Selling Kisses.

An English paper tells about our girls selling kisses at the church fairs. He must think them rather confectionate. Richmond Enquirer.

A Southern girl wouldn't sell a kiss even at a Centennial festival, just once in a century, but why should not the Brooklyn plan of men kissing men be adopted? We have little doubt but that the Barbecue Committee of the Centennial Association could be persuaded to sacrifice themselves on the altar of their country, and if they should; there would probably be the greatest rush for reserved seats at a Festival, where such a performance would take place, that has ever been witnessed in this community. Robesonian in Charlotte.

We spent last Thursday in the thriving little city of Charlotte, and were agreeably surprised both at the growth of the city and the extent of its business. Some of the finest stores in the State are in Charlotte. Nor is Charlotte behind in anything that is essential to its prosperity. It has one of the best daily and two of the best weekly papers in the State, and now has another daily paper, the Eagle, which has been removed from Fayetteville. It also has the second best hotel in North Carolina. We regard the Yarboro' House at Raleigh as the best hotel in the State and the Central Hotel in Charlotte as the next.-Lumberton Robesonion. We have the highest regard for brothor McDiarmid's intellectual abilities but since reading the above we have a poor opinion of his taste. It is a poor compliment to his palate that he prefers the feeding of the Raleigh Yarboro' to that of the Charlotte Central.

The Board of Aldermen

Met yesterday evening pursuant to adjournment, for the election of city officers for the ensuing year. Capt. F. Nash was re-elected city clerk and Treasurer; C. W. Alexander, was elected city Marshal, and the following named gentlemen were elected policemen: M Healey, L A Blackwelder, H H Hill, G K Stephens, W B Taylor and J L Orr.

A resolution was adopted appointing an anditing committee who should and it and certify all the claims against the city, of all descriptions (except city bonds and coupons) before the same shall be paid by the Treasurer. Messrs Oates, Myers, Moore and Brown, with the Mayor as chairman were on motion of Mr Oates appointed to examine into the financial condition of the city-to consult together as to the best plan of city improvement and repart to the board some line of policy,

On motion the Board adjourned.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., MAY 45: 1875.

Letter from Judge Kelley, of Pa. PHILADELPHIA, May 3d, 1875. Charles R. Jones, Esq., Charlotte, N. C.

Charles R. Jones, Esq., Charlotte, N. C.

Dear Sir: Your circular of the 15th ult., covering the resolution of the 3d of April, of the Committee of Arrangements for the Celebration of the Centennial Anniversary of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, awaited my return from a trip through Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida, in the course of which, I had an opportunity of observing the substantial progress of your beautiful little city has made since the pleasant days I passed among its people about eight years ago. The wounds recently inflicted by the war were then painfully visible, but now the blessings of peace are apparent everywhere in and around it. Not only you but the committee whose organ you are, have my thanks for this token of your kindly remembrance, and for having thus enabled me to contribute my mite toward the cost of concontribute my mite toward the cost of com-memorating one of the most memorable events in our revolutionary history.

It may not be inappropriate for me to add that it is impossible that the people of Phil-adelphia can ever forget their indebtedness to North Carolina, or the pit indepted

J. C. BURBOUGHS,

Treasurer C. A. Yesterday's mail brought us the above who saw proper to censure the OBSERVER letter, which we take pleasure in laying before our readers. Judge Kelly belongs to left in favor of Direct Trade," I quite agree behold one who has seen greater days." "I that class of Northern Republicans who with you as to croakers who infest every have felt since the war that the South must be punished for her sins. Right or wrong, the South went to war in favor of secession. and repelled the assaults made upon her by the general government. She committed her destiny to the hazard of the die that was finally decided at Appomattox, and fearfully has she atoned for it. When the brave men who had followed the fortunes of the "stars and bars" four long weary years, to defeat but not to dishonor, laid down (Friday) evening All persons in the city or their arms, it was in good faith. They had contended for the right of secession, a question which had been in dispute since the formation of the government; which the Supreme Court of the United States had time and again refused to decide, and it was settled against them only by the solemn arbitrament of the sword. They then asked -the Southern people asked-that the Northern people accord them the acknowledgement, that they had contended for what they considered was right, pledging in return the same devotion and patriotism tothat Mr. Hill is improving, and is now out wards the general government that they exhibited during the revolutionary war; the same valor in defence of the flag that they, put forth on the plains of Chalmette, or the arid sands of Mexico. Yes, the same devotion with which Lee and his men fought McClellan around Richmond, charged the heights of Gettysburg, or drove Grant through the Wilderness. And how were they treated? Look back at the legislation by Congress for the past ten years of socalled peace, and the question answers itself. We will not dwe!l on this subject, for the heart sickens at the thought. Judge Kelley is among those who has been our enemy, and who now comes to us in the character of a friend. Would that this spirit of reconciliation would spread from city to city, from village to village, from hamlet to hamlet, aye, from heart to heart, until this whole country from the frigid mountains of Maine to the lily covered plains of Texas; from the Atlantic to the Pacific, would cry out one country and one constitution," and that each State, with rights guaranteed, and fetters unlocked, would shine in the galaxy of the Confederation, with no borrowed brilliancy, but with its own native brightness, making the Unitan States the acme of good government on earth. Let but the spirit breathed in Judge Kelley's letter once take possession of the hearts of the people throughout the North, and it will find a responsive throb throughout the South to-day, with the same zeal which induced our patriotic fathers on the 20th May, 1775, to take up the cause of the patriots at Lexington, one month before. In these days of skepticism: in these days of railers and scoffers at the truth of history, as thank Judge Kelley, in the name of our people and in the name of the Cen tennial Association, for the heartfelt sympathy of the tone of his letter, and the not less acceptable present of a check for twenty dollars, towards the Centennial Celebration.

