LOCAL DOGS.
Fifth Sunday in Lent.
March has behaved very well thus far, as regards the wind.
There were 11 police arrests last week—6 white and 5 colored.
The way they did persecute John Barleycorn yesterday!
Gardening is the order of the day, since the recent rains.
To-day is Passion Sunday, when the Forty Hours Devotion of the Catholic Church will commence.
Notwithstanding Court is just over, there are now 12 prisoners in the county jail—2 white and 10 colored.
The Board of Aldermen will meet tomorrow night in regular session, at the hall over the Market House.
There were a great many people and a great deal of stirring about on the streets yesterday, and the city had an unmistakable air of business.
New goods are beginning to come in pretiously, especially into the stores of the wholesale merchants. The outlook for the Spring trade is good.
The increase in circulation and usefulness of THE OBSERVER, is recognized by our patrons in their increased favors. We have never before been deluged with such a shower of new advertisements.
The city was posted yesterday with the bills of the Mexican show, which is to visit Charlotte on the 18th and 19th. It is a kind of a circus performance.
The building committee of the Second Presbyterian Church feel sure that the church will be completed early in week.
The plastering will be finished this week.
Mr. W. G. Bateman, express messenger between Charlotte and Richmond, was married in Concord yesterday to Miss Mattie Motley, of this city. This was an elopement.
One of the pumps of the engine gave out while the train on the Western Division of the Carolina Central Railroad was coming to Charlotte yesterday afternoon, causing a delay of five hours.
Mr. A. V. Sullivan, who suicided at High Point on Friday, will be buried at that place to-day. We learn that a deep gloom shrouds the village, for no edification of the place was more universally expected.
A man with a bagpipe and a fiddle, appeared upon the streets yesterday, to divide with the organ grinders the honors, the nickles and the approving smiles of the mob. "One who doth tread upon another's heels, so fast they follow."

The Meeting Last Night.
Quite a respectable meeting of the citizens of Charlotte was held at our editorial rooms last night, to discuss the coming Centennial.
Dr. Jos. Graham was called to the chair and Chas. B. Jones and Capt. R. A. Shotwell were appointed Secretaries. A number of speeches were made, and several important committees will be appointed, probably in time for their names to appear in Tuesday's paper.
Agent Wanted.
An advertisement in another column announces the fact that an agent for the Globe Mutual Life Insurance Company is wanted in Charlotte. Mr. Hutson, the general agent for this State, is at the Central for a day or two, and would be pleased to see any one who would like to engage in such capacity.
Evidences of Spring.
Raised windows, open doors, and people sitting out in front of the hotels and stores last night, where remains, if any were needed, that the Spring is again on hand.
If the warmth increases in proportion to what it has for the past two or three days, a few more can be happy and enjoy his religion at church to day in a linen duster and a paper collar.

Personal.
Rev. Alfred J. Morrison has arrived in this city with his bride, Miss Atkinson, of Hampton College, Va. They are the guests of Gen. D. H. Hill.
Messrs. D. Appleton and D. S. Appleton, Jr., the great book publishers of New York City, and the proprietors of Appleton's Journal are at the Central Hotel. They have been South and are now returning home.
Getting Out of the Galab.— There is an old dicker in this city whose business is "cleaning up" around stores and residences, and it is by this means that he makes his living. He gets drunk occasionally and gets put in the calaboose, and works his way out of this reformatory institution by cleaning it up. He considers this a regular job of his, and would get very angry if any one else were allowed to clean it up, whether for money or as a means of getting out of it.

The Gauge Question.
The Raleigh News says, concerning the recent decision of the Supreme Court, in reference to the lease of the North Carolina Railroad, that in the lease a provision authorizing the lessee to change the gauge of the N. C. R. R. either between Greensboro and Charlotte, or throughout the entire length of the road. The R. & D. R. Co. proposed about two years since to change the gauge of that part of the road between Greensboro and Charlotte to make it the same gauge with the roads running north from Greensboro and south from Charlotte.
When the R. & D. R. Co. threatened to make this alteration, the Attorney General on behalf of the State interfered, and brought suit to enjoin the proposed change. Judge Alberson heard the case, and granted an injunction forbidding the change of gauge.
The R. & D. R. Co. appealed, and the case has now been pending in the Supreme Court for nearly two years. Thursday decision was rendered. Judge Settle delivering the opinion.
The Supreme Court held:
1st. That the lease is good and binding.
2nd. That the R. & D. Railroad Co. has right to alter the gauge between Greensboro and Charlotte, and throughout the entire length of the Railroad, at any time.

The Demagogue.
Ex-Governor Vance had a crowded house last night. His lecture on "The Demagogy of the South" was a model of wit, humor, and practical sense, and was delivered with the eloquence and force that is characteristic of this distinguished son of the Old North State."—Richmond Dispatch, of Friday.

The Babies.
The pleasant weather brings out the "little loves of the nursery" in force, and numbers of the little fairies can be seen on the streets, toddling along or riding in their cages.
"Holes of hearts and of households," Angels of God in disguise, His sunlight still sleeps in their tresses, His glory still beams in their eyes."

Pumps.
If some man would come this way with a cheap lot of pumps, he could do a good business. The others under some of the stores have been full of water, and it takes a long time to bail it out.—Greensboro News North State.

There is a chance for Mr. Greenso, the "Duke Pump" man, to whom we commended the above paragraph, in the "Duke Pump" is one of the best, if not the best, in the market, and as it is a home enterprise, it should be encouraged by our people.

The Charlotte Centennial.
The Raleigh Light Infantry, as we learn from the News, having already secured their camp equipment for the Grand Centennial Campaign at Charlotte, and for the first time will be instructed in the important part of a soldier's life, camp and guard duty.
We would be glad to learn that the Wilmington Light Infantry, so recently organized, would put in an appearance on the same occasion. But they are as yet, ununiformed, unarmed and un drilled, and the Centennial is but little more than two months off.—Wilmington Journal.

The High Bridge on the Statesville Railroad.
There has been some talk about the treble leading to the bridge over Third Creek, between the A. T. & R. Railroad, being in a dangerous condition, and to satisfy the public that there was no foundation for such reports, the Superintendent had Mr. E. N. Freeland, a man who has had considerable experience in the business, to examine it, and he reports as follows: "I went yesterday and examined the trestle thoroughly, and I think you may safely say that there is no danger in running the trains over it."

The Speech of Mr. Reid.
We make no apology for presenting the speech of J. B. Reid, Esq., one of our representatives in the Legislature, delivered at the time the usury bill was pending before that body. We are clearly of the opinion that Mr. B. was right, and particularly so when he refers to a want of confidence between the people and the State, being in a dangerous condition, and to satisfy the public
ports, the Superintendent had Mr. E. N. Freeland, a man who has had considerable experience in the business, to examine it, and
and examined the trestle thoroughly, and I think you may safely say that there is no danger in running the trains over it."
