City Bulletin.
 Country watermelons are beginning to come in pretty freely.

Now is the time when the average canine indulges in serious personal encounters with the fleshy flea, and comes out scolded best.

City Marshal Alexander requests us to ask the "8000 Tax-Payer," in yesterday's Democrat, to please come up and pay his taxes.

We are requested to announce the regular meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association to-night at 8 o'clock. Ladies and gentlemen are invited.

We implore our correspondents to write on one side of the sheet. When a printer gets hold of a piece of manuscript written on both sides, he can "even wish that he were dead."

If the next of kin of John Parker, a United States' soldier, who was killed by the Modoc Indians, in April, 1873, will apply at this office, they may hear of something to their advantage.

Yesterday was the last day for making returns of property subject to city taxation.
 The City Clerk and Treasurer will proceed forthwith to make up the tax book and place it in the hands of the Marshal for collection.

An odor which bears no similarity to that of roses, emanates from the neighborhood of the old foundry building, crossing of the N. C. and C. C. Railroads and Trade street. We envy the policemen their noses, if they haven't smelt it.

The Rads around town don't like it pretty well because Col Myers won't run for Convention. They don't say much about it to those outside the fold, but you can tell easy enough after chatting 'em about it for a minute or two.

The Temperature.
 The following was the range of the thermometer, yesterday, at the drug store of W R Burwell & Co.:

At 6 A. M., 81°
 " 9 A. M., 85°
 " 12 M., 90°
 " 3 P. M., 92°
 " 6 P. M., 92°

Sunstroke.
 The heat of yesterday was not without its effect upon outdoor workers. The force engaged in macadamizing the streets, went to work in the morning 24 strong, and by 2 o'clock in the afternoon 11 of them had succumbed to the fiery rays of the sun and were forced to suspend work. None of the cases are serious.

Death of a Great Sewing Machine Inventor.
 Mr Geo P Badger, Manager of the Charlotte office of the Singer Manufacturing Company, received a telegraphic dispatch from Richmond, late yesterday afternoon, announcing the death of Mr Singer, of the well-known firm of the Singer Sewing Machine Company. The office here will be closed to-day in consequence thereof.

Going to the Springs.
 A party of ladies and gentlemen from South Carolina, arrived in the city last night on their way to the Catawba and Cleveland Springs. They are registered at the Central Hotel as follows: Mrs J A Brice, Mrs J M Todd, J C Brice, T S Brice, of Fairfield; and B R Nash and family, Miss S E Norton, B C Martin and J A Hauser, of Sumter.

Centennial Gas Light Company.
 This company is rapidly getting in good working order. Their pipes now penetrate every part of the city, and burners have been placed on the extreme end of every pipe except two. About half a mile of connecting pipes have been laid in this city; this, of course, does not include the main pipes running through the streets.

Bishop Gibbons in Gaston.
 Rt Rev James Gibbons, Bishop of the Catholic Church, preached on Sunday, near the Factory, in Gaston county. An immense crowd was present to hear him, and large numbers were unable to gain admission to the church. The rise of confirmation was administered to seven persons, Bishop Gibbons reached this city on Sunday evening, and yesterday morning left for his home in Richmond.

Mayor's Court.
 The matinee was not so well attended yesterday morning, as is usual on Monday mornings, only three cases having been disposed of.

John Oment was up for an affray and was fined $5 and cost.
 Dan Smith, colored, was up for a disturbance and was fined $5 and cost.
 Katie Williams, for an assault upon Lelia Lester, was fined $1 and cost.

Charlotte Cornet Club.
 The Cornet Club of this city, has engaged the services of Prof W H Neave, as their instructor, since their re-organization. He arrived in the city yesterday morning, and gave his first lesson to the club last night. Prof Neave is well known in this State as a musician of remarkable genius. Previous to and during a part of the war, he lived in Salisbury, but since the surrender has been living in different places, and about a month ago returned to Salisbury from St Louis, which was his last place of residence. He has few equals in this country, and under his instruction we expect to see our band soon attain a high degree of proficiency.

Another Diogenes.
 We have in our midst one who is like unto Diogenes of old. He came up street last night, bearing a huge torch, and looking intently upon the ground. Some one called to him from the pavement, asking what he was looking for, when he replied that "he had lost his own." A round of voluptuous applause greeted him from those who heard him announce the object of his search, when he flung his torch away and gave up the quest in disgust.

