

CHARLOTTE OBSERVER
Subscription Rates
Daily 1 year, (postpaid) in advance, $1.00
3 mos. 30c
1 mo. 10c
Weekly, (in the county) in advance, $2.00 out of the county, postpaid, $2.10 per month, 15c
Liberal reductions for clubs.

Daily Charlotte Observer.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., MAY 11, 1875. VOL. XII. NO. 1,914.

JOB PRINTING.
The Observer Job Department has been thoroughly supplied with every needed thing, and will, in the latest style of type, and every manner of Job Work, can now be done with neatness, dispatch and cheapness. We can furnish at short notice
BLANKS, BILL HEADS, LETTER HEADS, CARDS,
TAGS, RECEIPT BOOKS, PROGRAMMES, NAME CARDS,
FAMULETTES, ETC., &c.

REMOVAL.

SMITH & FORBES.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALERS IN BOOTS, SHOES, LEATHER AND HATS.

HAVE removed to the new, large and elegant "SMITH BUILDING," next door to Brem, Brown & Co.'s Hardware Store, where they are receiving a full stock of SPRING GOODS,
complete in every particular.
Their line of ladies' and gents' line
BOOTS AND SHOES, will be especially attractive, and will be sold at short profits. Call and examine.
Next door to Brem, Brown & Co.'s Hardware Store, Charlotte, N. C.

Koopmann & Rothschild!

1875. 1875.
SPRING AND SUMMER FASHIONS.
MILLINERY and FANCY GOODS,
Koopmann & Rothschild's.

NEW RULES.

In our business, leaving the old style (large profits and big per cent) for others to operate with; making ours the CHEAPEST STORE of Charlotte, selling the BEST GOODS FOR THE LEAST MONEY, and to establish a ONE PRICE SYSTEM,
By marking our Goods with the selling price thereon. We mean to double and triple our business in this way, and as our customers will be greatly benefited by this change, we hope to make our business still more profitable than heretofore.
The special attention of our lady friends is called to our extensive stock of fine Trimmed Bonnets and Hats, to our immense assortment of Hamburg Embroideries, in beautiful patterns, a large and handsome variety of Ladies' Silk Scarves, Laces, Parasols and Sun Umbrellas, Trimmings, Fans and Fan Chains, Frillings.

PARIS, WHITE GOODS,

Such as Jacquette, Cambrics, Swiss Mull, Piques, Plain Nansooks, Victoria Lawn, Toilet Quills, Checked and Striped Nansooks, Tarleton's Irish Linen, Table Linen, Towels and Towelling, Cambric Linen, Cambric Handkerchiefs, Valenciennes Laces, Hemstitched Handkerchiefs, Gilly and Three Laces, Count-down English Crapes, French Pique Crapes, Barege, Tissue and Lace Veiling. A beautiful variety of Silks, in all the new shades. A general assortment of Hosiery, Kid Gloves, Linen Collars and Cuffs, Corsets, Crapes Sets, Real and Imitation Hair Switches, Braids, Curls, Frisettes. A complete Stock of Pearl and Set Ornaments, Broomsticks and Ear Rings, Bracelets, Sleeve Buttons.

NOVELTIES.

A great many of our Goods were purchased at a reduction of 25 per cent, the full benefit of which, we will give to our customers.
An examination of our Goods and prices, will convince every one, that our assertions are
AND THAT WE MEAN JUST WHAT WE SAY.
Our regular Spring Opening will take place in a few days, of which, due notice will be given.

WHOLESALE DEPARTMENT, in MILLINERY & FANCY GOODS, GIBBONS, FLOWERS,

We have on hand over 1500 dozen of the latest styles of LADIES' TRIMMED and UNTRIMMED HATS.
An immense Stock of BIBBON and other Goods, which we can offer at lower prices than any other establishment.
As we are the only house in Charlotte, dealing exclusively in Millinery Goods, it should attract the attention of Merchants, who wish to make purchases in our line.
Orders respectfully solicited.

