Hand in church notices to-day, please. The Lutheran Sunday School Picnic at Tuckasee Ford, to-day.

A wonderful quietude prevails on the streets these nights after 10 or 11 o'clock.

Read the address of the Central Executive Committee of the Conservative party of the State.

It is reported that the United States Branch Mint property in this city, will not be sold before the assembling of the next Congress.

The martins have come, and in force. Every evening the eaves of the Central Hotel are black with them, and the air is resonant with their twitterings.

The very finest looking and one of the very best filled weekly papers in North Carolina is the WEEKLY CHARLOTTE OBSERVER, and it is encouraging to know that the people are fast finding this out.

We learn reliably that Col's Buford and Talcott are both warmly in favor of building a union depot in Charlotte, but whether satisfactory arrangements can be made with the other roads is not known.

We learned at Greensboro last night they would commence the change from Greensboro to Company Shops to-day, and get to Durham in about two days.—Raleigh Sentinel, 3d.

We return thanks to R S Phifer, book seller and stationer, for copies of New York Graphic and Harper's Weekly, containing accounts of the Mecklenburg Centennial Celebration.

The fancy of a runaway horse on Trade Street, day before yesterday afternoon, was to dash up on the pavement and poke his head into a window of Mr Richard Moore's store and tinware establishment. He did no damage.

In rear of the store of C. Hashagen may be seen a big sea turtle, which weighs 150 lbs. "Land lubbers" who never saw anything of the kind before, make many odd remarks while gazing upon its beautiful proportions.

At the last regular monthly meeting of the Pioneer Steam Fire Engine Company No. 2, the following named were elected new members, viz: Messrs Jas A Vogler, J V Stillier, T H Roberts, Wm Edwards, L E Norris, Chas Marcus, A Keuster and S Thornburg.

Marrying. Thus doth the Raleigh Sentinel phrase it: "In the merry month of May seventeen couples pledged at the matrimonial altar in Mecklenburg county, their lives and fortunes and their sacred honor, to love and obey each other until Death do part—not out the mother-in-law."

Prisoners in Jail. There are now but six prisoners in the county jail. Two of these—Garryn and Elwood—are white, and the remaining four are colored. With the exception of Elwood, all are serving out sentences; he has appealed to the Supreme Court from the Court which found him guilty of murder.

A Centennial Relief. In the Cotton Exchange, suspended, in good display from a chandelier, is a relic of the Charlotte Centennial that can but be observed with interest. It is a Georgia hornet's nest that was used in the decorations of the Mecklenburg Centennial Celebration of the 90th of May, and a portion of an evergreen wreath from George Washington's grave similarly used on the same historic occasion.—Augusta Constitutionalist.

Printer's Picnic. On behalf of the printers, we thank Speights, of the News, for an invitation to hold the printers' picnic at Greenville. It is not improbable that some point on the Air Line will be selected, and our friend's invitation would be carefully considered but for the fact that Greenville is too far away. In consideration, however, of brother Speights' courtesy, he has been unanimously elected a contributing guest.

An Evidence of Our Material Growth. Some months ago the grocery firm of Hottendorf & Hashagen, Wilmington, N. C., established a branch house in this city, and have since been conducting a highly successful business here. Two or three weeks ago Mr Hottendorf died. The firm had a wholesale and two retail stores in Wilmington, and now Mr Hashagen has determined to close the houses in Wilmington and remove the entire business to Charlotte.

Election of Officers. At a meeting of the German Singing Society (Harmonie) held at their hall on Tryon Street, on Thursday evening, the following gentlemen were unanimously elected for the next term: President—C Hilker. Vice-President—Chas Roediger. Secretary—John U Lamprecht. Treasurer—F Kuester. Cassier—J F Julius Hennet. Librarian—Henry Brun.

Burglary. On Thursday night the residence of Gov. Vance was entered by a burglar for the second time within two months. These had been left in the lock of the door to an old lumber house in the yard, a key which, unknown to the family, fits also the lock to the back door of the residence. When Gov. Vance and the family arose yesterday morning they found the door standing open and evidence that the house had been gone through. Nothing, however, was found to be missing, and it is not thought that anything was stolen.

A Slight Mistake.