Notice.
 "Having adopted the cash system, we are cutting off delinquent subscribers where the accounts are prepared, and remain unpaid, and it is some consolation to know that new subscribers are constantly being added to our already large circulation. As we shall probably never attempt to collect these subscription debts, and as we don't propose that they shall much longer entumber our books, we will in all probability advertise and sell them at the Court House door to the highest bidder."

Summer Absentees.
 Miss Ella Dowd left last evening for Beaufort.

Mrs Gov Vance and Master David Vance, are visiting relatives in Ohio.
 Mrs Fred Nash is still in Oxford, Granville county.

Mr R E Miller, accompanied by Mr Hyder Ratterree, of Rock Hill, S. C., left last night for a sojourn at Beaufort.

The Heat.
 Yesterday was fearfully hot. Perhaps during no previous day this season has humanity suffered more. Until late in the evening there was hardly a breath of air, and what breezes did visit us, came laden with a burning heat, as if off some sunny plain. It was a hard day, indeed, on both man and beast, scorching thoughts from the brain and vigor from the body. We earnestly hope for an early break in the spell.

Mad Dog Excitement.
 Parts of Tryon and Church Streets, had quite an excitement, yesterday evening, in the pursuit and subsequent killing of a rabid dog. Policeman Stevens was attracted by the demonstrations which the animal made and attacked him first near McNeich's marble yard. He ran then into the yard of Dr Jo Graham, and by this time his pursuers became quite numerous. From Dr Graham's he ran into the yard of Mr A L Walsh, corner Church and Sixth streets, where he was finally shot and killed. By the time the dog had been put on a bed, a force about fifty strong had "enlisted for the war."

Sounds Warlike.
 Gen. Longstreet, Gen. W. R. Cox and Gen. Collet Leventhorpe, were at the Central Hotel last Friday. Gen.
 Thos. F. Drayton, Gen. W. L. T.
 Prince, Gen. R. Barringer, Gen. J. A.
 Young and Gen. D. H. Hill, and other "mighty men of valor," were also in the city that day. It is believed (we trust this item will not alarm our Radical friends) that another war is imminent, but we are not prepared to state when it will begin.

Sunday Accident.
 Quite a number of people went over from this city to Gaston county on Sunday, to hear Bishop Gibbons preach. There were not less than eighteen buggies and carriages, and the mishaps on the journey were right over and over taken with some accident or other. The spring of one buggy broke, causing the horse to run away, and the occupant of the buggy, a young gentleman and young lady, to be thrown out. The young man held to the lines and was dragged about 50 yards, causing him to be a good deal bruised. Three or four other persons were thrown from their buggies, but none were seriously hurt.

Rev Dr Miller.
 This gentleman left, on Saturday morning last, for the Western part of the State, accompanied by his son, Mr Augustine Miller, who has been critically ill for some time. He became able to travel last week, however, and his friends are now more hopeful of his recovery, believing that the mountain air and water will soon have a beneficial effect upon him. The postoffice of Dr Miller will be Marion, McDowell county, for the next two or three weeks.
 During his absence from the city his pulpit will be supplied every Sabbath as follows, according to the Southern Home: Rev W E McLwaine of Hopewell; Rev E E Erwin of Rutherford; Rev J Wm F Hens of Henderson; Rev J Y Allison of Concord; Rev J S White of York; Rev R E Cooper.

Sunday in Charlotte.
 "Ain't it hot, though?" was an exclamation which could be heard on every side, on Sunday. The heat dashed its rays straight down upon the elevated head of those who ventured out doors, causing the blood to vented out of their ears, and making down the human form giving, while indoors the mercury crept up among the nineties early in the day, and remained there till late.
 Heat overcame sense in more than one instance, and more than the usual number of seats were vacant in the churches. Scores of Christians sought the shade of the street and churches, and worshipped, if they worshipped at all, "under the wing of a tree."

