

CHAS. H. JONES, Editor & Proprietor.

Sunday, December 13, 1874.

Free from the dotting scribbles that fetter the free-born reason.

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

Our Terms Under the New Postal Law. Under the new law which goes into effect January 1, 1875, we are required to pre-pay the postage on our publications.

Table with 2 columns: Subscription type and Price. Includes rates for Daily Edition, Weekly Edition, and Club Rates.

Three copies for one year. Four copies for one year. Five copies for one year. Ten copies for one year. Twenty copies for one year.

While there is a general advance in the subscription rates, we are lower than before, and are offered as inducements to our friends who feel willing to pay a fair price for the labor to be performed.

Under the new system we shall enforce the cash plan more rigidly than ever before: and this will result in the stoppage of many papers if subscribers are not renewed by January 1st.

All subscriptions received before the 25th day of December will be received at our old rates, and we hope every subscriber will promptly renew for the coming year.

Address: CHAS. H. JONES, Editor and Proprietor. Charlotte N. C.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

We may be pardoned this morning for espousing the following from the Atlanta Constitution, and giving it editorial endorsement, as it contains much truth which we hope our readers will take to heart:

Much ink is being expended now a-days in an effort to account for the scarcity of money, and the embarrassment of our people. A very noisy class are laboriously endeavoring to show that these troubles of the state are solely owing to the want of a law, which would be confessedly inoperative in the future, as it invariably has been in the past.

The true and only reason why money is scarce is because we, as a community, lavishly buy what we need instead of producing it. A visit to the freight sheds of the State road will enable anybody to take in at a glance the secret of our woes; for not only can be found there tons and tons of agricultural products that should be produced in the state, but also an infinite variety of manufactured articles—not alone of rare and skillful workmanship, but the very simplest forms of goods.

In one place are hundreds of cheap beds and chairs; in another coarse wagons, made in Wisconsin or Indiana; near by, thrashing machines from Ohio or Michigan, and engines from Pennsylvania; and if we could look into the great dry-goods boxes, we would see the cotton that left us in its cheapest form, returning from the mills of New England in its dearest forms.

The very cars and engines that brought these all were manufactured in other states. There is little use in prolonging the story of our poverty. We sell our products in the raw state to buy them back with a dozen profits and heavy freight charges added. The inevitable result is debt, bankruptcy, and if retained in, bankruptcy.

Cotton is a magnificent money-crop, and if we would combine to produce in the main what we need, we would be able to supply our own wants, and we would be able to supply our own wants, and we would be able to supply our own wants.

The Statesville American is in fa of restoring the whipping-post and pillory for small offenders; Woodson, of the Raleigh News says that since his dog "Jack" got whipped by a lamb, "he never keered to progic along a sheep."

Francis S. Woodson, a brother of the local editor of the Raleigh News, was married in Yanceyville, Caswell county, on Wednesday last, to Miss Emma Patton.

Dr. J. M. Pleasant, well-known to newspaper readers in the Northern part of this State, has succeeded Col. W. E. Cameron as assistant editor of the Petersburg Index and Appeal.

Some-while rascals recently visited the residence of old Aunt Abby Home, in Wake county, fired guns and pistols in the windows and poured bushels of rocks on the house.

The Raleigh Sentinel says: During the sitting of the last Legislature a letter laid in the postoffice without postage for a long time. It was finally taken out by some of the members and it was a letter to his wife by one of the legislators. It went on to say, "Dear Betsy, I wish you could see what a nice room I am living in, and we have biscuits two times a day."

The Raleigh Sentinel says: Mr. S. B. Chappel, from Cedar Fork Township, has been "searching all day" for a pocket book with eleven dollars in it that he missed from his pocket yesterday. He got the pocket book back to-day, but is straining his eyes to see the eleven dollars. Mr. Chappel paid with gold. The owner has been found and your house, and as he walked off we noticed four horse coats protruding from his right side coat pocket.

lend all—what his money is worth in the market; but we want a popular appreciation of the great trust that we should not depend upon the productions of other communities. We have money enough to establish the needed factories and industrial enterprise and shrewdness that prompts its use in that way. Experience however, is fast teaching us the proper lesson.—The first step is economy of expenditure. We cannot afford to freely use the high-priced articles that other states are anxious to shove upon us. The next step towards wealth consists in affording profitable employment to all our people who are willing and able to labor. This can not be done by statutes. It will only come after adversity has taught us a hard lesson, and we combine to strike for commercial independence.

