Free from that venality which corrupts the conscience or that pithy which corrupts justice.
CITY BULLETIN.
The moon is getting high up. New! Not so cold last night. A man could exist up to midnight without an overcoat. The colored brass band played several airs on the Central Hotel corner last night, about 12 o'clock. They are improving.
An unusually large number of ladies graced the streets with their presence yesterday evening.
Jim Pethel and Robinson Reid, colored, were before the Mayor yesterday for an infraction, and were fined $3.00 each.
Cotton, potatoes, &c., have been made to will through the influence of the severe frosts of the past few mornings.
Two little children came near being run over by two loose horses, on Church street, yesterday. They narrowly escaped serious injuries.
Mr. E. N. Grimes, who was hurt by the distressing accident of Wednesday afternoon, was able to be up and out on the streets yesterday. He will be entirely restored in a day or two more.
Our townsman, Col. R. M. Oates, returned home yesterday, from a trip to Texas. He does not give a cheering account of the financial condition of the South, as he saw and heard of it from Southern men.
The New Fair of the Carolinas begins in less than three weeks from this time. Are the farmers, mechanics, artisans, ladies, and the general public, preparing for it? There is but little time left now for getting things ready for exhibition.
It is time now to cease washing until next Spring, when the weather will be warmer. The very idea of getting into a tubful of water, such weather as this, is enough to cast a gloom over the whole community.
A walk-down Trade street from Tryon, through College and to the cotton platform, is all that is necessary to convince one that the long-looked-for revival of trade has taken place, and that money is beginning to circulate more freely.
Woodson, of the Raleigh News, has made arrangements with the Secretary of the New Fair of the Carolinas, to pitch a tent on the grounds here during fair week. Said tent will have in it a performing monkey and a jug.
The funeral of Mr. Moses Allinthe, victim of the falling rafter on Wednesday afternoon, was largely attended yesterday afternoon. The services took place from Tryon Street M. E. Church, and were conducted by the pastor Rev. P. J. Carraway.

A Prolific Vine.
There is a pumpkin vine in the garden of Mr. J. R. Davidson, of this city which covers two squares, half of the garden, and has on it twenty-four pumpkins, none of them smaller than a half bushel measure. This vine was sown with a pumpkin vine which has received honorable mention at the hands of the press this season.

Chicken Cholera.
This disease has seized upon the fowls of this city, and, housekeepers tell us, is carrying off many victims. One gentleman alone has lost eight turkeys from it. He says that he has a protection against it. Some of his fowls were sick, when he dropped some kerosene down their throats with a feather and they recovered.

Another Fair Paper.
An association of printers in this office, Messrs. McCraney, Brown & Elam, will publish a paper during Fair week, and call it the Fair Advertiser. Each and every day of the Fair, 1,000 copies of it will be sold and distributed free among the visitors. Business men who desire to communicate with the persons here attending the Fair, are recommended to use this publication as a medium. They expect to be able to accommodate about seventeen columns of advertisements, and we have no doubt they will, with little difficulty, get all they want.
The Advertiser will contain each morning, the programme for the Fair that day, a report of the proceedings of the day previous, and also whatever local matter of interest there may be.

Elections on the Fence Question.
Elections were held yesterday in Crab Orchard and Mallard Creek Townships, on the question of the fence law. We have not received the result of the election at either place, but gentlemen who came in from Crab Orchard, in the afternoon, inform us that the negroes were voting solidly against the fence, and they were of the opinion that "no fence" would prevail. We have no advice whatever from Mallard Creek.
"Music in the Air."
It was right funny to see that countryman yesterday, sitting flat in the bottom of a two-horse wagon, and playing as if for dear life, an accordion which he had evidently just purchased, while another fellow who sat on one of the horses, drove through the streets, and occasionally cast an admiring glance around upon his more accomplished companion. We couldn't help thinking about Will Avery, of the Piedmont Press, soon as we saw that accordion.
We take pleasure in stating that Rev. George Tucker Watson, President of the State Council of the Friends of Temperance, will deliver an address at the Court House this evening at 7 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present, and we hope a large crowd will be out.

Court at Shelby.
Clayland Court began at Shelby on Monday, Judge Schenck presiding, and Mr. Solicitor Montgomery prosecuting in behalf of the State. We have learned some news concerning the Court, from a friend who was present. There was a very large crowd in attendance, and the docket is unusually full. The first day was taken up with the Judge's charge to the jury, and with the hearing of some trifling cases. On Tuesday, the druggists of the town were arranged for selling French brandy. In the case of W. A. Wray, it was shown that a physician ordered the brandy for a sick lady, and the question was made whether French brandy is a medicine. A great diversity of opinion prevailed among the lawyers, but the case was decided for the defendants. It is strange that any lawyer should pretend to know what French brandy is.
On Wednesday, a negro was arraigned for rape on a 9 year old girl. Elwood was also arraigned for the homicide near King's Mountain. These, with the case of Thomas Gladden, who slew Calvin Rippey near Shelby, by a few months ago, the particulars of which were published in the Observer at the time, makes three capital cases to be tried this term of Court.
On Tuesday, Judge Shipp obtained a writ of injunction against the Carolina Central Railway Company, as prayed for by Dr. M. M. Orr, of this city, whose claim for damages sustained by him by the company running its track through his land, has not been paid.
Our informant, apropos of Courts, lawyers and Judges, says he observed at dinner at Border's Hotel, one day while in Shelby, a Judge of the Supreme Court, a Judge of the Superior Court, an ex-Judge, a Judge of Probate, and a candidate for Judge, all sitting in a row like this: "seven little injuns" of the song.
Shelby is improving; two small town lots recently sold for $3,600. The town has 10 stores, 2 drug stores, 4 churches, 3 schools, 3 confectioneries, a Grange, Temperance, Masonic and Literary Society, about 1,000 population, and bought last year some 3,200 bales of cotton. Eta perpetua. The people are intelligent, active and progressive, and the Observer subscription book shows that they are a people of taste and judgment in the matter of newspapers.