Runaway Accident.
 Yesterday evening, Mr F I Osborne and Miss Mary Dewey, were out buggy-driving, and just after they had crossed the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta Railroad, near the Fair Grounds, a bolt of the buggy broke and the tongue turning to one side and the buggy to the other, frightened the horses and they immediately began to run. Before proceeding far, they made a sudden

Salisbury Herald.
 Mr I H Foust has handed us a copy of the Salisbury Herald, dated December 1875, and published by J. F. Bell, Jr., and W. James. In it we see a notice of stepping taken to have a jurisdiction in Gre-enboro, in January '76, over the complete North Carolina Central Railroad.

Merchants will find our goods of first-rate quality and at Northern Jobbers. We offer a woman's dresses, Peab. Bal. and Im. Coat Bal., a prime, at $1.20; women's Split. Boots at $1.00; men's L stock Brogans at $1.20 to $1.50, &c., &c.

These goods are not shoddy, but desirable, and we solicit your patronage.
 Prompt attention to orders.

Charlotte Institute for Young Ladies.
 It is with peculiar pleasure that we announce that the trustees of the Charlotte Institute for Young Ladies, have effected arrangements with Rev S Jor Martin, whereby he leases the lesser buildings and grounds for a of three years. Mr Martin will school during the Fall—September—October—with a full and competent corps of teachers. He is adapted to the work before him, will soon make the Charlotte Institute for Young Ladies, one of the flourishing institutions of learning in the land; if his hands are properly up by the people of the city. We upon them to sustain him, and if do this, there need be no fears that will not bring the enterprise to success.

Sample Dyspepsia Remedy.
 Dyspepsia arises from a variety causes, and different persons are relied by different remedies according to nature of the disease, and condition the stomach. We know of a medicine derived from a natural source, a tumbler of sweet milk—the richer the better—whenever a dyspepsia is experienced in the stomach.
 An elderly gentleman of our acquance, who was afflicted for many years with great distress after eating, had a cure by mixing a teaspoon wheat bran in a tumbler of water, drinking it half hour after his meals. It is necessary to stir quickly and immediately, or the bran will adhere to the glass and become pasty. Cold tobacco are probably the worst substances persons troubled with dyspepsia in the habit of using, and should be avoided. Regular eating of nourishing plain food and the use of some simple remedies like the above, will effect, in most cases, quicker cures than medicine.
Exchange.

A New Sort of Cotton to Us.
 We are not, strictly speaking, the agricultural scribe. We vacated that chair, at the request of the boss, sometime during last November. He was constrained to request us to step down and out, because we had clipped out and published, while he wasn't noticing, an able and elaborate article on the preparation of ground for cotton planting, while at that same time the farmers were busy picking cotton. Our agricultural knowledge has increased very greatly, however, since then, and we again essay something about cotton. It was on Sunday when we got this last item, and we acknowledge our worldly-mindedness and our sins are ever before, but the item went floating by, and we took it in out of the wet, Sunday though it was. A citizen of this county, a middle-aged man who had the appearance of one who spoke the truth, tells of a kind of cotton which he has, which when planted one year, does not mature until the next.
 The cotton comes up just as any other cotton, but does not bloom with it. It lives through the winter, and the next season the bolls open, and a fine yield is obtained.
 "This strange if true, and we have no good reason to doubt it."

Accident on the Air Line Railroad.
 Quite a serious accident occurred on the Air Line Railroad, a short time before daylight on Sunday morning, a mile and half north of Central, to the southward bound train. This train had left Charlotte on Saturday night, about two hours behind time, having waited for the North Carolina train, which had been delayed by the ditching of a freight train, and was still an hour behind time when the accident occurred. While running at a pretty rapid rate through a small cut, the engine struck a piece of wood lying across the track, one end of it fastened under one rail, while the other end was being across the opposite rail. The engine, the car Y M Ader, No. 87, was ditched and very badly wrecked. The tender was thrown off and placed in right angles with the track; the express car ran up over the tender and one end of it was thrown up the side of the cut.

Mr Dick Chatham, the engineer, was very considerably hurt, having had several gases cut in his face and head. Some of these were as deep as the flesh and reached the bone. He was taken care of and will soon be over the hurt. The fireman was slightly bruised, but beyond these two no one else on the train was injured. The escape of the express messenger from serious injury, seems almost miraculous.

In going from the scene of the accident to Central, for assistance, two other obstructions were found on the track, within a mile of the wreck. Just at the time of the accident, some of the passengers saw two men running through the woods, and they were no doubt the villains who, to gratify some spite, had perilled the lives of a whole train load of people.