Koopmann & Rothschild

Accommodation!
POSTAGE STAMPS, at PUREFOY'S.
FOR SALE.
Postage Stamp Albums.
A fine lot of Rewards Cards - for Sunday and day schools.
Base Ball Guides for 1875.
Card Games of all kinds.
Mother Goose, in plain and colored covers.
TIDDY & BRO.
Five Cent Cigar, at INDIAN GIRL CIGAR STORE, mar 12

The Charlotte Observer.

Published by Charles H. Jones, Proprietor.
Office, Observer Building, Corner
Trade and College Streets.

ANNOUNCEMENT.
I have appointed Dr. F. H. Andrews, my agent to collect claims against me, either for job work, or for subscriptions. He is authorized to receipt for any sums that may be placed in his hands for collection.
Chas. H. Jones,
Editor & Proprietor.
Office of the Charlotte Observer, March 18th, 1875.

Mecklenburg Centennial Medal.

The Richmond Enquirer learns the first impression of the medal struck at the Philadelphia mint to commemorate the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence has been received in Washington. In size and value it is equal to the half-dollar piece. Its design and finish are very creditable. On one side is a hornet's nest, which is typical of the announcement by the king's officers that Mecklenburg was a hornet's nest of rebels. On the same side is also a liberty cap surrounded by the rays of the rising sun. Beneath are two clasped hands, which are typical of the united North and South at the close of the last war. On the reverse side within a circle, are the inscriptions: "May 20, 1775, and May 20th, 1875—Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence." 2,000 silver medals have been ordered by the executive committee of the Centennial celebration and a large number of copper impressions.

Mysterious Shooting.

There was a very mysterious shooting affair on Tryon street, Sunday night. About nine o'clock when the streets were filled with people returning from Church a man was seen running down the sidewalk on Tryon street from the T C Smith & Co., drug store toward the Charlotte Hotel, and two men shooting at him. Four or five shots were fired, one passing through a crowd of gentlemen in front of the Charlotte Hotel and embedding itself in a window sill of the building, another hit the porch of Dr Miller's house about where his family usually sit in the evening. We learn that the shots were fired at a negro who had stolen something at the Air-Line depot and the parties shooting had a warrant for his arrest but we have been unable to get their names. It matters little what the negro had done, the conduct of those shooting at him is reprehensible in the extreme and such reckless conduct should not go unpunished. It is a great wonder no one was killed or injured. We hear a ball did pass through the sleeve of a young man returning from church.

Conventional.

Several of the ink-slinging fraternity were registered at the Central Hotel last night en route for the Press Convention at Wilmington. Among whom were Major Malone, of the Asheville Express and Mr Stewart, of the Salisbury Watchman.
Also Messrs. Hussey and Furman.

Metropolitan Aid to Our Centennial.

Messrs E J Hale & Son, of New York, acknowledge through the columns of the New York Herald, the receipt of $100 a piece from two parties, and $50 a piece from two other parties making in all $800, to aid in the proper celebration of the Mecklenburg Centennial.

Going It Alone.

The editor and proprietor of the Observer left yesterday morning to attend the Press Convention in Wilmington and will probably be absent three or four days. As all our assistants are off duty, the ASSOCIATE EDITOR will be greatly obliged if friends will bring or send us any item of city news they may pick up as we have not time to go out in search of such.

Contributions.

Mr. S. Lowman, with Wittkowsky & Rintel, is in receipt of a $10 contribution to the Centennial fund, from that well known, popular, wholesale clothing house of Baltimore; Weinstein & Co.

Mr. H. C. Eccles of the Central Hotel, is in receipt of a check for $25.00 from Messrs. W. A. Covert & Co., butter and cheese dealers, 112 Warren street, New York, as a contribution to the Centennial fund.

Serious Shooting in Concord.

