Raleigh Capital: They have started the rumor that E R Stamps, Esq., late editor of the Tarboro Southerner is the political editor of this paper. The rumor is unfounded, such is not Raleigh Sentinel: It is now the time that editors in the State leave the foreman in charge of their offices and wander in the silent woods to "speak over" the little reception speeches they have prepared to speak to the inhabitants at Wilmington. We congratulate the Raleigh News on its enterprise in getting out that chart of the railroad system of North Carolina. However we disagree with our esteemed contemporary on this railroad matter we are ever ready to tiveness. do justice to its enterprise.

It has been suggested that the N. C. Press Association should postpone its regular meeting, on the 11th of May to May 17th. The idea is to meet at our Wilmington on the last day, so that the editors may go in a body to the Centennial Celebration, at Charlotte, on the 20th.

Goldsboro Messenger. Monroe Enquirer: We were shown on Friday, at the People's Drug Store. a hen egg of a "new style." It was about the usual length of a common only to be seen to be appreciated. egg, but no portion of it was larger around than a partridge egg. In fact, it looks a good deal like two partridge eggs joined together at the smaller end by a crooked neck. It came from the fowl yard of Mr Hamp Simpson.

Cherokee Herald says: We learn this morning that on Thursday, the Sth inst., John Ragel, of Swain county, was shot and killed near the Macon county line in Rabun county, Ga., by some unknown part. We learn althis morning that on Saturday last John Rogers of Graham county, was shot by Thomas Colvard, at or near Robbinsville. The wound is thought to be fatal. We are not informed as to the cause of the difficulty.

Last Saturday at the dead hours of 10 or-12 well armed and disguised men. They entered Ashe county jail. German character they are unsurpassed.

(The jailor was not at home) and demanded the key to cell No —. They were informed that they could not get the key, whereupon pistols were drawn and demand repeated, but the key was not handed over. They then searched the room and found the key, and then went up to the second floor and opened the cell door. A young man named Lewis, who was in jail awaiting his trial under the charged of theft, was taken out. 'The door was then carefully locked and the key left in the entry. The party then left the house and quietly wended their way from town. These are the facts as we have them from the jailor's wife. We don't know what they did with Lewis, but the supposition is that he was either released by friends or by parties who feared he would turn State's evidence and get them in trouble. - Jefferson Mountain Messenger.
