LOCAL DOTS.

Had a good deal of weather yesterday.
Some alarm was created on North Trade street on Thursday, by the burning out of a foul chimney in the residence of Col. John E. Brown. Water was poured in from the roof, the roof dampened, and no harm was done the house.

The March number of the Rural Carolinian is on our table, and is full up to its usual standard. To such of our farmers as desire a real first-class Southern agricultural monthly, we cordially recommend this.
Published at Charleston, S. C., by Walker, Evans & Cogswell.

The Bird Bill.

Mecklenburg county is included in the provisions of the bird bill, which has just become a law by act of Assembly. The bill prohibits the killing of wild turkeys, pheasants, partridges and quails, except upon one's own lands, between the first of April and the first of October, and to prohibit the selling of birds except upon a person's own land.

Stolen Coat.

As a colored teamster was driving past the Charlotte Hotel yesterday, he espied one of his coats on the back of a flashy-looking nigger. "Where you gwine wid dat coat?" asked he. "No wha," tremulously answered the thief. "Yes you is, Dat's my coat so off wid it!" commanded John, something which the other obeyed with alacrity, and then ran away as fast as his rascally legs could carry him.

Arrington's Circus.

We are pleased to know that the Circus Company, which is being organized by Capt. T.
G. Arrington, of the North Carolina Railroad Company, will soon be complete. When in Charlotte a few days ago, he found man to take charge of the procuring and another to perform the duties of the act enter.
The prospects of the early formation of the company are fine, as only a few more persons and animals are needed to make it complete.

Jurisdiction Enlarged.

The bill asking the Mayor of the City of Charlotte a Judge, and his Court a special Court, has passed both branches of the General Assembly, and is now a law, so that Mayor Davidson is now, as the Senator from Mecklenburg writes him, "a Judge, not only in fact and merits, but in name." The provisions of this bill are such as to enlarge his powers to final jurisdiction of many cases which he has hitherto been forced to send to the Superior Court. We will publish the full text of the bill, so soon as received.

The Cabarrus Court House.

We learn that our Cabarrus county friends are already taking steps looking to the rebuilding of their Court House, which was destroyed by fire between two and three weeks ago. We learn, further, that there is a probability of their securing the services of our talented young architect, Mr.
George Welch, to draw the plan and superintend the work. We hope they will do so, as he is a fine architect, and gives satisfaction in every case where employed.

Look to Your Windows.

At this time, when house-breakings and attempts at window-breakings are being so frequently made, it behooves our citizens to exercise great care in closing and locking their doors at night, and in fastening down their windows. On the streets of our city, any day now, can be seen a large class of men who look like regular "bummers," and who are not too good for anything. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

Shelby Banner.

This paper has been revived, and the first number of the "new issue" is on our table.
It is edited and published by Messrs W. C.
Durham and J. L. Webb. The Banner of the present is a vast improvement upon its predecessor of that name. It is a 28 column paper, well filled with original and selected matter, which is well arranged in the columns, and is beautifully printed on type as good as new and on a good press. We know both the young men at the helm, and we know that they have the sense and the vim to get up a good paper. We hope their efforts will be appreciated and that they will be well sustained by the good people of Cleveland and the adjoining counties.

Death of Jos. L. Carson.

We learn by a private letter received yesterday from Shelby, that Jos. L. Carson, Esq., of Rutherford, died at his residence in that town, one day last week, of typhoid fever. Mr. Carson was a lawyer of considerable prominence in his section. Upon Judge Bynum's elevation to the Supreme Court bench, he was appointed by Gov.
Caldwell prosecuting attorney for this judicial district, and as such served for several months. Last summer he became an independent candidate for the same position, but was defeated by the regular Conservative nominee, Maj. W. J. Montgomery. Mr.
Carson, at the time of his death, was, we judge, about 45 years of age.

Mecklenburg Zouaves.

This organization held a meeting last night, when the following officers were elected by acclamation: Captain—N. C. Harry; 1st Lieutenant—Thos. Whitman; 2nd Lieutenant—W. H. Gray; Orderly Sergeant—H. Mc Smith. Others of the rank will be appointed by the Captain.
Last evening 50 enrolled members of the company were present. Monday and Friday nights of each week were chosen as meeting nights. We trust that the number of members will increase rapidly, and that the citizens of Charlotte will extend all encouragement to the "Zouaves." The more organizations Charlotte has on the occasion of the Centennial, the better display will she make, and the better will she be able to entertain, in a becoming manner, her numerous guests on that occasion.

The Adventures of a Statesville Man.