A letter received in this city from Concord last night informs us that Col John M Long of that place was shot by I S Henderson Sunday evening about three o'clock. We have not been able to gather the particulars of this unfortunate affair or origin of the difficulty, but simply learn that the wound is a flesh wound in the leg. Mr Henderson is a nephew of Col Long. Knowing both the gentlemen and having the kindest feelings for Mr Henderson we hesitate to give publicity to this unfortunate affair but we know that if we do not some other newspaper will.

Memorial Day.

Probably in no city of the Sunny South, is there a more general and proper observance of memorial day than in Charlotte.

By 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a large crowd of people assembled in arid around the grove at the 1st Presbyterian church. The ladies and little children came laden with flowers, to pay homage to the fallen heroes. At 20 minutes past 4 o'clock, the procession moved from the grounds in the order as published in Sunday's OBSERVER, but it was headed by no band, (which the members of the band explain elsewhere). The fire companies in their uniform, the "Zouaves" in their picturesque attire, the handsome cadets of the Military Institute in their Confederate gray, and the ladies in their beauty and loveliness, combined to make the scene of the cemetery ground exceedingly beautiful and impressive. Near the centre of the grounds, a platform had been erected, upon which were seated the ladies, officers of the Memorial Association, Rev. Dr. Chapman, of the Charlotte Institute for Young Ladies, Rev. Theodore Whitfield, Gen. T. L. Clingman and Col. E. A. Osborne. General D. H. Hill, the Chief Marshal, announced that the ceremonies would commence with music. A beautiful hymn was then sung by a select choir of ladies and gentlemen. Mr. R. S. Phifer playing an accompaniment on an organ, which had been conveyed to the cemetery grounds. After the music, Dr. Chapman offered the most beautiful and impressive prayers we have ever heard. His appeal for the "widows and orphans of the lost cause," was especially eloquent. The prayer was followed by an appropriate "memorial chant." General Hill then announced that Col. Osborne, who bore upon his body the marks of many a hard fought field, would deliver a short address, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

Memorial Day.

While our own loved ones are buried in fields perhaps unknown to us, and are denied the sad, sweet privilege of visiting and adorning their last resting place, it is still a blessed privilege to meet on our sad memorial day and call over some of their precious names; names so dear to us, and so rich in life's memory and associations; to recall to mind their noble forms and noble deeds and virtues. And while we here address these stranger soldier graves, and drop on them our silent tears, let us seek to know that there are fair hands, and true and loving, willing hearts to perform the sacred office for our own lost ones. Our soldiers! Ours they were, and still we love and pride to call them ours. Brave, devoted souls, who counted not their lives too dear a sacrifice for what they deemed as right. It is meet and right that we should honor their sacred dust; and that we should keep fast in our hearts their love, and cheer and honor forever the memory of their noble deeds.

Memorial Day.

Souls of the brave, look down from Heaven's starry dome, and behold the hands that move for you the warriors' wreath, or soothe your aching brows, now bring them flowers you loved so well, and gently throw them on your graves! O mothers of the unknown dead, we know your loving hearts do yearn to embrace even the very sod where rest the forms of your darling soldier boys! We will take your place, and treat them as our own, and for your sake

Memorial Day.

Col. Osborne said:
It is a sad pleasure thus to call over the names of our beloved dead. And if to their souls it was given to behold the scenes of earth, with what deep satisfaction and approval, must they regard our pious work this day! Or could the spirits of the departed be woe to leave their place of rest, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

Memorial Day.

While our own loved ones are buried in fields perhaps unknown to us, and are denied the sad, sweet privilege of visiting and adorning their last resting place, it is still a blessed privilege to meet on our sad memorial day and call over some of their precious names; names so dear to us, and so rich in life's memory and associations; to recall to mind their noble forms and noble deeds and virtues. And while we here address these stranger soldier graves, and drop on them our silent tears, let us seek to know that there are fair hands, and true and loving, willing hearts to perform the sacred office for our own lost ones. Our soldiers! Ours they were, and still we love and pride to call them ours. Brave, devoted souls, who counted not their lives too dear a sacrifice for what they deemed as right. It is meet and right that we should honor their sacred dust; and that we should keep fast in our hearts their love, and cheer and honor forever the memory of their noble deeds.