PROGRESS IN THE OLD NORTH STATE.

Another gleam of light is shedding its genial warmth over the enterprise of the North State. It is stated that the Carolina Central Railway, forming immediate connection between Charlotte and Wilmington, is nearly finished. It is true that "heaven seems to help those who help themselves," and if any place on the face of the globe deserves Divine favor, it is the inland city of Charlotte. This inland city is historic; its inhabitants have always been among the foremost in their devotion to constitutional liberty, and but few cities, perhaps, have made more persistent efforts to develop their natural resources, to advance their prosperity by all artificial means possible. A very able editorial appears in the DAILY OBSERVER upon this subject. We agree with the OBSERVER that there is no necessity for anything like rivalry to exist between the two sister cities. On the other hand, they will be more like two loving twins—one playing right into the hands of the other. Wilmington is the shipping port for North Carolina. All planters in the State should ship their cotton from her port; all merchants should arrange so as to have their imports brought the same way; and thus all would be assisting in building up a good direct trade between Wilmington and Liverpool. Of course these remarks refer to those planters and merchants who find the port of Wilmington accessible. Now, it strikes us that Charlotte ought to be the great granary of the State. Let her collect the agricultural products from the surrounding counties, and after paying herself for trouble and expense, let her carefully send all that is to be exported, to her sister city by the sea. All this may be done, and, then, how beautiful would be the harmonious interchange of friendly traffic.—Atlanta Constitution.

THE GRANGER AND THE SHEEP AND BIRDS.

Dr. Columbus Mills, Master of the North Carolina Grange and Mr. Lawrence, the Secretary of the same body, have been making efforts to secure the passage through the Legislature of bills to protect the sheep and the birds of the State.

The Morning Star has long advocated a stringent law protecting the birds, particularly the partridges, from wholesale destruction. The birds are the farmer's best friends. When the bug and caterpillar infest his crop who so potent an ally as the twittering denizen of the forest and old field?

The destruction of sheep by dogs is a nuisance the farmer has long ground under without avail. Sheep raising could be made one of our most profitable Carolina industries if the owner could feel secure in investing his means and time in it.

Let the Legislature, which seems to be an eminently practical body thoroughly devoted to the State's true interests, pass the measures asked for by the Grangers.

STATE NEWS.

The Statesville American is in fa of restoring the whipping-post and pillory for small offenders; Woodson, of the Raleigh News says that since his dog "Jack" got whipped by a lamb, "he never keered to progic along a sheep."

Francis S. Woodson, a brother of the local editor of the Raleigh News, was married in Yanceyville, Caswell county, on Wednesday last, to Miss Emma Patton.

Dr. J. M. Pleasant, well-known to newspaper readers in the Northern part of this State, has succeeded Col. W. E. Cameron as assistant editor of the Petersburg Index and Appeal.

Some-while rascals recently visited the residence of old Aunt Abby Home, in Wake county, fired guns and pistols in the windows and poured bushels of rocks on the house.

The Raleigh Sentinel says: During the sitting of the last Legislature a letter laid in the postoffice without postage for a long time. It was finally taken out by some of the members and it was a letter to his wife by one of the legislators. It went on to say, "Dear Betsy, I wish you could see what a nice room I am living in, and we have biscuits two times a day."

The Raleigh Sentinel says: Mr. S. B. Chappel, from Cedar Fork Township, has been "searching all day" for a pocket book with eleven dollars in it that he missed from his pocket yesterday. He got the pocket book back to-day, but is straining his eyes to see the eleven dollars. Mr. Chappel paid with gold. The owner has been found and your house, and as he walked off we noticed four horse coats protruding from his right side coat pocket.

We learn from the Gazette that Emmett Collins of Warren county in attempting to frighten a dog one day last week with a false face, was bitten. He then drew a Smith & Wesson pistol, and shot three times at the dog, the other three barrels failing to go off from which he inferred they were empty. Not so, however, as the sequel proved. After returning to the store, young Collins pointed the pistol at a negro man by the name of Howard, pulled the trigger and shot him through the shoulder. They wound, though painful, is not considered mortal. It is indeed surprising that a man of good sense should ever be guilty of such a silly act as pointing a deadly weapon at another. There is never any fun in it, and the result is often fatal.