Frank Leslie's paper published a cut of the Mecklenburg Centennial Medal, and a description of the same, saying: "On one side is the inscription 'Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence, 20th May, 1775.' On the other' (two hands clasped, and above, a portion of a tree with a liberty cap on one branch and a pine cone on another.) Down here in North Carolina we call those "pine cones" "hornet-nests."

The Picnicers.

A select and a merry crowd left yesterday morning on the North Carolina train, for Concord near which place they had the picnic of which we have spoken several times before. They were accompanied by the Italian band, and while waiting at the Junction for the arrival of the Air-Line train, indulged in a dance on the platform, to their own delight and to the infinite amusement of the passengers on both trains, the Air-Line having come up while they were paying their vows to Terpsichore. The party return this morning on the 8:03 train.

Reduction in Railroad Forces.

At this, the opening of the Summer season, when business is growing slack, the railroads have begun to reduce their forces. The Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta Railroad has discharged 150 of its employees—six at the depot in this city; it has also suspended the daily freight train between Charlotte and Columbia, and a tri-weekly freight only, is now run. The North Carolina Railroad has reduced its working force all along the line; five employees have been cut off here at the Charlotte depot.

Change of Schedule.

We understand that a change will be made in the schedule of trains on the Eastern Division of the Carolina Central Railroad, on Sunday, on and after which the day trains will run as follows: Passenger train leave Wilmington at 7 P. M., arrive at Charlotte 7 A. M.; leave Charlotte at 7 P. M., and arrive at Wilmington 7 A. M. Fast freight and mail and passenger train, leave Wilmington at 7 A. M., arrive at Charlotte 10 P. M.; leave Charlotte at 6 A. M., arrive at Wilmington 9 P. M.

Runaway Smash-Up.

An evening of two since, Capt J Roessler, of Elias, Cohen & Roessler, was driving out in a buggy, accompanied by a young lady, when the horse took fright and ran away. Capt R held manfully to the reins, and so checked the speed of the horse for the time being, as to permit of the young lady jumping from the buggy and escaping unhurt. Capt Roessler himself was thrown out, and dragged, still holding to the lines, a considerable distance. He was a good deal bruised up and hurt, though no bones were broken, while the buggy was broken in several parts.

Pea Dee Herald.

Our valued exchange, the Wadesboro Herald, has entered upon the fifth year of its existence, and celebrates the event by putting on a new suit of clothes, which is very becoming indeed. This new dress and its well filled advertising columns speak of the paper's prosperity. No one rejoices more than we in these evidences of its success; we have a very warm side for the Herald, and are glad that it is doing so well. We would, by the by, suggest that it is a capital advertising sheet for our merchants, reaching as it does the best people in the Pea Dee section.

The Centennial Illustrated.

Yesterday morning, Harper's Weekly, containing a report of the Mecklenburg Centennial Celebration, together with a view of the crowd in Tryon Street, and that on the Fair Grounds, was received at the book stores in this city. The report of the exercises is quite accurate and very fair, but the illustrations are execrable. We are surprised that a publication, professing to stand as high as Harper's Weekly does, should admit such infamously poor cuts into its columns. Not only are they destitute of accuracy, but the execution of the work is such as a cross roads paper might be ashamed of. We had an idea before this, that the publishers of the Weekly held that whatever was worthy being illustrated at all, was worthy of being illustrated well. Such, however, seems not to be the case.

The Bottling of Soda Water.

We witnessed, yesterday afternoon, Mr T W West's process of bottling soda water, at his establishment in rear of Vogel's tailor shop. The machinery of the establishment is all perfect. The bottles are placed with mouths downward, into arceptacle, and the moving of a lever forces the soda water into them. The stopper, with its head covered with india rubber, is already in the bottle, and when this is filled the stopper is forced tightly into the mouth of the bottle. When it is desired to open it, the stopper must be forced in, as it cannot be drawn out. A bottle is filled and corked in almost a second. The soda water is of a very superior quality. Mr West has recently moved here from Atlanta, Ga., where he lost his all by a fire which swept that part of the city where his business was located.

Appleton's New Cyclopaedia.

