Rev S H Chester, has lately taken charge of Unity and Gastonia Churches, in this county, as an assistant to Rev Dr R H Chapman.

Personal.

Mr. McNider, the champion laughist of the continent, is in our city for a few days. We learn that Mr Mc. has accepted an invitation to smile a few for us at our Centennial celebration.

A Real Hornets Nest.

Wanted, for the Centennial, the largest bona fide Hornets' Nest, minus the hornets, that can be found in the State, to place over the speaker's stand, as an emblem of the Charlotte, of 1775. Send in your hornets' nest to Mr T W Dewey, Secretary of the Executive Committee.

The N. C. Diocese on De Koven.

A private letter from Raleigh to one of the editors of the Observer, informs us that the Standing Committee of the Episcopal Diocese of North Carolina, have refused to confirm the appointment of the Bishop of Illinois, also that twenty-two young ladies of the St. Mary School, were confirmed last Sunday by Bishop Symons, who preached a very powerful and impressive sermon and the ceremony was beautiful and affecting.

A Serious Difficulty.

A right serious difficulty occurred, night before last, at Howie & McWhirter's bar room, on College street. It seems a man named Whilock, considerably the worse for liquor, conceived the idea that he was insulted by Howie, one of the proprietors of the saloon and made an attack on Howie with a large pocket knife which, fortunately, he could not get open. He struck Howie several blows, however, on the head with it, inflicting some painful wounds which have confined Howie to his bed, so that he was unable to appear before the Mayor yesterday.

One Voter Less.

A friend writing from Mt. Mourne, Iredell county, sends us the following item: Kale Byers, a well to do colored man, was going from his work in this neighborhood on Tuesday, seated on the back of a work ox. The ox had a chain around his horns, one end of which was being carried by Byers in his hand. The negro got tired carrying the chain in his hand, and put the end of it around his own neck. The ox took fright, at something, threw the new the negro off, and dragged him about a hundred yards over a very rocky place. Both were found sometime afterwards, the ox standing still, and the negro perfectly dead, with the chain still around his neck.

A Lusus Naturae.

We are informed that a most remarkable freak of nature has recently occurred, on the site of the burnt dwelling of our townsman, Henry B Williams, Esq. In the centre of this burnt spot, has lately burst forth a bold spring of water, which gushes out of the earth in three spots, as large as a man's arm, and after running in a pellucid stream for twenty feet, suddenly sinks into the ground and disappears. A medical friend who drank of this suddenly created spring, tells us the water is as cold as ice and distinctly sulphurous in taste. Those of our citizens who feel a curiosity on this subject should visit this wonderful fountain. One of our public spirited townsman has left at the spring, a cocooned dipper for the convenience of those who wish to "drink of its water." The above was crowded out of yesterday's paper.

Information Wanted.

Messrs. EDITORS:— Will some one please inform a poor way faring man, who has always been and wishes still to be a consistent party man, whether the proposed meeting Saturday night to nominate a candidate for Mayor, is to be a convention of the Conservative party or merely a meeting of citizens irrespective of party. I desire information on this subject so I shall know whether or not I will be a better off if I refuse to support the nominee of the meeting.

DYED IN THE WOOL.

Declines to be a Candidate. CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 1st, 1875.

Ma. Editor:—

As I have been approached by many of our citizens, with a request to allow my name to be presented to the people as a candidate for Mayor at the approaching election, and as many others have enquired of me if I was a candidate, I deem it proper to say that I am not a candidate, nor can I be. It is with much regret that I find myself unable to yield to the wishes of those of my friends who have urged me in so flattering a manner, but regard for those whose professional business have undertaken, and a desire and determination to devote my whole time to my profession, render this course unavoidable. Very truly yours, H. C. JONES.

Dewees Township and the Centennial.

Messrs. EDITORS:—

At a meeting of the Auxiliary Committee for Dewees Township, held at Davison College, March 23rd, the following names were added, viz: Dr J H Wilson, W G Barnett, J L Sloan, J R Gillespie, R B Hunter, W A Sossoman, Hugh McAulay, Sr., T E Potts and J F Sloan. Rev Chas Phillips, D. D., was elected chairman, by a two thirds majority, over his veto!

We hope, and believe, Mr. Editor, that not only the special committees, but all the citizens of Mecklenburg, will consider themselves a committee of the whole, to take active steps toward celebrating the approaching Centennial. But, sir, we would not confine this important event to the narrow limits of Mecklenburg county. No, sir, not even to North Carolina! For although it was conceived in Mecklenburg on the 20th of May, 1775, it was brought forth in Philadelphia on the 4th of July, 1776, then sustained by the "blood of our fathers," and brought to maturity at Yorktown on the 19th of October 1781. Then, sir, we believe, that not only Mecklenburg, but America, and even France will rejoice with us on the one hundred Anniversary of the First Declaration of American Independence.
