Three weeks from to-day and the circus will be here. The steam man, the clown, the monkey and the trick mule! He-haw! Those whose business it is to superintend everything, now find plenty to do in standing around on the payements attending to the macadamizing.

It is expected that the match game of base ball to be played this afternoon between the K 9 and the first nine of the Sharon Club will be pretty close. Both clubs are in good practice and play well.

The fellow who bows, smiles and lists his hat just as the lauy on the opposite side of the street turns her head the other way, is the fellow who, just at that time, can beat the world feeling mean. Ask him the news and he'll hit you.

A spectacled gentieman from abroad sat down on a grape hull as he was walking rapidly down one of the streets, yesterday about noon. He is one of the most accomplished off-hand cussers we ever had the pleasure of listening at.

The Galveston News one of our regular exchanges, visits us with claborate accounts of the late disastrous storms on the coast of Texas. Many of our readers have relatives in that country, and we will loan the papers to those interested in seeing accounts of the great calamity.

The Southern Crass.

This is the title of a new paper at Columous, Ga., devoted to the interests of the Catholic Church. It is in quarto form, has a beautiful head, is well printed, and well filled with choice matter that is of interest to others as well as the members of the great church which the paper specially represents.

Hebrew Festival.

On the evening of the 28th of this month will begin the Hebrew festival of Rosh hashana, or New Years day. The festival will end on the evening of the 29th, with Reformed Jews. With the Orthodox Jews, however, two days are observed. Ten days thereafter will come the Day of Atonement.

That Temperance Society

Is about to go by the board. There is only one of the charter members left, and he is sending up the Macedonian cry, "Come over and help us." He is very lonesome, and as he feels the end of his nose these nights and finds it cold, he remarks to himself, that it is a mighty long time between

A South Carolina Thief.

A citizen of Greenville, S. C., was over here, yesterday, and nabbed a negro boy who had stolen a pistol and other things from him. The pistol had been sold but was recovered; the boy was arrested and escorted, last night, over the State line, on the Air-Line train.

Pavement Work.

The brick pavement is being extended the whole length of the Central Hotel on Trade street, and, when finished will extend from the corner of Tryon to the alley between the new addition to the hotel and the store of Mc-Murray & Davis. Hitherto that has been a fearfully bad piece of payc-

Lowering the Pavement.

The street hands are engaged in lowering the pavement of Trade street in property. The pavement here is very much higher than on either side of this property and it is deemed best for several reasons to lower it. Two feet of it will be taken off, and the top covered with sand and gravel.

The Inevitable Watermelon.

'Famine is in thy cheeks, Need and oppression stareth in thine eye? Upon thy back hangs ragged misery.
The world is not thy friend nor the world's

That's just the way it was with the darkey who stood upon a street corner last night. He was barefooted and miserably clad; his teeth chattered as tattered garments. But under his left arm he held the half a watermelon, and as he reached around and dived into its heart with his dirty finger nails, prospective agues were never dreamed of; care and misery were forgotten, (HLORIDE LINE

The Bird Laws

Sportsmen are rubbing up their fowling-pieces and wishing for the arrival of the tine when the game law says they may a ganning after birds. This will be on the 1st of October, and until that time dey must possess their souls in patiend or violate the law, which implies suffering its penalty.

Cussing Bee.

Observing a certain railroad conducor, railroad superintendent, depot agent and railroad civil engineer, (all well known and respected for their talent and, altogether, we hope, and expect, for swearing,) all on the streets at one time yesterday, it occurred to us that if Charlotte ever intends to establish a cussing bee, that this is her opportuni-

Convicts Escaped.

Two of the negro convicts who have been working out sentences on the streets, escaped on Tuesday night, and the city was deprived, yesterday, of their valuable services. They were Henry Goode and Mc McIntyne. The convicts are not confined at night, but are only paroled, and these thinking that their parols should extend longer than one night, have acted as if they did.

The Weather.

The air, yesterday, was damp and chill, and really cutting at times. For awhile there was a genuine snow-like feeling in the atmosphere. It reminded us of the good old times during the war, when our mother told us going barefooted would make us tough and strong and soldier like, and how we used to remark softly each evening, as we dug our toes in the ashes "that there would be snow before morning

An Eclipse of the Sun.

The astronomers tells us that the eclipse of the sun, which will take place on the 29th of this month, will be visible in the United States east of the Mississippi River as a partial eclipse, the sun rising eclipsed. The eclipse will be annular or ring-like from Sodus Point, on the south shore of Lake Ontario, Lyons, Oswego, Syracuse, Utica, Saratoga and Northern Massachusetts to the Atlantic Ocean. Along the central line the size of the eclipse will be eleven and one-

The New Postal Cards.

The ladies' fashions do not change oftener than the style of the postal cards, and the end is not yet. An exchange tells us that the postal card factory at Springfield is now making cards of the new lattern at the rate next month. The new card has a finer surface than the old, and can be used for copying with a press. It is heavier than the old card, but is calendared so thoroughly that it is somewhat thinner.

Heavy Freights. freight is now, and has been for some time past, passing through this city for the interior, the Carolina Central Railway being taxed to its utmost capacity to meet the demands upon it. This consists in a large measure of goods for the fall and winter trade for merchants along the line of the road to Charlotte, and no small amount going to understand, a large amount of freight coming this way, consisting of cotton and other products from the interior .- Wilmington Completion of the Carolina Central Railroad to Shelby.

The last rail was laid and the last spike was driven in the Carolina Central Railroad, on Tuesday's evening about dark, and the train which passed through Charlotte yesterday morning, ran up to the depot at Shelby. The ocasion was one of great rejoicing among the people, many of whom had gatherof about 600,000 a day, but, as there are still ed at the depot, not only from town, 2,270,000 in the vault, the public will not do but from the country 'round about. any corresponding on the new cards until The people generally manifested their satisfaction upon the completion of the road, by giving three cheers for Col S L Fremont, the able and industrious Superintendent of the road. Col Fremont, who was in the city last night, is much rejoiced at the late consummation-the finishing of the road of the Spartanburg & Union Railroad, from Buffalo to Shelby. He sees in it the prospect of a largely increased business, and a prosperous future for the

For Newspapers Only.

The Columbia Register, a paper into the local columns of which many of our items stray uncredited, was hit by the shell which we threw the other day at journals which head, of Charlotte, N C, and his beautiful are systematically guilty of appropriating the articles of their neighbors; but essays to get out of it by saying that the OBSERVER has done the same thing. It refers, perhaps, to an item which we wrote, based upon Mr Isaac Lowman, late a salesman in the few lines seen in it, concerning a matter of talking about at all, as the Register well knows. We alluded to the dozens of little items which have as much application in one place as another, not news, strictly attention to the occasional breaking out of speaking, but little observations, of which says that when there is once scarlet fever in the authorship of which he would rather properly belongs, than to the man who robbed him of them.

For instance, if the Register should happen to say something smart and we should copy it in our local columns, pass it off as our own and get credit for it, the Register would very naturally get mad and feel bored. However, this is just supposing a case, and as it not likely to say anything smart or we to steal it if it should, there is not the slightest every precaution taken to cheke out the probability that it will ever come to appreciate our feelings in this matter.
