LOCAL DOGS.

Morris' Minstrels to-morrow and next night.
Next Saturday night, the Convention to nominate a Mayor, meets at the Court House. Then we'll know what's what.

We are requested to state that the Amateur Musical Society is invited to meet tonight at the residence of Mr. Lewis W. Sanders, at 8 o'clock.

Hon. John Kerr, of Caswell, has been invited to deliver the address on the occasion of the Centennial Celebration. He is a splendid orator.

We hope the mud will be about as bad on the day of the municipal election as it is now.
Then people will not vote for any one except they are certain that he will go for improving the streets.

The N. C. Life Insurance Company.

A telegram received in this city yesterday, by T. H. Houghton, District Agent, from Raleigh, announces that Hon. Kemp F. Battle, the President of the North Carolina Life Insurance Company, will visit us to-morrow for the purpose of forming a local advisory board, among the stock and policy holders of this young, energetic, and successful home company. We know of nothing that would add more to the success of this company than this method of identifying it with our people, and our interests in the formation of an advisory board in Charlotte, composed of our liveliest and best business men.

Rocking a Train.

On Sunday afternoon while the mail train of the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta Railroad was on its way northward, some accommodations threw several rocks at it just before it reached Chester. One of these shattered a window glass in the ladies' coach, and created considerable consternation among the lady passengers. The train did not stop, however, and the rocks were not detected.
When six miles this side of Chester, another party rocked the train. One rock was hurled through a window next to the one which had been struck before, breaking out the glass and puncturing the face of a gentleman passenger, with glass.

Nothing would so soon put a stop to such devilry as this, as thirty-nine lashes on the bare back.

Badly Covered Tracks.

We clip the following from the local columns of the Lynchburg (Va.) News, of Saturday last:

"He who pramblatheth the streets for news these days, wasteth his strength for naught, and findeth to his sorrow that the future London as a field for items, is a delusion and a snare."

We wrote that item, word for word, and it was published in the OBSERVER of the 25th.
The News man thought it was a "good thing" and clipped it for his local columns. We have no objection to this in the world; on the other hand we feel rather complimented and only mention the matter to advise our neighbor of the "Old Dominion" that, hereafter, when he "cabbages" our locals, to change them so as to make them read "Lynchburg," instead of Charlotte.

Easter Day.

The Lenten season is over, the days of fasting and humiliation are ended, and with solemn ceremony, the church has commemorated the sufferings and death of the blessed Saviour. On Sunday last, the Christian world celebrated with anthems of joy the glorious resurrection. The services in the churches which celebrate the festival, were of peculiar interest.

In the Catholic Church, the altar was dressed with rare flowers, tapers in profusion were arranged at every available spot, the priest was clad in vestments of white, and special care was taken to render the services the most jubilant, in a Christian sense, of the many festivals of the calendar. The Episcopal Church was dressed in tasteful manner, the choir chanted the most beautiful Te Deum and Laudate. A sermon was carefully prepared on the feast of the day—
"The Resurrection."

Robbing a Store.

On Sunday morning about 4 o'clock, Policeman Blackwelder, in passing along Fourth Street, between Tryon and College, discovered that one of the doors of the wholesale grocery establishment of R. M. Miller & Sons, was standing open. He repaired at once to the residence of R. M. Miller, Esq., the senior partner of the firm, and notified him of the fact. An investigation revealed that the thief or thieves had cut or broken the glass in the transom and getting inside, opened the door, which was fastened with a bar, and were thus enabled to remove from the store whatever articles they chose. How much was taken out cannot be accurately estimated. The Messrs Miller think that they were robbed of some 600 lbs. of lard, some 10 half barrels of mackerel and an unknown quantity of bacon, and perhaps other articles. In a stock of this size it is difficult to ascertain the extent of the loss.

There is no clue to the thief and no immediate prospect of recovering any of the stolen property. This is the second time within a year, that the store of Messrs Miller & Sons has been depreciated upon, an entrance having been effected both times in the same manner.

The Centennial—Letters from Disting- guished Gentlemen.

The Executive Committee of the Centennial celebration, having decided to invite Gen. Joseph E. Johnston to act as Chief Marshal on the occasion, a letter was addressed him, begging that he agree to accept the position. The following reply from the distinguished warrior, was received yesterday, and it gives us great pleasure to lay it before our readers:

SAVANNAH, GA., March 20, 1875.
Thos W. Deane, Secretary &c., Dear Sir:—I have just had the pleasure to receive your favour of the 24th inst. in forming me of my selection as Chief Marshal on the occasion of the celebration of the Mechlenburg Declaration of Independence.

