100 shares represented in person and 40 by proxy, whereupon the meeting was declared duly organized.

An election was gone into when the following officers were elected:

President—A. B. Davidson.

Vice President—Allen Macaulay.

Directors—R. Y. McAden, John E. Brown, M. E. Alexander, W. R. Cochrane, W. R. Myers, D. G. Maxwell, Thos. W. Dewey, John T. Butler.

Secretary and Treasurer—F. H. Dewey.

John E. Brown, F. H. Dewey, A. B. Davidson and W. R. Myers, were appointed a committee to open books for subscription to the capital stock.

It was resolved that the capital stock be increased to not exceeding 2,000 shares, of $100 each. It was further resolved that the committe report to the President when 500 shares have been subscribed, and when that amount has been subscribed, the President shall call the Directors together, to take such action as they may deem proper.

John E. Brown, J. S. Phillips, Thos. W. Dewey and W. R. Myers, were appointed a committee on by-laws, rules and regulations.

It was resolved that the Secretary be authorized to procure the necessary stationery for the use of the company.

After a resolution that the proceedings be published in the city papers, the meeting adjourned, subject to the call of the President.

Harmless Malignity.

It is alleged by parties envious of the popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and exasperated by the futility of their efforts to complete with the standard tonic of the Western Hemisphere, that it contains alcohol. The alegation is true. A pure, diffusive stimulant obtained from sound Monongahela rye is one of its components. If it lacked the stimulating element, its other ingredients would be comparatively inert, and the compound, instead of remaining unchanged for an indefinite number of years in any climate, would ferment, turn sour, and become as pernicious to the stomach and bowels as the nostrums destitute of this active principle invariably do.

It is pitiful to find men who must know and do know that diffusive stimulants are as much a legitimate and necessary portion of the materia medica as rhubarb, magnesia, or gentian, protesting against the use of the purest of them all in the most celebrated tonic of the age. These charlatans are aware that alcohol is used medicinally in all hospitals and dispensaries, prescribed in certain diseases by all intelligent physicians, and recognized as a remedial agent by temperance laws, passed by temperance majorities, in temperance States. It is against alcohol as a beverage, and not as a medicine or as an ingredient of a medicine, that the moral sense of the community protests; and the great modern restorative is strictly a medicinal preparation, to be taken only as a protection against disease or as a curative. This the sordid hypocrites, whom its success offends well know. They know, too, to their sorrow, that it is curing dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, rheumatism, intermittent fevers, nervous disorders, and many other ailments which their pithless, powerless abominations never relieve and generally aggravate. And this is where the bitter sting comes in. This is the source of all complaint and humbug with which, in the vain effort of turning a dirty penny, they disgust the rational portion of the community.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce James F. Davidson, Esq., as a candidate to fill the vacancy in the Board of Aldermen from First Ward, at the election to take place on October 10th.
