"Oh, that mine enemy would write a book," is something which is frequently driving up Trade street, in a buggy, and used, both in conversation and writing, as a quotation from the Bible. The orthodox scribe would call attention to the quotation as found in Job, xxxi:35; it is misquoted ninety-nine times out of a hundred: "Oh, that one would hear me! behold, my desire is, that the Almighty w. uld answer me, and drick's bar-room gave evidence of an intenthat mine adversary had written a book."

Fix Your Crossing.

The Carolina Central Railway Company have made a nice and substantial vehicle and foot way, at the crossing of their track and Trade street. We call upon the North Carolina Railroad authorities to do the same THIS House is well fitted and furnished, is now open for the accommodation of visitors and the traveling public. Its rooms are large, well ventilated and commodious; servants polite and attentive. White Sulphur and Chalybeate water always on hand. Vehicles furnished at short notice. Om nibus goes from the Hotel to the White Sulphur Springs on the arrival of every train. Table supplied with every delicacy thing. If the Carolina Central can give a good crossing there, of their road, why cannot the North Carolina Railroad do the same, and why should it not?

The negro who stole a show-case containing $53 worth of shoes, from in front of the shoe shop of Mr H J Norris, on Saturday evening between sundown and dark, has never been captured. This was one of the poldest robberies ever perpetrated in this city. It seems almost incredible that it could have been perpetrated without the thief being detected in the act.

Economy in Conducting a Barber

Two colored youths have just opened a barber shop in a certain part of the city, for the accommodation of those of their own race who desire to undergo the scraping process at their hands. Their economy is sure to make their enterprise a financial success. On Saturday evening, shortly after dark, a friend of ours passed the shop, and each of the proprietors had a customer sitting out in front of the door, leaning back against the house, each suffering the pains and penalties of being shaved by the light of the moon. Moon-light don't cost anything, and kerosene and can do.

Yesterday about 1 o'clock, Mr R N Mann, one of the lessees of the Market House, was just before reaching the corner of Tryon, raised an umbrella. This frightened the mule, which was drawing the buggy, and it dashed off at a rapid rate. Turning the corner, the mule kept down in front of the Central Hotel, and just in front of Kention to take the pavement. He turned suddenly, however, and in doing so upset the buggy and threw its occupant high and dry upon the payement. Both of his elbows were hurt, and so his back and one of Trade and Church streets. PISTOLS AND STICKS!

FREE FIGHT BETWEEN CHAR. LOTTE NEGROES AND ROCK HILL PEOPLE!

SEVERAL OF THE PARTICIPANTS HURT!

Yesterday morning, a train, bearing not fewer than 600 negroes, left this city for an excursion to Rock Hill, S. C. The excursion was under the auspices of Star of Hope Lodge, I. O. G. T., and the different colored Sunday Schools of this city, and J W Gordon and Albert Hershaw were the lessees of the train, The train of five cars, was crowded inside, outside and on top, and a large number were crowded off entirely. Nothing was heard of the excursionists, until about 2 o'clock P. M., when Capt W L Taylor, the engineer, of the train, dated at | siyely hot Sunday. Rock Hill:

"Please let me get away from here. They are shooting and rioting. All ready to leave . Answer quick.

Capt Pegram answered, telling him to come, but it was not until near 6 o'clock that the train arrived, and even then so great was that it was with great difficulty and much cross-questioning, that we were enabled to get a statement out of which we could make heads or tails.

A gentleman arrived from Rock Hill on the 8 P. M. train, and from him we learn the particulars of the melee. The train had stopped but a few moments when fighting and rowing began; there were several knocksdown during the fore part of the day, and in each instance the offender was arrested and put in the lock-up. About half past 2 o'clock in the afternoon, a negro county commissioner, named Jo Massey, picked a quarrel with one of the excursionists and the two the guard house with him, but released him before getting there. His adversary refused to go at all, and swore that there were not J H Carson, Esq., and two sons, are at men enough there to put him up, His friends came to his assistance, and in the confusion, Drs Bland & Simpson, surgeon dentists, of a pistol was fired. This was the match which was needed to start the blaze, and in a moment there was an indiscriminate firing of pistols, raining of rocks and dealing of blows. Such proportions did the riot soon assume, that the white people of Rock Hill turned out en masse, armed with pistols, and began work, Our informant thinks that not less than 50 shots were fired. The battle & Simpson for relief. They at that time raged for twenty minutes, each of the parties being formed in regular line of battle on the side of the railroad. When the citizens little finger. I experienced great relief from had exhausted all the charges in their pistols, they went to their homes and returned having another operation performed. These with shot guns, Winchester rifles, clubs, &c., but by this time the negroes had taken refuge in the train and no further hostilities ensued. Quiet having been restored, the train moved off, and the joyous excursion > were injured, are : Bill Kelly, shot through the left wrist. John Walker, shot in the ankle. Hattie Moore shot through the left hand. One whose name we were not able to learn, shot in the thigh. A ball grazed the back of Jno Webb's head, and one passed through the shirt bosom of John Kirkpatrick, but did not touch his person. Several, indeed quite a number of the party from this city, were knocked down with sticks and rocks, and considerably bruised up. From all accounts the skirmish must have been terrific while it lasted, and considering the density of the crowd it is a wonder that none were killed. though many of the negroes scattered when came to a close. Those from Char otte who the shooting began. The citizens of Rock Hill who received inuries, were: Dr Walker, who had an arm hurt; Mr Jas Daniels, arm hurt; Mr F J Pride, struck on the cheek bone with a rock and considerably cut. There were others who were less seriously injured.