The longest route from Raleigh to Statesville, has recently been discovered by a resident of the latter place. He left ye good old town for Raleigh, on business, which, having attended to, he set out to return home, reaching Salisbury about 3 o'clock in the morning, he got out of the train, half asleep, and bought a ticket up the Western Road to Statesville. Having done this he got right back on the North Carolina train, and did not discover his mistake until after the train had started. He then accepted the situation as best he could, and came on to Charlotte, determined to take the Atlantic, Tennessee & Ohio train from here that afternoon. But he slipped up in his calculations again, and got left. He had pressing business in Statesville next day, and rather than wait for the next direct train from here, concluded to go around by Salisbury on the North Carolina Railroad and up to Stateville next morning. He went to sleep directly after the train started, and as it stopped at a station, hearing the cries of porters and the moving of omnibuses, he bounced off, to find out, just as the train went off and left him, that he had set himself down at Concord. He stayed there all day, jerking out an oath or two occasionally, and took the next morning's train for Charlotte.
Spending the day here, he boarded the Stateville train that afternoon, and finally got home, having been on the way for about 74 hours.

The Opera House Last Evening.

The New York Comedy Company fairly outdid itself last night. "Lady of Lyons" was on the boards, and to say that it was very well played is not putting the case strong enough; the rendition of it was excellent. The story is one of Bulwer's finest imaginations, and his strong points were brought out last evening in fine style. Clara Wildman acquired herself in her usual handsome manner, as Pauline. F. J. Wildman, as Clairville, was splendid. He threw his soul into his part, and took it well. At times his acting was powerful, and he riveted the closest attention of the crowd. Mr.
Thompson as Col. Dumas, — as Glavin, and Miss Kate Collins, as Madame Deschap-elles, all did themselves great credit. The piece was, indeed, well presented, and the interest in it was maintained from beginning to end. Every one spoke of its rendition in terms the most complimentary and whatever of popular favor the troupe may have lost the night before, they fully regained last night.

Our remarks about last evening's performance come conscientiously, just as did our strictures on Thursday night's performance. We did not think "Hunchback" well played, and said so; we did think "Lady of Lyons" splendidly played, and say so.
This is the last evening the Wildmans will be with us. This evening there will be a double bill, comprising "Lost in London," and "Solon Shingle." We would be glad to see the Opera House filled and do confidently look for a large crowd. If all means go to hear Clara sing, if for nothing else.

The Election Thursday—The Fence Law Defeated.

Although very little had been said in advance about the election which took place Thursday on the question of having the fence law in Charlotte Township, the vote polled was a pretty fair one. The negroes, always prompt to vote, came manfully up and voted against it in a body, while the whites, with almost equal unanimity voted for it. There was a good deal of work done on both sides, those who took any interest at all in it, taking a very lively interest.
The following is the vote:

FIRST WARD.
For Fence.....154
Against Fence.....39
Majority for Fence.....115

SECOND WARD.
For Fence.....58
Against Fence.....122
Majority Against.....64

THIRD WARD.
For Fence.....69
Against Fence.....180
Majority Against.....111

FOURTH WARD.
For Fence.....105
Against Fence.....114
Majority against.....9

Total number of votes polled, 944; for fence, 355, against, 455; majority against, 66.

So a quietus has been put upon the fence question in this township, for the present, at least.

[We regret that this vote was left out of yesterday's paper, for which it was prepared.
It was put in type, but the foreman, in making up the form, overlooked it.]

Complimentary Resolutions.

On the second day of last February, the officers of the Fire Department of the city of Charlotte, who visited Chester, S. C., on the 25th of January, and participated in the annual celebration of the "Stonewall" Fire Company of that town, held a meeting and passed the following complimentary resolutions, which are being printed in colors in our Job Department, on a large card, which after being nicely framed, will be quite an ornament to the walls of the rooms of the different fire companies interested:

WHEREAS, the officers of the Fire Department of the City of Charlotte, did accept an invitation from the "Stonewall" Fire Company of Chester, S. C., to participate in the 5th Anniversary of the organization of that Company, on the 25th day of January, 1875, and whereas, they desire to express their sense of gratitude for the kindness and hospitality extended to them on that occasion; therefore, be it

Resolved, that we would be remiss in duty did we not express our unbounded appreciation which we felt, on the occasion of the visit, and we take this method to inform the "Stonewall" Fire Company, as well as the citizens of Chester, that we appreciate the kindness and generous hospitality extended to us on that occasion, and that we shall ever treasure the recollection of the visit, as one of the most enjoyable, that it has ever been our fortune to participate in which has added another link, which binds us together as friends, to our brothers of that place, and we hope the acquaintance and friendship thus begun, may continue as long as such organizations as ours may be necessary.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the "Stonewall" Fire Company of Chester, as a token of regard.

Alexandria Post Office.

Some time last summer, at the request of several citizens of upper Mecklenburg, we wrote out a petition, asking the Postmaster General to rescind the order requiring the opening of the mail at the blacksmith shop two miles this side of Alexandria, and restore the post office at the railroad station.