Murder Most Foul.
We learn privately of a foul murder which was perpetrated some days ago in Rutherford county. It appears that one Joe Hodge and a fellow named Hyder, both attaches of the Rutherford county Ku Klux hunting gang, bought some stock from two cattle drovers. After some time they took up a suspicion that the drovers were not the lawful owners of the stock, and started after them, both taking different roads. Hodge went to a negro cabin and made the darkey take his gun and go with him. Suddenly they came up with the drovers, and Hodge fired, and severely wounded one of the men. The other tried to fire, but failing to do so, closed with Hodge, who broke the handle of his revolver in the matter. The latter then shouted to the negro to come and shoot his antagonist, which he did, placing his gun at the man's breast, and blowing his heart in pieces while Hodge held him.
Such are the facts as reported. The other drover is not expected to live. Hodge went before a Radical magistrate and gave a small bond for his appearance. He is one of the Loganite creatures that helped to maltreat the so-called Ku Klux in 1871.

A Proposed Lecture.
We propose going into the lecture field. Mr. Lindley's lectures on Africa are very interesting and instructive, and the mind is struck with wonder at the customs and carryings on of those people; but all these will pale into insignificance when we deliver our lecture on "the rights of the Five Points," and prove all we say by the police. The only differences between Mr. Lindley's heathen and ours, are, 1st, ours speak the English language and his don't, 2nd, ours, or some of them, wear clothes, and his don't. But then ours get drunk and fight, and his don't; ours get up before the Mayor and get to the lock up for two or three days, and when they get out and go the same thing over and are hauled up again, and his don't; ours do all sorts of meanness just because it is meanness, and his generally have some other object, and we venture to say that, in our little Five Points, there are more rows, more cracked heads and more noseless faces in one year, than in the whole dominion of King Hissawsekumpoo, or whatever his name is.
Altogether, we'll be a steamboat ticket to Africa that ours are a more progressive class of heathen (in wickedness), can get drunker and stay drunk longer, can study more crudeness generally in a shorter time, and know less about justification by faith, than his.

Eclipse of the Moon.
On the night of October 24th, the moon will be totally eclipsed throughout the United States, the first time here in several years. East of longitude 109 west, the middle of the eclipse will take place early in the morning of Sunday, 24th, but west of that longitude, late in the evening of Saturday, the 24th.
Although the eclipse is called total, and the whole moon will pass through the shadow of the earth, our satellite will not wholly disappear, but will remain visible, of the hue of tarnished copper. This eclipse, as above stated, may be seen throughout the United States and all North America.

The Atlanta Fair.
We understand that quite a number of our citizens have it in contemplation to visit the Georgia State Fair, which begins in Atlanta next Monday. Every preparation has been made for a grand gathering of people, and the display of articles, the friends of the Fair say, will be the largest ever witnessed in the State. The authorities of the Air Line Railroad have reduced their rates so as to carry visitors to and from Atlanta for one fare, and we doubt not many of the people of Charlotte will embrace this favorable opportunity for visiting the Gate City of the South.

Elections on the Fence Question.
Elections were held yesterday in Crab Orchard and Mallard Creek Townships, on the question of the fence law. We have not received the result of the election at either place, but gentlemen who came in from Crab Orchard, in the afternoon, inform us that the negroes were voting solidly against the fence, and they were of the opinion that "no fence" would prevail. We have no advice whatever from Mallard Creek.

It was right funny to see that countryman yesterday, sitting flat in the bottom of a two-horse wagon, and playing as if for dear life, an accordion which he had evidently just purchased, while another fellow who sat on one of the horses, drove through the streets, and occasionally cast an admiring glance around upon his more accomplished companion. We couldn't help thinking about Will Avery, of the Piedmont Press, soon as we saw that accordion.
We take pleasure in stating that Rev. George Tucker Watson, President of the State Council of the Friends of Temperance, will deliver an address at the Court House this evening at 7 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to be present, and we hope a large crowd will be out.

Notice to Delinquents.
After the 20th inst., persons interested, can see at the Sheriff's office, the list of names of those persons whose property will be advertised for sale to pay taxes. It is not amiss to say here, that those who owe taxes can save $5 in the matter of cost by settling now. Besides the mortification of having their property advertised. But Sheriff Alexander must and will have the money due the county and State, if not by one means then by another.

Marriage of a Rock Hillian.
Our young friend, Allen Jones, Esq., of Rock Hill, S. C., brother of Johnstone Jones, Esq., of this city, was married last night at Winesboro, S. C., to Miss Augusta Forcher, of that town. His friends in this place, and he has many of them here, will cordially join us in wishing him all of the joy and prosperity which is supposed to follow upon a young man's throwing off the miseries of singlehood, and taking his stand in the army of the Benedictos.
The Water Carts.
The water carts continue to traverse Trade and Tryon streets daily, but it is nearly time for them to hang up until another season. They added largely to the comfort of the city during the summer just ended, and Mr. Gallman can congratulate himself upon the fact that he has done what no one else ever did before, though several have tried it, he has succeeded in watering the streets in a satisfactory manner.
Died.
At the residence of her husband, at Pineville, on last Saturday night, Mrs. M. M. Wallis, wife of J. M. Wallis, died of typhoid symptoms. She was in her 44th year, and leaves a large circle of mourning friends.
Married.
On the 13th inst. by the Rev. R. H. Griffith, Mr. Sidney Austin to Miss Bettie Stone.