Our Rock Hill is formant tells us that the excursionists were not altogether to blame that the principal fault lies with this Jo Massey, who had premeditated the row since Saturday. The gentleman says that when the fight got under good headway, Massey slinked out out and posted off to Yorkville for troops! A warrant was issued for his arrest, and he will be apprehended as soon

No possible blame can be attached to the people of Rock Hill. They were simply defending their town from a mob, in assisting the authorities to uphold the law. They did no more than the people of any town should do under like circumstances.

Heat is not conducive to growth in grace and heat we had, on Sunday. Saturday was hot but Sunday was hotter. It probably did not strike everybody as being so, but the mercury ran higher than on any previous day this season, reaching 95 in one of the coolest places in the city (Burwell's drug store) at 3 and again at 6 p. m. Why the day did not appear to some as so warm the place, the number of new buildings just as Saturday, was for the reason that there was not that amount of running around in stance, on Sixth street, between the North the sun which was done on the before, and Carolina Railroad and B street, Mr W M then there were occasional breezes. But Matthews has just completed a nice resi- Sunday was intensely hot. To quote from dence, Mr. W M Smith's new house, close Dickens: "Everything that lived or grew by, has also just been finished, and City was oppressed by the heat. The very dust Marshal C W Alexander, has a residence in was scerched brown, and something quivercourse of erection adjoining the two just ed in the atmosphere as if the air itself were panting." And so Charlotte, "a fact to be Mr W F Cuthbertson is building a dwel- strongly felt and tasted, lay boiling in the ling house on C street, between Fifth and sun one day. The sky was of purple, set Sixth. Col T H Brem has finished four com- with one great flaming jewel of fire, and the universal stare made the eyes ache."

Everybody was glad that it was Sunday, and that they had nothing to do save as they chose. The churches were all open for services, but many who are called regular attendants did not respond to the summons of the bells, but arrayed in wrapper or dressing gown and slippers, lolled around home, protesting that there was never before so hot a day, and thanking God that it was Sunday. Another thing tending to diminish the size of the congregations, was the absence of a great many people from town, and this, combined with the heat, left the ministers to preach to many empty benches. Perhaps the most noticeable feature in any of the services, was a reference made by Rev Dr Miller, of the First Presbyterian Church, to ju29 1m a passage in the sermon of Bishop Gibbon at the Catholic Church of this city, on the Sunday previous. While reading a chapter, before the sermon, Dr Miller stopped and spoke of the assertion made by Bishop Gibbons, that the Catholic Church had always been the defender of civil and religious liberty; he said that such a speech was an insult to the intelligence of his congregation, whem the Bishop must have supposed an assemblage of simpletons. All the ministers in the city, arranged their discourses [and very sensibly] with reference to the temperature of the day; all were shorter than usual, and all the congregations were dismissed at the same time, as though there were a general understanding. By dark the heat had moderated considerably, but the prostration produced by the exceeding warmth of the day, kept large numbers at home, and even the evening services were but lightly attended. Later in the evening, the lightning purified the atmosphere, a stiff breeze sprang up, and by W Pegram, the agent of the C., C. & A. R. 12 o'clock at night one could sleep in com-R., received the following telegram, from A fort, and wear off the fatigue of that exces-

A Source of Inconvenience.

On Saturday last, several firms in this city had accounts in bankruptcy against McMurray & Davis, which have to be approved before a United States Commissioner or a Register in Bankruptcy. They applied to F W the excitement among the excursionists, Ahrens, Esq., who had recently held the office of U.S. Commissioner for this city, to have the papers approved, and learned from him that he had resigned his office. This reduced them all to the necessity of going over to Salisbury, yesterday morning, to see a Register or Commissioner there, and at a cost which will hardly justify some of them in collecting their accounts. The idea of a town the size of Charlotte not having a United States Commissioner in it !
