There was no session of the Mayor's Court,

Yesterday was comparatively pleasant; in fact was decidedly cool in contrast with preceding days.

"Treasurer Dave" was in town, yesterday. Why didn't he take some stock in the Convention, speak a piece, or something?

The first bale of this year's cotton, passed

Why Is This Thus!

The Rock Hill Riot.

We have heard nothing tending to show that our report yesterday, of the riot in Rock Hill on Monday, was in any way incorrect. Pin Back Crusade.

It is understood that the elderly gentlemen of this city, the heads of families, will shortly institute a pin-back crusade, after the fashion of the whiskey crusade which raged in the West about two years ago. The young men will go 'long and hoot and jeer at the old gentlemen, by way of of encouraging the fashion,

An article in yesterday's paper, headed "A Source of Inconvenience," was worded in such a manner asto create the impression on the reader's mind that Messrs McMurray & Davis, of this city, had gone into bankruptcy. How to Punish a Child.

"Never," says a lecturer, of whom a friend tells us, and whose theme was the auricular organ, "never box a child on the ears, when you wish to correct it. That thin membrane that covers the tympanum might be seriously injured. The tympanum is a delicate machine, shaped like a drum, and played upon by too small bones, set in motion by the vibrations of the atmosphere, and any violent concussion would cause them to pound too severely on the thin cover either breaking it, or loosing the traps which can only, with the greatest difficulty, be tightened again. If you wish to punish a child in a satisfac.ory manner, simply pour hot beeswax down its back."

The Summer Fights.

A fight took place yesterday, at the bar room of Long & Bro , on College street, between two countrymen, one of whom was that ne'er do-well, Clark Hall, Clark had followed his adversary around till the thing grew intolerable, and then the man knocked him down, and beat him to his satisfac tion and to Clark's conviction that he had waked up the wrong passenger. Then Clark threatened to waylay him with his sons, and kill him and the man swore out a peace warrant against him, and Justice Martin bound him over in $200. Clark was with a weight or something of the kind.

Postage on Newspapers.

Many persons in the city are in the habit of sending papers to their friends gle wrapper with a one cent stamp on each one of them. By the new regulation this is not sufficient postage, and the papers remain in the office here, much to the annoyance of those who are expecting to get papers. The postage on single newspapers is two cents | gust Court, 1875: each. Those wishing to send papers away would do well to enquire at the postoffice before doing so and get all the necessary information.

Opinion of Charlotte.

A correspondent of the Wilmington Journal, writing from the Cleaveland Mineral Springs, speaks in the following terms of the Centennial City:

"Charlotte cannot be said to be a manufacturing city, though she can boast of some very neat, fine and attractive residences one tobacco factory and two tan yards are her manufactories. The United States mint has been dispensed with, and the balance of the machinery at the Assayist office has been removed to Washington. Notwithstanding the stringency of money and the effect of usury, however, new buildings are under course of construction, and we were much pleased to see some of our Wilmington mechanics bossing jobs

Yesterday was the day for the Republican County Convention, and it met. Quitea'large crowd was in the Court House. Resolved, That we extend a cordial greeting to our country friends and request theia earnest and undivided co-operation with us in the deliberations of this meeting. Mr Gillespie hadn't heard of any such un-friendliness, and wanted the resolution read again. Somebody assured him that it was all right and, when he had become satisfied that the resolution wasn't intended to deprive him of the elective franchise or to reduce him to slavery, he said, ah, yes, all right, but he didn't know at first but what that might have been a resolution passed at apply to the Conservative Convention! went through. On motion of Mr Gillespie, amended by Mr McDonald and Mr Bailey, a resolution was adopted that a committee from each township, as far as represented, be appointed to confer with any committee of anti-Convention Democrats, and report the names agreed upon, to this Convention.

Then a darkey in a long-tailed coat began skirmishing around for delegates. He first here?" Burke responded from the back part of the building, "yes, I'm here," and shuffled up to the front. 'Is anybody here from Providence?" No response; and then he of the long coat observed, as though it were a chairman, that "there was a man here from Steel Creek, but he stepped out." A Pineville, man, was found to be "not in for the present," but the following committee was finally found:

He said it had been suggested that the names of the candidates be not reported for the present, but he was in favor of getting them in the field right away I will take our strongest effort to elect them and it is time that we unfurl our banner to the breeze. I have noticed, though, that since that conference the State has been going Democratic all the time, and I can't hold my peace any longer.
