

The State... Last week 1,333 bales of cotton were sold in Raleigh.

A sweet sixteen is writing love stories for the Weldon News.

The editor of the Danbury Reporter is 80 years old and is not ashamed to own it.

The residence of Col. F. M. Parker, of Halifax county, was destroyed by fire last week.

Monroe will hold a public meeting tomorrow night to see if he can get a fire company.

Capt. Tyson and a negro were thrown into the water near the wharf and narrowly escaped a watery grave.

There is talk in Raleigh of inviting Andy Johnson to deliver the address at the next State Fair.

Miss Anna Dickinson will lecture in Raleigh some time in April, on either 'John of Arc' or 'What is a Hindu?'

Shelby ladies will give a concert for the benefit of the Baptist Church, on the evenings of the 21st and 23rd of April.

A revival which has already done much good, is in progress at the First Street Methodist Church of Wilmington.

Mr. Ford, the Penitentiary guard who was badly cut by three negro prisoners who assaulted him on Saturday and escaped, has died of his injuries.

The Reporter thinks that a Sunday school might be made useful to the children of Danbury and its neighborhood—fish and rabbits would get more rest on Sunday.

The ladies of the Methodist Church of Monroe will hold a festival on the night of the 6th prox, for the purpose of raising money to buy an organ and bell.

An old negro woman, living in Columbus county, locked two small children up in the house and went visiting. The house caught fire, and the children were entirely destroyed.

The average rainfall in this section is 4 1/2 inches per month. During this month (March), up to yesterday, (24th) 13-15 inches had fallen according to actual measurement by Dr. Allison.

Dr. Jas. R. Washington, formerly of this State, but for the past twenty-five years a highly esteemed and successful practitioner of medicine in St. Louis, died at his residence in that city on the 14th inst. Dr. Washington was raised in Newbern.

Reidville had its first shooting affair this week. Maj. Oaks of the Piedmont warehouse ejected from his premises a ruffian by the name of Chas. Smiley, who came in for the purpose of raising a row with customers in the house. Smiley fired three shots at Major Oaks, but neither took effect.

Wilmington Journal: We regret to learn that the condition of Maj. Durham today is very alarming. A telegram from Gen. J. B. Bachefer, of Raleigh, at whose hospitable residence he has been for many weeks, a sufferer from the fever which has prevailed in this State, informs his friends here that he is quite ill. We sincerely trust that he may recuperate, and that some permanent relief may yet be afforded him.

The Statesville Landmark says that Mr. Hymans, the veteran manager of Wallace Brothers' immense root and herb trade at Statesville is preparing a collection of all the roots, herbs, and medicinal plants indigenous to Western North Carolina for exhibition at the Philadelphia Centennial. The space allotted to him for the display of this collection is 30x100 feet, which he fears will be inadequate.