I accept the position with great pleasure, having a high appreciation of the courage and patriotism of the North Carolinians with whom I have been associated, and a most agreeable recollection of my residence in Charlotte. Most respectfully, Yours truly,
J. E. JOHNSTON.

In connection with the above we publish with pleasure the following extract from a letter received from Hon. Alfred M. Scales, member of Congress from the Fifth District of North Carolina. This extract will show the view taken of the Mechlenburg Declaration by the gallant and patriotic Scales:

Permit me to express my high appreciation of the action of your committee, and to add the hope that the celebration will be worthy of the State and her people and to increase our State pride.

Lecturer Probably Coming.

We had the honor of a call, yesterday, from Rev. Dr. Furman, a distinguished South Carolinian. He was passing through on his way to Spartanburg, S. C., where he will lecture to-night. As a lecturer he has achieved a reputation which is indeed enviable, and we learn with pleasure that there is a prospect of his delivering one of his lectures in Charlotte at an early day.

Dr. Furman is a Baptist minister, but has been compelled, by failing health, to retire from the active duties of the ministry.

Mayor's Court.

It began to look, yesterday, around the Mayor's office, like the "good old days" when fights and rumpuses were more numerous than they have been latterly, and when items were abundant.

The first case called yesterday morning, was that of the city v. David Stephenson, who had been drunk and disorderly. Day-id found out that it was worth $5 to be drunk and disorderly in Charlotte.

James Mills, white, was charged with being drunk and disorderly and with having swindled David Stephenson. He was fined $5 and bound over to Court.

Wm Young and Hattie Young, colored, husband and wife, were up for a domestic row. The woman was fined $2 and the man $1.

Appointed Soliciting Agent.

We learn with pleasure that our friend, Capt. F. N. Waddell, has been appointed by Col. A. S. Buford, general soliciting agent for the Piedmont Air Line Railroad, from Richmond to Atlanta. We congratulate Capt. Waddell upon securing so pleasant a position, but not so much as we do the Piedmont Air Line. They have engaged a gentleman who is admirably qualified in all respects for the work before him. If we had looked around among all our acquaintances for a gentleman who, above all others, is best adapted to fill efficiently this position, we should have placed our hand upon Capt.
Waddell. We know that he will give the utmost satisfaction, and his host of friends in this city and all over the State, will join us in hoping that he may find his new field all that he wishes.

Street Fight.

Two drunken characters, Yan Galloway and a man named Fox, had a fight of about half an hour's duration, on Trade street, just below the corner of College, yesterday afternoon. Both were very drunk, and the mob which assembled in the street to witness it, completely blocked the pavement. Galloway's drunkenness and awkwardness finally knocked the other into the gutter, and injured him probably in a serious manner.
At this stage, the police came up and marched Galloway off; Fox was so much hurt that it was found necessary to haul him home on a drag, and at the last account we had of him, he was speechless. Galloway was brought over to appear before the Mayor this morning.

The Opera House Last Evening.

Never has been witnessed on the Charlotte boards, such a scene as transpired at the Opera House last night. The occasion was the appearance of "Iida Cerito's Lady Minstrels," and the character of the performance to be given, having been pretty well understood in advance, a crowd, in which was represented every class and condition of people, save one, assembled there.
There were old men, gray-haired heads of families, young men, and boys—almost children, whose minds are now susceptible of every passing influence, and who are unquestionably worse this morning for having seen last night's orgies. There was not a lady in the opera house, and with this bare exception, a representative of every other class known to so-called civilization, was there.

We cannot and would not describe the scenes and incidents which went to make up the entertainment (?). Some of the minstrelsy was very good, but, take that part of the show as a whole, and it was no more than ordinary. The singing was simply extraordinary. The musical feature throughout, was a glorious failure.

And as to the remaining part. It was disgusting, and nothing else. The indecent ex-posure of person, the base, vulgar allusions, the very triumphant looks of the females at the moment when they rendered themselves most infamous, shocked every refined sensibility, and made us blush that we are of such a creation. All sort of immorality in man can find in us a simple, passing complicity, but in woman, such brazen degradation, is disgusting beyond compare.

We hope never to see again such a sight in our opera house as was witnessed there last night. It contained every inducement to lasciviousness, and not one moral or elevating feature. We pray that Charlotte may, in future, be delivered from such companies.

Public Meeting.

The citizens of Charlotte are requested to meet in Convention, at the Court House, on the night of April 3rd, at 8 o'clock, to nominate a suitable person, to be voted for, as Mayor, at the approaching election.