This petition, after some delay, was signed by about forty of the citizens most interested, and forwarded to us. We took it to the Postmaster in Charlotte and asked his approval. This he willingly granted, but stated that it would be necessary to have the approval of the Postmaster at Statesville, the other end of the line, before the Post Office Department would be likely to grant the prayer of the petitioners. Mr.
McDonald, accordingly, took the petition from us with the intention of sending it to Statesville prior to sending it to the Post Office Department. Mr. Tom Long, Col. Tom Long, who looks after Uncle Sam's postal business in this part of the country, Some time after this we saw Col. L. personally, and stated the case to him, and he promised to get the matter through for us, and through us, for our friends near Alexandria, at the earliest practical moment.

Since that time the matter has escaped our attention, until reminded of it by Mr.
W. W. Abernathy, who called to see us about it on Friday. Has the petition been pigeon-holed, and allowed to sleep all this time to the detriment of the people of upper Mecklenburg? We call upon the Postmaster here to rise and explain, and if the explanation is not satisfactory, we take this method to inform our friends, that if they will get up another petition, we will see to it that it never goes to sleep until it has at least reached the proper office in Washington, and if the prayer be refused, we will see to it that our Representatives in Congress are properly appealed to, to press the matter.

There has been too much delay already, but at this writing we know not who to blame, and can only say that our individual skirts are clear.

Court Yesterday.

The following comprised the business of the day:

J. D. Sampson & Co. vs. William Sloan.
This was an action brought by the plaintiffs, merchants of the city of New York, against William Sloan, as one of the partners of the firm of Wm. Richards & Co., to recover some $800 or 1,000 for goods sold in 1869-70, to said firm. The plaintiffs contended that Sloan was liable because he was a partner of the firm of Richards & Co. at the time of the purchase. The defendant Sloan swore that he had retired from the firm on the 1st of January, 1868, and that he then ceased to be connected with the firm as a partner.
The plaintiffs claimed that Sloan, having once been a partner of the firm, if the plaintiffs knew it and had dealings with the firm while he was a partner, and had no notice of Sloan's withdrawal, that they were entitled to recover. The jury found all the issues in the plaintiffs' favor, except the one that Sloan was a partner at the time the goods were purchased. Jones & Johnston appeared for the plaintiffs, and C.
Dowd for the defendant.

Merritt Alexander, et al. vs. Board of Commissioners of Mecklenburg County and the Board of Trustees of Mallard Creek Township. This was a motion for injunction in a suit brought by plaintiffs re defendants.
An election had been held in the Township under the fence law, and there was a tie vote. The Board of Commissioners gave the casting vote in favor of the fence. The plaintiff, as a citizen of the Township, brought this action to restrain the defendant from carrying the law into execution, alleging that the commissioner had no authori-thority under law to cast the vote. The Judge sustained the motion and continued the injunction. Shipp & Bailey for defendants, J. E. Brown for plaintiff.

State vs. Zeno Hulston. The defendant was charged with arson, burning the house of Mrs. Nixon, on W. H. Bailey represented the State, and Jones & Johnston the defendant. The defendant was discharged, the State not being able to make out a case.

State vs. Arthur Hayes. W. H. Bailey represented the solicitor and prosecuted; Jones & Johnston for defendant. The defendant was charged with larceny of a saddle from the Capt. mine owner. The jury brought in a verdict of "not guilty," and the defendant was discharged.

Court adjourned for the term yesterday afternoon. Judge Brock had an almost unprecedented amount of work within the two weeks, having disposed entirely of the criminal docket, and gotten far into the civil list. He is a power on the bench, and even surpasses the high expectations which had been felt concerning him during the campaign. His Honor leaves this morning for his home in Lincoln, but will return this afternoon, on his way to Polk Court vs.
Spartanburg, S. C. While there this evening and to-night he will hear two injunction cases, an attachment case, and probably some motions.

[COMMUNICATED.]

A Case of Honorable Depravity.
EDITOR OBSERVER:—
You will allow me space in the columns of your valuable journal to give publicity to an incident that has this day disturbed the Christian holidays of our year. During the Christmas holidays of the past year, Philip Blake, "an inhabitant of the colored way of parting his hair," forgot the names of Mr.
W. W. Woods, one of our most worthy citizens, to an order, and presented it at the store of a gentleman, who resides in our county, near Cameron, he invested it in whisky, that would create within an honest man a propensity to "shale." A warrant being issued for his arrest, he was taken before a Court of Inquiry, and after hearing evidence, it was ordered that he be committed for trial for the offence of forgery. Not being tendered, the prisoner was placed in the hands of the proper officers to be delivered to the jailor of the county. The constable having associated himself too intimately with "John Barclaycorn," at an early hour, struck camp by the roadside, and left his horse and buggy at the tender mercies of this delinquent son of Ham. After several unsuccessful efforts to arouse that faithful custodian of the law from his lethargic slumbers, the prisoner possessed himself of the commitment, and appropriating the conveyance to his own use, hastened with all possible despatch to this place, and delivered the commitment, conveyance and himself to the jailor of the county. The constable is hourly expected to arrive, but as the jailor has all the necessary papers, he says that the forthcoming of the officer is not material.

RESPECTFULLY,
GROVINE,
Sylvania, Ga. February 18th, 1875.