Memorial Day.

Col. Osborne said:
It is a sad pleasure thus to call over the names of our beloved dead. And if to their souls it was given to behold the scenes of earth, with what deep satisfaction and approval, must they regard our pious work this day! Or could the spirits of the departed be woe to leave their place of rest, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

Memorial Day.

Col. Osborne said:
It is a sad pleasure thus to call over the names of our beloved dead. And if to their souls it was given to behold the scenes of earth, with what deep satisfaction and approval, must they regard our pious work this day! Or could the spirits of the departed be woe to leave their place of rest, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

Memorial Day.

Col. Osborne said:
It is a sad pleasure thus to call over the names of our beloved dead. And if to their souls it was given to behold the scenes of earth, with what deep satisfaction and approval, must they regard our pious work this day! Or could the spirits of the departed be woe to leave their place of rest, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

Memorial Day.

Col. Osborne said:
It is a sad pleasure thus to call over the names of our beloved dead. And if to their souls it was given to behold the scenes of earth, with what deep satisfaction and approval, must they regard our pious work this day! Or could the spirits of the departed be woe to leave their place of rest, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

Memorial Day.

Col. Osborne said:
It is a sad pleasure thus to call over the names of our beloved dead. And if to their souls it was given to behold the scenes of earth, with what deep satisfaction and approval, must they regard our pious work this day! Or could the spirits of the departed be woe to leave their place of rest, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

Memorial Day.

Col. Osborne said:
It is a sad pleasure thus to call over the names of our beloved dead. And if to their souls it was given to behold the scenes of earth, with what deep satisfaction and approval, must they regard our pious work this day! Or could the spirits of the departed be woe to leave their place of rest, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

Memorial Day.

Col. Osborne said:
It is a sad pleasure thus to call over the names of our beloved dead. And if to their souls it was given to behold the scenes of earth, with what deep satisfaction and approval, must they regard our pious work this day! Or could the spirits of the departed be woe to leave their place of rest, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

Memorial Day.

Col. Osborne said:
It is a sad pleasure thus to call over the names of our beloved dead. And if to their souls it was given to behold the scenes of earth, with what deep satisfaction and approval, must they regard our pious work this day! Or could the spirits of the departed be woe to leave their place of rest, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

Memorial Day.

Col. Osborne said:
It is a sad pleasure thus to call over the names of our beloved dead. And if to their souls it was given to behold the scenes of earth, with what deep satisfaction and approval, must they regard our pious work this day! Or could the spirits of the departed be woe to leave their place of rest, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

Memorial Day.

Col. Osborne said:
It is a sad pleasure thus to call over the names of our beloved dead. And if to their souls it was given to behold the scenes of earth, with what deep satisfaction and approval, must they regard our pious work this day! Or could the spirits of the departed be woe to leave their place of rest, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

Memorial Day.

Col. Osborne said:
It is a sad pleasure thus to call over the names of our beloved dead. And if to their souls it was given to behold the scenes of earth, with what deep satisfaction and approval, must they regard our pious work this day! Or could the spirits of the departed be woe to leave their place of rest, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

Memorial Day.

Col. Osborne said:
It is a sad pleasure thus to call over the names of our beloved dead. And if to their souls it was given to behold the scenes of earth, with what deep satisfaction and approval, must they regard our pious work this day! Or could the spirits of the departed be woe to leave their place of rest, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

Memorial Day.

Col. Osborne said:
It is a sad pleasure thus to call over the names of our beloved dead. And if to their souls it was given to behold the scenes of earth, with what deep satisfaction and approval, must they regard our pious work this day! Or could the spirits of the departed be woe to leave their place of rest, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

Memorial Day.

Col. Osborne said:
It is a sad pleasure thus to call over the names of our beloved dead. And if to their souls it was given to behold the scenes of earth, with what deep satisfaction and approval, must they regard our pious work this day! Or could the spirits of the departed be woe to leave their place of rest, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

Memorial Day.