Opera House Last Night.

Probably the most select, if not the largest audience which has ever assembled in the Opera House of this city greeted John Owens, and his excellent troupe last night. Every expectation was more than satisfied by the performance of "Everybody's Friend," which is worthy of the good acting with which it was rendered. MrOwens' reputation is established and our praise or blame will not affect it. His rendering of Major de Boots was splendid and the whole troupe acquitted themselves with will receive prompt attention ma 7 1w credit in this play, especially Miss. Phillis Glover as Mrs Swandown.

The rendition of "Solon Shingle" was a disappointment to most of the audience. It may have been that every one expected too much of Mr Owens, as this was his "specialty," but at any rate he did not so far surpass Wildman and others who had appeared in that character as it was supposed he would,

A letter from Mr. Wells, of Shelby, forms us that a man named Peter Peeler, of Cleaveland county, bung himself in his barn Wednesday. It is a singular fact that Crow, the former owner of the plantation on which Peeler lives, hung himself some years ago near the same spot. Peeler was deputy sheriff, and during the war, was Lt. Col. of Militia. Wonder if this is the same Peeler who lived at Rutherford College, in Burke?

Advertising Will Pay. Within the last week, the Charlotte City Mills, besides keeping up with a good home custom, have filled several car load orders from abroad. The proprietor informed us that certainly two of these car load shipments, and probably others, resulted from the card in this paper. The Superintendent, Mr. George C. Chambers, is an expert miller from Pennsylvania, and the reputation that his brands are gaining in the market, is an earnest of assured success. Bonafide settlers pursuing an honorable business will no where find a more cordial welcome than on the historic soil of old Mecklenburg,

A Good Idea.

The Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroad announce that they will be prepared to run a special train between Wilmington and Charlotte on the occasion of the Centennial. The train will consist of Pullman Palace sleeping cars, smoking cars and a restaurant car. This is an excellent idea. The Carolina Central cannot begin to accommodate all the people along its line who desire to attend, and then the passengers on the W., C. & A. train would not need any hotel accommodation.

MESSES. EDITORS: I wish to make a short reply to that "Direct Trade" article in your issue of the 6th, in which you denounce not a few of that class of individuals, who may be denominated constitutional croakers, and who infest every community, and community, "and who censure newspapers unjustly." Pitch in and cut right and left until you sweep them from off the face of the earth. You seem to have learned! very little when you penned the paragraph, but you are all right in the next in which you state "your farmer friends know they have no truer friend than our journal." But we were not then (last Fall) nor are we now. in a condition to say which was best, considering all the circumstances, thought solthen and said so, and still think and say (your condition still unchanged we suppose) that more absolute cash could be realized by selling in this market, Now, Colonel, being in the same "condition" you were last Fall, how can you arrive at any definite conclusion? You then ask for receipts, which ought to have been here 1st April, and after waiting until 6th May, you ask for figures You are a little in error here, Mr. Editor, as to time: but don't press us, if you please, give a little more time, and we think we can put you in a "condition" to see the "CROAKER."

SEWING MACHINES. OFFICIAL REPORT.

THE following is a correct report of the sales of the SEWING MACHINES made by the leading companies during the past four years. A careful examination of the figures will show that the sale of the "SINGER" has largely increased each year, while, on the contrary a corresponding decrease is shown in the sales reported by all other companies. Now, the questions naturally arise: How long will this state of affairs last? How long will the other companies be able to keep offices open in our different cities and towns when they are selling so few machines? All persons who think of buying a machine should consult their own interest and get a good one from the old, reliable SINGER MANUFACTUR-ING COMPANY. Office, Charlotte, N.