THE best advice that can be given to persons suffering from Dyspepsia, Bilious Complaints, Colic, Constipation, Sick Headache, Fever and Ague, Nervous Debility, or of any disorder affecting the stomach, liver or kidneys, is to tone cleanse and regulate them by DR. TUTT'S VEGETABLE LIVER PILLS. They act very mildly, yet they effectively restore the functional action of the digestive organs and the intestines, and renovate the whole system. A distinguished clergyman of New York speaking of this remedy, characterizes it as "one of the special blessings of the nineteenth century. The certainty of its healing effect," said he, "and the immunity from danger when administered to children or to adults, advise its use as a popular use it has attained." None would long suffer from lung complaint if they knew how easily they can be cured by this remedy. By its timely use all pulmonary disease may be arrested, and consumption—the scourge that sweeps away thousands every year—would be checked in its commencement. Persons with a seated cough, which breaks all night, and which prevents the expectorator on going to bed, they may be sure of unbroken sleep and refreshing rest. Possessing a very pleasant taste it is easily administered to children. Sold by all Druggists. Laboratory, 48 and 20 Cortlandt st., New York. feb 10 deadwily

READ, READ, READ. GREAT DISCOVERY.

Bradley's Patent Enamel Paint, MADE FROM PURE WHITE LEAD, LINSEED OIL AND ZINC, AND ALWAYS READY FOR USE.

READ THE FOLLOWING TESTIMONIALS:

From Prof W G Simmons, Wake Forest College, North Carolina. Wake Forest College, N. C., October 4, 1874.

Mr C P Knight—Dear Sir: We have for several months been using your Bradley's Patent Enamel Paint on our College Building, and are well pleased with it. Though it was applied by one having no experience in such work, yet we have a good job. We shall continue to use it—believing that in point of economy, durability and facility of application, it is superior to any other pigment-based trade market. W G SIMMONS.

From Messrs Englehard & Saunders, Editors and Proprietors "Journal." WILKINSON, N. C. Dec. 26, 1873.

We desire to call special attention to the advertisement of Bradley's Patent Enamel Paint. We can recommend it from a knowledge of its merits. Some of the employees of this office having purchased some of this paint, in quantity, and by the operation have used it, and speak in the highest terms of it, after a trial of several months. While it is as durable as ordinary paint, it has a much finer finish, and its cost and convenience will recommend it in all need of paint.

From Mr C P Knight—Sir: The paint came safe to hand as ordered, 25 gallons each, and 3 buckets, 1 gallon each. As practice was slack, I did the job myself. Two weeks (not constant) work, completed the house, two coats; the last coat I applied thick, and it is now generally considered that for "enamel," like hardness, and body and harmony of colors, there is not a handsomer job in the place. I saved sixty-five cents by the operation—which is an item just now with the "Southern people." It should be generally adopted in this State. Any country lad can apply it. I have never doubted in such stock as "testimonials," but I feel so forcibly the great adaptability of your "Enamel Paint" to the wants of our people, in excellence of material, in beauty of color, and in the fact of its being "ready mixed," that I give you permission (if it is desirable to you) to make what use you think proper of this letter. Very respectfully and truly, S. GILL, M. D.

From R W Rayne, of the Firm of Bartlett & Rayne, 48 Carondelet Street. NEW ORLEANS, January 26, 1874.

C P Knight, Esq—No 93, West Lombard Street Baltimore—Dear Sir: It affords me much pleasure to advise you how well satisfied I am with Bradley's Patent Enamel Paint. Having used all I bought of you in painting a large cottage (new) at Ocean Springs, Miss., in the shape of a barn, I have come out so admirably, and very far superior to ordinary metal paints, and colors not subject to fade, besides being decidedly cheaper. It is my purpose to send you another order for more very soon. Yours respectfully, R W RAYNE.

Always ready for use and easily applied. Sold by the gallon. One gallon covers twenty square feet of two coats. Liberal Inducements to the Trade. C. P. KNIGHT, Sole Agent, 93 West Lombard Street, Baltimore July 23-6m