Col. Osborne said:
It is a sad pleasure thus to call over the names of our beloved dead. And if to their souls it was given to behold the scenes of earth, with what deep satisfaction and approval, must they regard our pious work this day! Or could the spirits of the departed be woe to leave their place of rest, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

Memorial Day.

Col. Osborne said:
It is a sad pleasure thus to call over the names of our beloved dead. And if to their souls it was given to behold the scenes of earth, with what deep satisfaction and approval, must they regard our pious work this day! Or could the spirits of the departed be woe to leave their place of rest, and visit again the bodies of men, we feel assured that those dear ones, whose names we called, and the hundreds whose names are yet uncalled, would not refuse a ready response to the deep and earnest yearning that fills our hearts for them. But God, in wisdom and mercy, had not ordained it thus, and we, as obedient loving children, must say: "Thy will be done!"

SUPPLIES.

FOR THE CENTENNIAL.
COOKED CORN BEEF
In 2, 4 and 6 lb cans.
FAMILY FIG PORK and PICKLED BEEF TONGUES, HAMS & BREAKFAST BACON.
TURKEY, CHICKEN, VEAL and MUTTON, in 2 lbs cans.
BLOATERS, SMOKED and CANNED SALMON.
HORSE RADISH, TOMATOES and PEACHES.
PINEAPPLE and CANTON GINGER.
AMERICAN and ENGLISH CHOW CHOW.
AMERICAN PICKLES and ENGLISH ONIONS.
A SPLENDID ASSORTMENT OF JAVA, MARACABO, LAGUARA and RIO COFFEE.
COFFEE FRESHLY ROASTED EVERY DAY.
CALL IN—AND CONVINCE YOURSELF.

HOTTENDORF & HAHNGEN'S.

CHOICE FAMILY GROCER.
OPPOSITE CHARLOTTE HOTEL.
mail
AWNINGS!
AWNINGS!!
—FOR—
Stores, Offices and Dwellings.
KEEP COOL!
Persons desirous of procuring awnings will please leave directions at Burwell's drug store, and I will call and take the measure. I will be in the city a few days.
J. M. MARONE,
mail

A NEW VOLUME of Little Classics, Just out.

Subject, "CHILDREN."
For sale by mail TIDDY & BRO.
ma 11

THE MECKLENBURG DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

ORIGINAL EVIDENCE.
MAY 20TH, 1875
A New Book now in progress and nearly ready for delivery, by Messrs E J Hale & Son, 11 Murray Street, New York, containing among other valuable information, "The certificate of Capt James Jack," who, as special messenger, carried the Declaration to Congress at Philadelphia. Certificates and extracts of letters from Gen Joseph Graham, Rev Humphrey Hunter, Francis Cummings and others who were present and participated in the memorable event. Certificate of Gov Stokes, who saw the original resolve in the hand writing of Jno McKnitt Alexander. Also the Autograph signatures of E. Spruill, Jno McKnitt Alexander, Theo. Polk, W. H. Avery, Jno Beard, John Phifer and nearly all the other signers of the Declaration. The Legislative Pamphlet of 1871 reproduced in full. Also Gov Graham's address delivered in Charlotte on 4th February 1875, together with a list of the various committees appointed to make arrangements for celebrating the 100th Anniversary of the 20th May Declaration, &c.
Will be ready in a few days, and for sale at all the Book Stores for the benefit of the Centennial and Monumental Association, ma 11

WILKIE COLLINS' NEW BOOK, Alicia Watkiss and other Tales," at $1.50 and 75c, for sale by mail

SARATOGA WATER
On draught W R BURWELL & CO.
ma 6

WE & OUR NEIGHBORS,

A Sequel to "My Wife and I" by Mrs H B Stone, for sale by mail
TIDDY & BRO.

AGENCY English Breakfast Packet Tea Company.
ma 6 W R BURWELL & CO.

