ANNOUNCEMENT.

I have appointed Dr. W. H. Gregory, my lawful agent to collect claims due me either for job work or for subscriptions. He is authorized to receipt for any sum that may be placed in his hands for collection.

CHARLES H. JONES,
Editor & Proprietor.

Office of the CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, March
1875. mar21-1f

Four columns of new advertisements and fifteen new subscribers in one day, is something to make us feel like we ought to bring about it, but we won't.

Mrs. McRae—David request us to say that their new stock of Spring and Summer goods are coming in daily. Their advertisement will appear tomorrow.

The Morris Minstrels.

The public are informed that the first exhibition of this company in Charlotte, will be given at the opera house tonight. We have the authority of the New York Mercury for saying that they are strictly moral in their delineations of character.

A Big Sale.
Mr. W. H. Gregory, merchandise broker of this city, sold to Messrs. R. M. Miller & Sons, on yesterday; 300 boxes of bacon. This shows not only the prosperity of our city, but the energy and enterprise of one of our largest houses. This is the largest sale to any one house that we have ever heard of being made in Charlotte.

The Can-Can.
The young married man who on Monday, got a friend to write him an official looking order to attend a called meeting of the Knights of Pythias, stepped down home about 11 o'clock at night and joined with his wife in denunciation of Can-Cans and deplored the vitiated taste which induced family men to attend them. Poor woman!

Street Material.
We suggest to the city authorities that a cellar is being dug in rear of the post office, and clay can now be had with little trouble, and without price. Former experience has shown that there is nothing so suitable for macadamizing streets as red clay, and we call attention to this new lot that it may be put where it will do the most good.

The local historian feels that it devolves upon him to make a statement, and he proceeds to do it by saying that the advertisements poured in yesterday until they did not give the old man a chance. Several fine large lies which he had concocted especially for to-day's paper, are left out, but one day or other, if he is spared he will ring them in.

Saturday Night's Convention.

We would again remind our citizens that the convention to nominate a candidate for Mayor, will meet at the Court House on Saturday night. When we reflect upon how important to the welfare of Charlotte it is to have a good Mayor, the necessity of a general attendance upon this convention becomes apparent. We hope to see the Court House full and to hear an expression of the sentiments of the people as to who shall be our next Mayor.

The Centennial.
A friend proposes that the twentieth of May be observed as a general holiday, and some arrangement made so that the citizens can attend the Centennial at Charlotte. Excursion trains will most probably be run from this city, and it is expected that a large number of Wilmingtonians will be present to assist in the honors to be paid to the day.

Wilmington Journal.
The Weekly Observer.
We know it will be considered somewhat vain, but we feel like we are entitled to publish the following from a friend in Catawba county, in regard to the weekly edition of our paper. Writing upon private business he adds the following postscript to his letter:

"N. B. I wish to say that among all the papers and magazines I am now taking, that the WEEKLY OBSERVER is one. It is about the top of the list out of fifteen different papers."

We thank our discriminating friend for his kind words, and while doing so would take occasion to say that this is a specimen of letters which are being daily received, gratifying us upon the success of the OBSERVER as a news and family paper.

The Centennial—Letters from Prominent Gentlemen.

We lay before our readers this morning, letters received yesterday from James Barron Hope, Esq., the poet-editor of the Norfolk (Va.) Landmark; Gen. Wm. B. Cox and Gen. F. H. Rose. These letters are all very enthusiastic in tone and will serve to excite a deeper interest in the grand event which we propose to celebrate:

NORFOLK, Va., March 27th, 1875.
DEAR SIR: In reply to your note of the 2d, I have to say that I appreciate very highly your offer to contribute to the Centennial, and I accept it with great pleasure.

With my most cordial wishes for the success of your grand enterprise,

Yours very truly yours,

JAMES BARRON HOPE,
Thos. W. Dealey, Esq., Secy' Centennial, etc., Charlotte, N. C.