We had a personal call yesterday from H H Key, Esq., who is agent for this greatest of American publications, now being issued by D Appleton & Co., of New York. Mr Key is agent for the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Virginia, and can be found at the Central Hotel for a few days, by persons who would like to subscribe for this magnificent work, an advertisement of which will be found under its appropriate head in our columns this morning.

This Cyclopaedia is a compendium of English literature, which has cost the publishers three thousand dollars to revise and bring down to the present time. The new edition contains about forty-eight hundred additional subjects, more than is treated of in the edition issued in 1837 and it is beautifully illustrated with numerous engravings, and a large number of maps of the various countries treated of, printed from steel plates, making the work one of rare excellence.

This work has stood the criticism of the public for twenty years and we feel that no comment which we could make would add to its value in a community where such a work would be appreciated.

Civil Rights on a Railroad.

Two negroes from "up North" were in the first class car on the Richmond & Danville Railroad yesterday morning. At Greensboro the young ladies of the Female Institute filled the car on their way home to spend the vacation. A committee of young men numbering about fifty, asked Simbo and Coffee to "step down and out." They refused to do so, when they were forcibly ejected. The negroes made no resistance but will doubtless write a book about it on their return.

Rosette Festival.

According to announcement the Rosette Festival, given by the ladies of the Baptist Church, was repeated last night. We were glad to note the presence of a large crowd and the evident enjoyment of all those who attended. The eatables and drinkables which were dispensed by fair hands, were of the choicest, while the hall was prettily decorated, and music, mirth and laughter, added their charms to the occasion. The evening flew rapidly, and the breaking up time came but too soon. The ladies deserve the greatest credit for the way in which they have managed their festival. It has been a great success, in every point of view, and both for the sake of the ladies and that of the church, we are glad that this is so.

APPLETON'S AMERICAN CYCLOPEDIA.

NEW REVISED EDITION. Entirely rewritten by the ablest writers on every subject. Printed from new types, and illustrated with several thousand engravings and maps.

The work originally published under the title of The New American Cyclopaedia was completed in 1833, since which time the progress of the United States, and the signal developments which have taken place in every branch of the science, literature, and art, have induced the editors and publishers to submit it to an exact and thorough revision, and to issue a new edition entitled The American Cyclopaedia. Within the last ten years the progress of discovery in every department of knowledge has made a new work of reference an imperative want.

The movement of political affairs has kept pace with the discoveries of science, and their fruitful application to the industrial and useful social life. Great wars and consequent revolutions have occurred, involving national changes of peculiar moment. The progress of every age, which was at its height when the volume of the old work appeared, has happily been added, and a new course of commercial and industrial activity has commenced.

Large accessions to our geographical knowledge have been made by the indefatigable explorers of Africa. The great political revolutions of the last decade, with the natural result of the lapse of time, have brought into public view a multitude of new men, whose names are in every one's mouth, and of whose lives every one is curious to know the particulars. Great battles have been fought and important events, the details of which are as yet preserved only in the newspapers and in the transient publications of the day, but which ought never to take their place in permanent and authentic history.

In preparing the present edition for the press, it has accordingly been the aim of the editors to bring down information to the latest possible date, and to furnish an accurate account of the most recent discoveries in science, of every invention in the practical arts, and of the newest and original records of the progress of political and historical events.

The work has been begun after long and careful preliminary labor, and with the most ample resources for carrying it on to a successful termination. None of the original stereotype plates have been used, but every page has been set in new type, forming in fact a new Cyclopaedia, with the same plan and compass as its predecessor, but with a far greater pecuniary expenditure, and with such improvements in its composition as have been suggested by longer experience and enlarged knowledge.

The work is sold to subscribers only, payable on delivery of each volume. It will be issued in sixteen large octavo volumes, each containing about 300 pages, fully illustrated with numerous colored Lithographic Maps.

In extra cloth per vol., $5 00 In Library Leather, per vol., 6 00 In Half Turkey Morocco, per vol., 7 00 In Half Russia, extra gilt, per vol., 8 00 In Full Morocco, antique, gilt, edges, 10 00 In Full Russia, per vol., 10 00

116 volumes now ready. Succeeding volumes, until completion, will be issued once in two months. A Specimen pages of the American Cyclopaedia, m. showing the illustrations, type will be sent gratis on application.