NEW FIRM, H. B. WILLIAMS & CO., COMMISSION MERCHANTS,

FOR THE SALE OF Corn, Wheat, Flour and Produce of all kinds. College street, next door to Magill, Heath & Scott's, Charlotte, N. C.
Notice.—TO THE WHOLESALE TRADE ONLY.
Just received and on consignment—2500 Sacks Flour, all grades, 500 Sacks Corn Meal 1000 Sacks Corn. 200 Sacks Oats, 5000 lb Country Bacon. Give us a call.
H. B. WILLIAMS & CO.
ap15 1/2

BURGESS NICHOLS & CO.,

WHOLESALE & RETAIL DEALERS IN Furniture, Bedding, &c.,
No. 5, West Trade Street.

W. M. COLLINS, OFFICE DINING ROOM.

Old Post Office Alley, between Front and Water Streets, Wilmington, N. C. Meals served to order. [ma 30 since d]

HYMNALS!

A COORDING to the use of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America.
REVISED EDITION, 1875.
For sale by
ap 25
TIDDY & BRO.

JUST OPENED, A First Class Restaurant!!!

MEALS AT ALL HOURS!

BAR

BILLIARD SALOON ATTACHED!

BOARDS taken by the week or month. Fare as good and price as low as can be had at any first-class Restaurant in the city. Having had long experience we guarantee to please the public.
Tryon Street, 2nd door below Central Hotel and opposite the 1st National Bank.
K C TIMMONS, G B NAZARENUS,
may 9

Now Ready, CENTENNIAL CAKES.

AT F H ANDREWS & CO'S
may 9

LARGE RED BANANNAS,

JUST RECEIVED AT F H ANDREWS & CO'S
ma 9

THIRD STOCK SPLENDID FANCY GOODS,

AT OUR RETAIL STORE.
LADIES' CRAVATS, In Great Variety.
LADIES' SASHES, PEARLS
And other Ornaments for Hats.
LARGE ARRIVAL.
—OF—
STRAW GOODS, LATEST PATTERNS.

Splendid Stock of Hamburg Edgings, Nottingham and Lace Curtains, Alexandre Kid Gloves.

Second Stock of French Flowers—indeed the finest ever offered in this market.
Call and examine our Centennial Stock before buying elsewhere, as we flatter ourselves that we have the largest and most varied stock that has been on exhibition in this market since 1875.
WITTKOWSKY & RINTEL,
ma 6

Canned Goods!

A Full assortment of Canned Goods:
Green Corn, Green Peas, Fresh Tomatoes, Peaches and Strawberries, assorted Jellies in Tumblers and Goblets, Fine Lobsters and Choice Sardines, at L W PERDUES
Grier & Alexander's Building,
ma 8

DISSOLUTION.

The firm of N. O. Harry & Krueger, Sign and Fresco Painters, is this day dissolved by mutual consent.
HARRY & KRUEGER,
May 8th, 1875.

The undersigned will continue to carry on the Sign Painting and Fresco business in his own name, and will not be responsible for any of the debts contracted after this date, in the name of the old firm. Preserving and Encouraging a specialty.
F R KRUEGER, ma 9 tf Artist.

WE HAVE

Just received the largest lot of "Fine Northern Apples" in the city, which we are now offering to our customers at Wholesale and Retail.
—ALSO—
100 barrels of the Royal Family Flour made at one of the best mills in Indiana which we are selling low for cash.
W M LONG & CO.
ma 5

COLMANS' ENGLISH MUSTARD,

Corn, Starch, Arrow Root, Pepper, Ginger, Spice, W R BURWELL & CO.
ma 6

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE UNDERSIGNED ANNOUNCES to the citizens of Charlotte and the public generally, that he has opened a BOOT AND SHOE SHOP
in the Springs Building, at D. Austin's old stand, where he is prepared to do all kinds of work in his line. Satisfaction guaranteed or no charge.
S. M. GILBERT,
WM. M. COLLINS,
OFFICE DINING ROOM,
Old Post Office Alley, between Front and Water Streets, Wilmington, N. C. Meals served to order. [ma 30 since d]