LOCAL DOTS.

All parties holding claims against the several counties, cities and towns in the State will see an important notice in another column from the Secretary of State. Alamance has her Executive Committee to aid in celebrating the Mecklenburg Centennial, of which Capt James A Graham is Chairman. Township committees have been appointed for the whole county. The Opera House Last Evening.

Tim Mcrris' Minstrel Company appeared last evening at the Opera House. As a minstrel show it was simply splendid; there has never appeared upon the Charlotte boards one who equals Tim Morris as a negro. There is nothing like immorality about the show. They appear again to-night, and it behooves us to ask for them a crowded

Carolina Central and the Centennial. Col. S. L. Fremont, Superintendent of the Carolina Central Railway Company, has written the committee that this company will transport all the military and fire companies desiring to pass over the line to attend the Mecklenburg Centennial, free of charge both ways. The rates from points along the line of the road will be reduced one-half, thus giving all an opportunity to visit Charlotte on this great occasion.

Anna Dickinson Coming.

We received yesterday morning a note from O G Bernard, announcing that Miss Anna E Dickinson will shortly start upon her first Southern tour, and will include Charlotte in her route. Her subjects embrace "Joan of Arc" and "What's to Hinder." We can not now announce with certainty just what night Miss D will be here, but due notice shall be given.

Whatever else may be said of Miss Dickinson, it cannot be denied that she is a wcman of genius, and as such an appreciative audience will greet her, when she comes

On Tuesday the private car of Col Tom Scott and the director's car of the Pennsylvania Railroad company arrived here with a party of excursionists, consisting of Col Scott, J N Du Barry, President of the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad company; Hon Zach Chandler, of Michigan; and U. S. Senator Cameron, of Pennsylvania, Morton, of Indiana; Anthony of Rhode Island; Patterson, of South Carolina, and Dennis. There were also several ladies accompanying these gentlemen.

They arrived in Charlotte about 5 o'clock

n the morning, and, having been joined at Richmond by Col A S Buford, President, and Gen H Haupt, general manager of the Piedmont Air Line, left almost immediately for the South. The cars will go through to Florida, and then to Atlanta and New Orleans, and return here without again changing their gauge. Several of the Senstors will go from Florida to Texas, and from
